International Plan of Action to Prevent, Deter and Eliminate Illegal, Unreported and Unregulated Fishing Judith Swan, 2005-01-01 This publication considers issues related to illegal unreported and unregulated IUU fishing in the Mediterranean region for discussion at the 28th session of the General Fisheries Commission for the Mediterranean held in Tangiers Morocco in October 2003 Topics examined include the role of regional fisheries management organizations RFMOs management of fishing capacity especially as contained in International Plans of Action IPOAs the adoption of national plans of action NPOAs and the activities of the EU Fisheries Council on IUU fishing

Evolution Des Techniques de la Pêche Italienne General Fisheries Council for the Mediterranean (Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations), 1987-01-01

Effects of Riverine Inputs on Coastal Ecosystems and Fisheries Resources, 1995-01-01 Five chapters are presented which address a number of aspects of riverine and runoff effects on coastal marine systems Examples are presented and documented in which the apparent effects of runoff related nutrient enrichment and consequent eutrophication have been important Various other aspects such as sedimentation etc are explored The purpose is to advance the scientific policy and political dialogue on issues related to utilization and protection of coastal marine ecosystems The Marine Catchment Basin or MCB appears to be the logical scale of policy and management interest wherever terrestrial runoff has substantial impacts on a marine system The MCB expands the marine ecosystem concept to include not only the marine aquatic system but also the adjacent land areas that drain into it The MCB concept has been identified primarily with semi enclosed seas where effects have been particularly dramatic and where the catchment basin retains an easily visualized geological context However even along open ocean coasts hydrodynamic processes act to retain coherent masses of water together with their contained organisms and materials against the coast Thus open coastal areas may exhibit MCB features similar to those of enclosed or semi enclosed basins

Mediterranean Marine Ecosystems Maria Moraitou-Apostolopoulou, 2013-11-11 This book contains the papers presented at a NATO Advanced Research Institute on Mediterranean Marine Ecosystems held at Heraklion Crete Greece from September 23 27 1983 A workshop rather than a conference it was sponsored by the Eco Sciences Special Programme Panel in cooperation with the Marine Science Panel The third of its kind it was scheduled in the framework of a project on a multidisciplinary integrated approach to the study of the Mediterranean This Sea and the surrounding land was not only the cradle of many civilizations but is up to the present time one of the major world areas of marine traffic communication and exchanges fisheries and aquacultures inshore human activities and pollution To a certain degree it constitutes a gigantic natural laboratory where the fate of threatened aquatic and terrestrial ecosystems including the human one is tested The Mediterranean Sea with its geological history and present day geographic hydrological and climatic conditions is believed to form an ecological entity Important exchanges and mutual influences take place with the surrounding land area and the water masses naturally Atlantic Black Sea or artificially Red Sea connected to the Mediterranean Therefore a better and in depth knowledge of the various ecosystems benthic planktonic and nektonic neritic or pelagic in the Western or the Eastern Basin seems to be a pre requisite to any action in preserving upgrading and managing the natural resources of the area

Selected Papers Presented at the Workshop on Biological Reference Points Giuseppe

Lembo, 2006-01-01 This workshop stressed that the concept of reference points RPs needs to be closely connected to the management objective of concerned fisheries taking into account various parameters such as maximum sustainable yield economic and social benchmark and environment concern Participants stressed the need to define different RPs for each dimension of management or to identify a single RP aimed at ensuring the sustainability of the system thereby no longer limited to biological aspects A review of possible approaches to setting RPs and indicators for Black Sea fisheries emphasized the dynamic nature of recent ecosystem changes The traffic light approach was illustrated as a means of following dynamic changes and gaining a broad perspective on events at the ecosystem level The workshop outlined the main RPs obtained by applying the bio economic optimization models of effort and effort catch as derived from the theory of population dynamics

An Adaptive Approach for the Improvement of Fishery Statistical Systems in Mediterranean Countries

Salvatore R. Coppola, 2007-01-01 The establishment of fishery statistics and information systems in many countries of the General Fishery Commission for the Mediterranean GFCM continues to be considered a high priority activity and the need to monitor fishing activities and provide fishery management at all levels with accurate reliable and timely data which can interact with stock assessment and economic and socioeconomic studies for decision making is constantly increasing In accordance with FAO and the GFCM mandate the objective of MedStat is to contribute to the sustainable and responsible fisheries management of fishery resources and fish production in the Mediterranean Sea through the implementation of a long lasting statistical and information programme which will provide a sound basis for decision making The whole national statistical system developed within this activity consists of a set of databases and associated statistical data collection and implementation methodologies and procedures that primarily cover the fishing vessel census catch and effort surveys and other surveys targeting monitoring and management issues Strengthening the capability of the fisheries institutions of the Mediterranean countries in marine fishery statistics and information systems with a view to meeting the relevant national needs and requirements for participation in and complementing in its entirety the Mediterranean Fishery Statistics and
