Towards Rethinking Politics, Policy and Polity in the Anthropocene Hans Günter Brauch, 2025-02-24 Humankind faces two anthropogenic threats to its survival that are closely linked The first is the end of the Holocene and the start of the Anthropocene which was marked by the test of a nuclear bomb on 16 July 1945 In the prevailing peace and security narrative nuclear weapons and the other country bloc or alliance pose a perceived threat to humankind's survival In the Anthropocene narrative we are the threat through our way of life and the burning of fossil fuels The start of the Anthropocene coincides with a change in the international order with the setting up of the UN and the Bretton Woods Institutions Three stages of this order are distinguished the Cold War bipolarity the post Cold War era unipolarity and the end of the rule based global liberal order multipolarity on 24 February 2022 In this book ten multidisciplinary perspectives discuss complexity Anthropocene geopolitics peace and security discourses and the debate on the Anthropocene planetary boundaries complex crises and integrative geography in the Anthropocene governance and politics and the Patriacene and gender Both existential threats for humankind are illustrated by cover photos of the first nuclear weapons test on 16 July 1945 and by Category 5 Hurricane Otis an extreme weather event impacting on Acapulco in Mexico on 25 October 2023 The Anthropocene as a new epoch of Earth history coincides in 1945 with a change in the international order In the security and peace narrative the other and nuclear weapons pose an existential threat in the Anthropocene narrative This dual existential change requires a rethinking of politics policy and polity In the social sciences the Anthropocene is being discussed from multidisciplinary perspectives geography political science and peace security and gender studies This is an open access publication
