Learning, Keeping, and Using Language M.A.K. Halliday, John Gibbons, Howard Nicholas, 1990-01-01 This volume contains selected papers from the Eight World Congress of Applied Linguistics held in Sydney in 1987 Volume I starts off with an overview of the field by G Richard Tucker in which he identifies two areas innovative language education and language education policy The overall focus of the papers to follow focus on the individual language learner how that individual in given contexts or in interaction with specific others develops a command of a first language of two or more first languages or of a second language in home and in classroom settings At the same time cutting across these variables there is a gradual shifting of attention from investigations of the language learning process to proposals for language teaching curricula and syllabuses

What Really Works in Elementary Education Wendy W. Murawski, Kathy Lynn Scott, 2015-02-18 Research based practical strategies for every teacher This book compiles the advice of experts who not only understand the research behind certain educational practices but also have experience working in elementary classrooms Each user friendly chapter focused on a topic vital to elementary educators presents information in a straightforward way to help you learn what works and what doesn't with students today Whether you're a new educator or just seeking to build new skills you'll benefit from Insight into a handful of innovative topics in instruction including using technology UDL co-teaching and assessment Novel approaches to classroom management and strategies to engage students Useful reproducibles and resources for every topic area Pathways to Literacy Trevor Cairney, 1995-11-02 This text recognizes that there is no simple way to develop literacy It begins with the central premise that literacy is not simply a cognitive process but a set of social practices used in socio-cultural contexts and argues that literacy learners come to school with unique social histories that need to be recognised in the programmes devised to facilitate learning Cairney claims that literacy is not a unitary social practice and suggests that there are many forms of literacy each with specific purposes and contexts in which they are used The author provides a look at the many practical classroom strategies and practices that are necessary to recognize multiple pathways to literacy Traditions of Writing Research Charles Bazerman, Robert Krut, Karen Lunsford, Susan McLeod, Suzie Null, Paul Rogers, Amanda Stansell, 2009-10-16 Traditions of Writing Research reflects the various styles of work offered at the Writing Research Across Borders conference This volume like the conference that it grew out of will bring new perspectives to the rich dialogue of contemporary research on writing and advance understanding of this complex and important human activity Teacher Research for Better Schools Marian M. Mohr, 2004 This book is about a group of experienced K-12 teachers who took teacher research to another level Their story is not only about teacher working together to improve their own teaching but also about how their research reverberated throughout their school system and influenced how their schools were run Research and Supervision in Mathematics and Science Education John A. Malone, Bill Atweh, Jeffrey Northfield, Jeff Northfield, 2013-11-26 Research and Supervision in Mathematics and Science Education provides student researchers and their supervisors with information about both the essentials of planning conducting reporting and publishing qualitative research and the characteristics of quality supervision It is focused primarily for postgraduate research students in mathematics and science education and their supervisors It will also be of interest to students and faculty in other disciplines that use educational and sociological research paradigms The volume builds on two phenomena of recent years first the increasing momentum of postgraduate research in mathematics and science education and second the resulting need of those involved for knowledge about doing research and about engaging in quality supervision The decision to address both research and supervision in one volume is a response to the fact that faculty who supervise postgraduate research often are in need of resources covering not only aspects of project and thesis supervision but also the knowledge to assist students in research design especially in the qualitative field Drawing on recent research and practice the authors of the chapters in this book illustrate approaches and strategies that have been used successfully with and by postgraduate students The book also has a strong future orientation describing how postgraduate supervision and research will change as more and more students gain access to and make use of the vast array of technological resources now available A necessary and unique addition to books in the field of postgraduate research and supervision this volume s particular appeal stems from its practical approach its creative future perspective and the wide generalizability of the thinking and ideas it presents Ladybugs, Tornadoes, and Swirling Galaxies Brad Buhrow, Anne Upczak Garcia, 2023-10-10 Brad Buhrow and Anne Garcia are primary teachers in a diverse school in Boulder Colorado In Ladybugs Tornadoes and Swirling Galaxies you will see how they blend comprehension instruction and ELL best practices to explore inquiry as a literacy pathway for English language learners As teachers and students engage in learning science and social studies content they also discover multiple ways to make meaning The book is full of photographs of student artwork including a color insert that reveals the children s inquiry process and demonstrates the important role of art as a sign system in ELL literacy and language acquisition Brad and Anne provide explicit detail on the process they use as they move step by step with students from personal narrative through the independent inquiry process They also discuss use of the Gradual Release Model authentic assessment and bilingual identities Appendices in Spanish and English help to round out this informative and charming resource Love the Questions Catherine Fraser, 2023-10-10 With boundless amounts of information available it is vital that students become skilled at the art of research In Love the Questions Reclaiming Research with Curiosity and Passion author Cathy Fraser outlines ways students can engage with their research projects and truly internalize and transform content Inside you ll learn how to do the following Honor students passions interests and questions by teaching how to embrace inquiry curiosity and exploration Teach students how to frame relevant questions throughout the research process and make the information personal Develop authentic projects that include surveys experiments and interviews Assess skills not just memorization by recognizing and legitimizing what students are doing with research on their own Fraser also includes mini lessons practice activities graphic organizers and student examples within the book Love the Questions recommends teachers and students work with librarians and other school leaders as educational partners helping students continue to develop their analytical and logical skills International Handbook of Research in Arts Education Liora Bresler, 2007-01-26 Providing a distillation of knowledge in the various disciplines of arts education dance drama music literature and poetry and visual arts this essential handbook synthesizes existing research literature reflects on the past and contributes to shaping the future of the respective and integrated disciplines of arts education While research can at times seem distant from practice the Handbook aims to maintain connection with the live practice of art and of education capturing the vibrancy and best thinking in the field of theory and practice The Handbook is organized into 13 sections each focusing on a major area or issue in arts education research Effective Learning and Teaching of Writing Gert Rijlaarsdam, Huub Bergh, Michel Couzijn, 2007-11-23 Effective Learning and Teaching of Writing is a handbook on research on the effective teaching and learning of writing It is a reference for researchers and educators in the domain of written composition in education Effective Learning and Teaching of Writing covers all age ranges and school settings and it deals with various aspects of writing and text types Research methodology varies from experimental studies to reflective classroom practitioners research This new volume in the series Studies in Writing brings together researchers from all kinds of disciplines involved in writing research and countries in their endeavour to improve the teaching of written composition It is the result of co operation of researchers all over the world and shows that in spite of the differences in educational regions over the world research in writing shares similar problems and tries to find answers and generate new questions The body of knowledge in this volume will inspire researchers and teachers to improve research and practice

