

The background of the book cover is a collage. On the left, there is a blue and white striped garment, possibly a pair of pants or a skirt, with some small black numbers (14, 8, 8, 8, 7) visible on it. The rest of the cover is covered with a dense layer of brown, orange, and yellow autumn leaves and twigs, creating a textured, organic feel.

Response To Death The Literary Work Of Mourning:

Response to Death Christian Riegel, 2005-02-15 Response to Death presents a literary historical perspective on mourning tracing examples of mourning in literary works from the medieval world to the present day Contributors offer a chronological examination of the concept of the work of mourning in specific literary and historical contexts beginning with an exploration of the medieval York Cycle of plays and sixteenth century French women's lyric and continuing through the Renaissance with considerations of Shakespeare the nineteenth century and into the twentieth century Foreword by Jonathan Hart

Navigating Loss in Women's Contemporary Memoir A. Prodromou, 2015-06-29 Navigating Loss in Women's Contemporary Memoir traces the grief process through the lives of contemporary women writers to show how its complex multi-layered nature can encourage us towards new understandings of loss Grief and Genre in American Literature, 1790-1870 Desirée Henderson, 2016-04-15 Focusing on the role of genre in the formation of dominant conceptions of death and dying Desirée Henderson examines literary texts and social spaces devoted to death and mourning in eighteenth and nineteenth century America Henderson shows how William Hill Brown Susanna Rowson and Hannah Webster borrowed from and challenged funeral sermon conventions in their novelistic portrayals of the deaths of fallen women contrasts the eulogies for George Washington with William Apess's Eulogy for King Philip to expose conflicts between national ideology and indigenous history examines Frederick Douglass's use of the slave cemetery to represent the costs of slavery for African American families suggests that the ideas about democracy materialized in Civil War cemeteries and monuments influenced Walt Whitman's war elegies and offers new contexts for analyzing Elizabeth Stuart Phelps's The Gates Ajar and Emily Dickinson's poetry as works that explore the consequences of female writers claiming authority over the mourning process Informed by extensive archival research Henderson's study eloquently speaks to the ways in which authors adopted revised or rejected the conventions of memorial literature choices that disclose their location within decisive debates about appropriate gender roles and sexual practices national identity and citizenship the consequences of slavery the nature of democratic representation and structures of authorship and literary authority Wild Words Donna Coates, George Melnyk, 2009 As the first collection of literary criticism focusing on Alberta writers Wild Words establishes a basis for identifying Alberta fiction poetry drama and nonfiction as valid subjects of study in their own right The idea for this collection began with 100 years of literary tradition for Alberta's centenary However Alberta's literary roots go back much farther than that to the oration of First Nation's peoples and the colonizing exploration and travel literature of the 18th and 19th centuries Grief and Women Writers in the English Renaissance Elizabeth Hodgson, 2015 This book examines the way in which early modern women writers conceived of grief and the relationship between the dead and the living Romanticism, Memory, and Mourning Mark Sandy, 2016-04-08 The subject of Romanticism Memory and Mourning could not be timelier with Žižek's recent proclamation that we are living in the end times and in an era which is preoccupied with the process and consequences of ageing We mourn both for our pasts and futures as we now recognise that history is a continuation and record of loss Mark Sandy explores the treatment of grief loss and death across a variety of Romantic poetic forms including the ballad sonnet epic elegy fragment romance and ode in the works of poets as diverse as Smith Hemans Blake Wordsworth Coleridge Byron Shelley Keats and Clare Romantic meditations on grief however varied in form and content are self consciously aware of the complexity and strength of feelings surrounding the consolation or disconsolation that their structures of poetic memory afford those who survive the imaginary and actual dead Romantic mourning Sandy shows finds expression in disparate poetic forms and how it manifests itself both as the spirit of its age rooted in precise historical conditions and as a proleptic power of lasting transhistorical significance Romantic meditations on grief and loss speak to our contemporary anxieties about the inevitable but unthinkable event of death itself

Virginia Woolf and the Ethics of Intimacy Elsa Högberg, 2020-02-06 Revisiting Virginia Woolf s most experimental novels Elsa H gberg explores how Woolf s writing prompts us to re examine the meaning of intimacy In H gberg s readings of Jacob s Room Mrs Dalloway To the Lighthouse and The Waves intimacy is revealed to inhere not just in close relations with the ones we know and love but primarily within those unsettling encounters which suspend our comfortable sense of ourselves as separate from others and the world around us Virginia Woolf and the Ethics of Intimacy locates this radical notion of intimacy at the heart of Woolf s introspective modernist poetics as well as her ethical and political resistance to violence aggressive nationalism and fascism Engaging contemporary theory particularly the more recent works of Judith Butler Luce Irigaray and Julia Kristeva it reads Woolf as a writer and ethical thinker whose vital contribution to the modernist scene of inter war Britain is strikingly relevant to critical debates around intimacy affect violence and vulnerability in our own time Death And Grief Xena Mindhurst, AI, 2025-01-08 Death and Grief presents a groundbreaking exploration of how humans across cultures process and respond to mortality weaving together insights from psychology neuroscience and cultural anthropology The book examines three fundamental aspects death taboos in society cross cultural grief psychology and the evolution of mourning practices Through extensive research spanning six continents it reveals how different cultures have developed unique adaptive mechanisms for confronting death and supporting the bereaved The work uniquely combines scientific understanding of grief s neurological impacts with anthropological observations of death customs worldwide By examining how various societies prepare for and respond to death the book challenges Western medicine s tendency to pathologize natural grieving processes It presents fascinating findings about how grief affects brain chemistry while simultaneously exploring how cultural attitudes shape our collective responses to loss The book progresses systematically from examining diverse death customs to exploring the biological and psychological dimensions of grief culminating in practical frameworks for grief support What sets this work apart is its balanced approach to combining academic research with accessible insights making it valuable for both professionals and general readers The inclusion of contemporary issues like digital memorialization and changing funeral practices ensures its relevance to modern readers while maintaining respect for traditional approaches to death and mourning Death, Time and Mortality in the Later Novels of Don DeLillo Philipp Wolf, 2022-05-30 This book offers the first systematic study of death in the later novels of Don DeLillo It focuses on Underworld to The Silence along with his 1984 novel White Noise in which the fear of death dominates the protagonists most hauntingly The study covers eight novels which mark the development of one of the most philosophical and prestigious novelists writing in English Death in its close relation to time temporality and transience has been an ongoing subject or motif in Don DeLillo s oeuvre His later work is shot through with the cultural and sociopsychological symptoms and responses death elicits His reflection on dying revolves around defensive mechanisms and destruction fantasies immortalism and cryonics covert and overt surrogates consumerism and media and the mortification of the body His characters give themselves to mourning and are afflicted with psychosis depression and the looming of emptiness Yet writing about death also means facing the ambiguity and failing representability of death The book considers DeLillo s use of language in which temporality and something like death may become manifest It deals with the transfiguration of time and death into art with apocalypse as a central and recurring subject and as a kind of antithesis epiphany The study eventually proposes some reflections on the meaning of death in an age fully contingent on media and technology and dominated by financial capitalism and consumerism Despite all the distractions death remains a sinister presence which has beset the minds not only of DeLillo s protagonists Reading Landscape in American Literature ,
