Finding My Voice with Aphasia Carol M. Maloney, 2013-05-10 On June 9 2009 Carol M Maloney a veteran teacher experienced a transient ischemic attack in the left hemisphere of her brain She helplessly observed her mind deteriorate to the point where she could not speak walk read identify household objects or recall her family Maloney traveled between the worlds of the surreal and the logical The stroke resulted in aphasia the loss of communication and other functions of her left hemisphere After eighteen months of rehabilitation she was finally able to communicate with others by using her hand as a metronome The frustration of having the words and sentences formed in her mind but being unable to share them caused frustration and depression Her verbal abilities suffered along with her reading and comprehension skills Even so hard work strong will and persistence has allowed her to reach out to other teachers to offer new insight into the minds of her beloved special education and reading disabled students In this her story Maloney turns her experience into a unique opportunity to gain an understanding of her students difficulties and to share that knowledge with other teachers Ms Carol Maloney has written a compelling story that chronicles her amazing life before during and after her devastating stroke She writes with frankness that touches ones heart Her story will lend encouragement to those who have suffered a stroke as well as offer strategies to those who have a loved one recovering from one Carol Maloney developed aphasia after her stroke I am happy to say that she has survived and conquered both the devastation of her stroke and her aphasia I know this first hand she conducts amazing PowerPoint presentations to my graduate class at Rivier University each semester She is an inspiration to all who want to improve themselves In this book Carol clearly describes the strategies that she used to help her become the functioning writer and speaker that she is today J Diane Connell Ed D

Poetic Gesture Kristine S. Santilli, 2013-12-16 This study addresses the problem of meaning as it is conveyed by poetic language attempting to move beyond some of the obstacles and boundaries of contemporary critical approaches By providing a phenomenological context and through a theoretical contemplation of certain myths as embodiments of the tacit logic of poetry the book argues that poems convey meaning much the way that spontaneous unreadable gestures do Moving between theory and practice and drawing upon the poetry of Wallace Stevens whose work is embedded with a richness and complexity of gesture the author shows how the poetic text sustains and embodies an inconvertible ancient and innately human form of linguistic knowledge

Coming After Alice Notley, 2010-03-10 Coming After gathers critical pieces by acclaimed poet Alice Notley author of Mysteries of Small Houses and Disobedience Notley explores the work of second generation New York School poets and their allies Ted Berrigan Anne Waldman Joanne Kyger Ron Padgett Lorenzo Thomas and others These essays and reviews are among the first to deal with a generation of poets notorious for their refusal to criticize and theorize assuming the stance that only the poems matter The essays are characterized by Notley's strong compelling voice which transfixes the reader even in the midst of professional detail Coming After revives the possibility of the readable book of criticism