The Insistence of the Letter Bill Green, 2018-10-03 Originally published in 1992 What kinds of literacy are appropriate for life and work in the late twentieth century What historically is the relationship between curriculum and literacy and how is it changing The essays in this book provide an innovative forum for discussion for what are often two quite distinct enterprises literacy research and curriculum studies They re frame and redraw the traditional boundaries between these two disciplines examining socio cultural theories and classroom practices in a diverse and lively debate They explore readings of the modernist postmodernist debate and specific studies in curriculum politics and history rhetoric language and literacy education media studies and educational linguistics This multi voiced anthology brings together researchers from Australia the United Kingdom Canada and the United States in a common critical reassessment of the curriculum literacy nexus

Theorizing Composition Mary Kennedy, 1998-06-25 The last 25 years have witnessed extraordinary growth in the academic specialization variously described as composition studies or rhetoric and composition What was noticeable about the field in its infancy was a preoccupation with practice a lack of emphasis on theory and an exclusive reliance on the writing process As its disciplinary status has grown the field has become far more theoretical Composition studies has expanded its focus reconceptualized the writing process and embraced a wide range of critical perspectives The result of this change is that terms such as poststructuralism social construction gender and genre which were largely unknown in 1965 now dominate discussion This reference book is a guide to the multiplicity of theories that have emerged to form the disciplinary foundation of composition studies The volume consists of 66 entries each of which is written by an expert contributor and focuses on a particular theory or group of theories While the entries show how various individuals have contributed to theoretical movements very few concentrate on the work of a single theorist Each entry first provides a critical summary of a particular theory or group of theories including key elements basic concepts and claims and information about seminal or particularly influential works It then reviews the theory s critical reception in composition studies and discusses its significance in the field The bibliography at the end of each entry lists primary texts and major scholarship related to the theory and provides additional suggestions for further reading The volume closes with a selected bibliography of important works

Methods and Methodology in Composition Research Gesa Kirsch, Patricia A. Sullivan, 1992 In original essays fourteen nationally known scholars examine the practical philosophical and epistemological implications of a variety of research traditions

Included are discussions of historical theoretical and feminist scholarship case study and ethnographic research text and conversation analysis and cognitive experimental and descriptive research Issues that cross methodological boundaries such as the nature of collaborative research and writing methodological pluralism the classification and coding of research data and the politics of composition research are also examined Contributors reflect on their own research practices and so reflect the current state of composition research itself
