What Democracy Looks Like Amy Schrager Lang, Cecelia Tichi, 2006 The convergence of activists in Seattle during the World Trade Organization meetings captured the headlines in 1999 These demonstrations marked the first major expression on U S soil of worldwide opposition to inequality privatization and political and intellectual repression This turning point in world politics coincided with an ongoing quandary in academia particularly in the humanities where the so called death of theory has left the field on tenuous footing In What Democracy Looks Like the editors and twenty seven contributors argue that these crises in the world and the academy are not unrelated The essays insist that in the wake of Seattle teachers and scholars of American literature and culture are faced with the challenge of addressing new points of intersection between American studies and literary studies The narrative the poem the essay and the drama need to be reexamined in ways that are relevant to the urgent social and political issues of our time Collectively urging scholars and educators to pay fresh attention to the material conditions out of which literature arises this path breaking book inaugurates a new critical realism in American literary studies It provides a crucial link in the growing need to merge theory and practice with the goal of reconnecting the ivory tower elite to the activists on the street

The Changing World of the Trainer Martyn Sloman, 2007-05-07 The Changing World of the Trainer considers how the human resource development professional should undertake his or her role in today's organization. It offers a new framework which reflects the business reality of the modern world. This practical work proceeds through a series of tools, checklists, questionnaires and instruments and presents an extensive series of illustrative case studies drawn from organizations throughout the world. The book argues that the problems that trainers face are fundamentally the same. Their objective is to put a process in place to ensure that employees are able to acquire the knowledge and skill required by the organization. The acquisition of individual and collective knowledge and skills is not the primary purpose of the organization; skills are a means to the end of profitability and service delivery. Hence training is a derived or secondary activity. In the world economy a global model of human resource development is emerging. In one form or another organizations are seeking to develop what are known as high performance working practices. What the customer requires drives business processes; staff must be recruited, retained and motivated. Effective learning, training and development is now essential. This does not mean the end of the traditional off the job training course. There are many occasions and these are illustrated within the book when a training course delivered by a subject matter expert is an effective way of promoting the organization's objectives through individual learning. However, it is increasingly evident that the range of interventions undertaken by the trainer extends far beyond the design and delivery of the training course. There has been a huge increase in coaching and in ways of promoting group learning. Action learning is undergoing a resurgence. Generally there has been a growth of non-directive forms of intervention, a shift in emphasis from instruction to the facilitation of the learning process. Many practitioners are proceeding effectively to redefine their roles in a variety of different ways. However, it is now time to offer a formal expression of the new training and learning role. Martyn Sloman is highly respected internationally within the field of learning and development with experience as a practitioner in the public, private and voluntary sectors.

Reclaiming Education for Democracy Paul Shaker, Elizabeth E. Heilman, 2010-04-26 Reclaiming Education for Democracy subjects the prophets and doctrines of educational neoliberalism to scrutiny in order to provide a rationale and vision for public education beyond the limits of No Child Left Behind. The authors combine a history of recent education policy with an in-depth analysis of the origins of such policy and its impact on professional educators. The public face of these policies is separated from motives rooted in politics, profit and ideology. The book also searches for new insights in understanding the neoliberal and managerialist assault on education by examining the psychology of advocates who demonstrate a special animus toward universal public education. The manipulation of public education by No Child Left Behind is a case study in the general approach to public institutions taken by the politicians and theorists in these camps. K-12 education has been subjected to deceptive descriptive analyses, marginalization of its professional leadership, manipulation of its goals, the imposition of illegitimate quality markers, a grab on its resources by corporate profiteers and a demoralization of its rank and file This book helps us think beyond this new commonsense of education Recipient 2009 AERA Division K Award for Exemplary Research in Teaching and Teacher Education Historical Dictionary of the Clinton Era Richard S. Conley, 2012-03-15 William Jefferson Clinton's legacy remains a matter of significant contention among historians political scientists and pundits even after a decade of time to reflect The narrative of Clinton's two terms may be in some sense the tale of two different men or at least two incongruous public views of the nation's 42nd chief executive On the one hand there is the Clinton who left the White House more popular than when he took office entering with a 58 percent approval rating and leaving with a 66 percent approval rating On the other hand an ABC News poll conducted on his last day showed that 67 percent of Americans said Clinton was not honest and trustworthy The Historical Dictionary of the Clinton Era covers both sides of the Clinton presidency through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 300 cross referenced entries on important personalities including the president his advisors his family his opponents and his critics as well as members of Congress military leaders and international leaders This book is a vital access point for students researchers and anyone interested in the presidency of Bill Clinton Why TV is Not Our Fault Eileen R. Meehan, 2005 For more than five decades we've been told by pundits commentators advertisers scholars and politicians that television is both a window on the world and a mirror reflecting our culture We've been led to believe that it shows us the world's events through news programs and through entertainment programs reflects the preferences values beliefs and understandings shared by most Americans We're told that if you don't like what you see on TV don't blame the industry blame yourself This book dispels the myth that the television industry is just giving viewers the programming they want to see and thus we as viewers are responsible for the existence of shows like Fear Factor and yet another Survivor In fact Eileen Meehan explains viewers exert no demand in the market for ratings advertising slots program production or telecasting She also counters the idea that TV programs reflect our culture directly Introducing us to the political economy of television Meehan covers programming corporate strategies advertising the misnomer of competition among networks and organizations that seek more industry accountability She tells us why TV isn't our fault and who's really to blame Global Values 101 Ann S. Kim, Kate Holbrook, Brian Palmer, 2006-02-01 Global Values 101 grew out of one of the most popular courses ever offered at Harvard University in which some of the most original thinkers of our day sat down with students and explored how ideas have made them and can make us more engaged involved and compassionate citizens In these engrossing essay length interviews which address the topics of war religion the global economy and social change Amy Goodman host of the popular radio program Democracy Now speaks about the role of the independent media as gatekeeper and witness Lani Guinier author of Tyranny of the Majority reveals that students SAT scores more accurately describe the kind of car their parents drive than the grades they will earn in college and shows the way to a more equitable college admissions system Howard Zinn author of A People's History of the United States explores the American Dream and exposes the myth of the good war economist Juliet Schor author of Born to Buy and The Overspent American explains why Americans are willing to sacrifice quality of life to attain financial success former mall rat Naomi Klein author of No Logo Taking Aim at the Brand Bullies urges readers to go global while fighting global conglomerates and Katha Pollitt author of Reasonable Creatures Essays on Women and Feminism employs her incisive wit to explore what it really means to be a feminist in the Twenty First century For anyone who has been moved by idealism and longed to become a more proactive citizen this collection offers a range of stories on how progressive ethics can inform inspire and ultimately transform lives

Spirit of Disobedience Curtis White, 2020-07-24 Trained relentlessly to work and consume we make daily lifestyle decisions that promote corporate profits more than our own well being We also find ourselves working more living in fragmented communities and neglecting our most basic spiritual and political values As Curtis White puts it In order to live you will be asked to do what is no good what is absurd trivial demeaning and soul killing Although we belong to the world s most affluent society somehow we never have the chance to ask How shall we live With his trademark humor and acerbic wit White raises this impertinent question He also debunks the conventional view that liberalism can answer it without drawing on spiritual values Surveying American popular culture including Office Space and The Da Vinci Code to illustrate his points White urges us to renew our commitment to human fundamentals as articulated by Henry David Thoreau especially free time home and food and to reclaim Thoreau s spirit of disobedience Seeking imaginative answers to his central questions White also interviews John De Graaf Affluenza James Howard Kunstler The Long Emergency and Michael Ableman Fields of Plenty about their views of the good life in our time
