Managing Babel: The International Legal Protection of Minorities in the Twentieth Century Li-Ann

Thio, 2005-01-01

Minority protection is integral to a civilised standard of internal good governance The goal of promoting friendly inter group relations within states highlights the linkages between constitutionalism and the extending reach of international law in shaping domestic governance and structuring relations between the state non state communities and individuals

While law per se cannot guarantee the security and integrity of minority groups law and legal institutions play a role in promoting a tolerant and pluralistic environment and a multicultural ethos that appreciates rather than resents ethno cultural diversity

This book is a comprehensive modern study of the important field of international protection of minority rights focusing on 20th century developments

Minority rights regimes which address the issue of group identity and autonomy have essentially been a stabilising force buttressing state survivability in the face of claims to self determination or secession

These serve to promote the peaceful co existence of distinct ethno cultural groups captured by the metaphor of

Babel within existing states Despite overlaps the content of minority protection is more modest than the claim of indigenous groups for collective rights or peoples rights to self determination As part of the contemporary corpus of human rights norms minority protection may be appreciated as an aspect of the evolving content of the internal dimension of the right to self determination Chapter 1 introduces some key definitional and conceptual problems in the field of minority protection and presents a brief historical review of international approaches up to 1919 Chapter 2 discusses the League of Nations era Chapter 3 examines approaches towards minority protection after World War Two as reflected in the drafting of the United Nations Charter and efforts to protect minorities outside the UN regime In this period discussed in Chapters 4 and 5 minorities issues remained largely submerged within the UN project of promoting universal individual human rights Chapter 6 addresses the post 1989 revival in minorities issues within the UN Chapter 7 offers a succinct overview of what might be considered a parallel history with respect to the development of regional human rights schemes and what these afford to minority protection closing with concluding observations Meticulously researched this volume offers a valuable synthesis of this important but often heart breaking field

Democratizing Global Governance E. Aksu,J. Camilleri,2002-07-15 Is globalization beyond human control In this thought provoking text the myths and mantras of this apparently irresistible force are challenged and dissembled By examining a number of fundamental questions the contributors put forward a radical reform agenda for global governance Can the global multilateral system be democratic Are security and economic concerns separable Can the development of a global civil society contribute to effective global governance An important and wide ranging study this book will be essential reading for graduates and researchers in international relations W.E.B. Dash,2008-02-19 The dramatic surge in regional integration schemes over the past two decades has been one of the most important developments in world politics This book examines regionalism in South Asia exploring the linkages between institutional structures government capabilities and domestic actors preferences to explain the dynamics of regional cooperation No Surrender Keith D. Dickson,2017-05-18 A modern and current examination of Reconstruction that explains how the South in the aftermath of defeat in a total war was still able to exhaust the will of the powerful North using asymmetric warfare The end of the Civil War may have marked the end of the official fighting but the Congressional strategy to remake the South during Reconstruction led to a new period of warfare asymmetric warfare in which the defeated Confederacy became the Southern resistance Despite all the power at its disposal the North failed to change the South after nearly 11 years of effort and instead accepted a political social equilibrium dictated by the South This book presents Reconstruction through an unconventional lens to explain the process of transition from war to warfare and finally to equilibrium represented by the emergence of the New South Author Keith D Dickson explains how Reconstruction created a false equilibrium in the immediate aftermath of the Civil War and was reversed by Congressional action that imposed a new social and political order

By resistance of these actions through asymmetric warfare the white South was able to establish a new equilibrium one dictated by the South that opened the path to the New South Providing insights from an author who is both a respected academic military historian as well as a former practitioner of unconventional warfare as a Special Forces officer the book covers the historical period 1865 1877 casting the Reconstruction period as an example of protracted asymmetric warfare This asymmetric warfare was conducted in phases against the Republican state governments As both the U S Congress and the Grant administration abandoned the lofty goals for Reconstruction a bitterly contested presidential election provided the opportunity to establish conditions favorable to the white South that would in turn lead to a political social equilibrium that allowed reconciliation to begin The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Global Security Studies ,2023-02-15 This encyclopedia provides an authoritative guide intended for students of all levels of studies offering multidisciplinary insight and analysis of over 500 headwords covering the main concepts of Security and Non traditional Security and their relation to other scholarly fields and aspects of real world issues in the contemporary geopolitical world Reframing the International Richard Falk,R.B.J. Walker,Lester Ruiz,2013-10-08 Re Framing the International insists that if we are to properly face the challenges of the coming century we need to re examine international politics and development through the prism of ethics and morality International relations must now contend with a widening circle of participants reflecting the diversity and unevenness of status memory gender race culture and class W.E.B. Du Bois and the Problems of the Twenty-first Century Reiland Rabaka,2007-01-01 W E B Du Bois and the Problems of the Twenty First Century utilizes Du Bois s thought and texts to develop an informed critical theory of contemporary society This book broadens the base of critical theory making it more multicultural transethnic transgender and non Western European philosophy focused by placing it in dialogue with theory and phenomena that had been heretofore woefully neglected Taking the preeminent black intellectual of the twentieth century as his primary point of departure Reiland Rabaka identifies and analyzes several key contributions that Du Bois and the black racial tradition offer to those interested in redeveloping and racially revising contemporary critical social theory With chapters on critical race theory postcolonial theory feminism and Marxism this volume builds bridges from Africana Studies to disparate discursive communities accessibly demonstrating Du Bois s and the black radical tradition s contributions to and the potential impact on a wide range of new social scientific research and radical political struggles

PROCEEDINGS OF THE THIRD INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON GLOBALIZATION: CHALLENGES FOR TRANSLATORS AND INTERPRETERS Zhiqing Zhang, Youbin Zhao, Xinjie Wang, 2020-05-26 With the implementation of the Belt and Road Initiative and the development of Guangdong Hong Kong Macau Greater Bay Area the demand for translators and interpreters continues to grow in China The breakthrough in artificial intelligence which has contributed to an enormous improvement in the quality of machine translation means challenges and opportunities for translators and interpreters as well as studies of translation and interpreting Studies of translation and interpreting have been further expanded and diversified in the era of globalized communications The interrelation between translation and globalization is essential reading for not only scholars and educators but also anyone with an interest in translation and interpreting studies or a concern for the future of our world's languages and cultures By focusing on the connection between the two various researches have been conducted in all forms of communication between languages including translation interpreting cross cultural communication language teaching and the various specializations involved in such activities This has resulted in The Third International Conference on Globalization Challenges for Translators and Interpreters co organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University on its Zhuhai campus and South China Business College Guangdong University of

Foreign Studies November 16 17 2019 The response to the conference was once more overwhelming which was partly attributed to the previous two conferences held successfully under the same title Apart from five keynote speakers over one hundred and fifty participants came from universities institutions or organizations from mainland China Spain New Zealand as well as Hong Kong and Macao to attend the event contributing over 130 papers in total Among the keynote speakers are internationally renowned scholars in translation studies such as Dr Roberto Valde n professor of English Linguistics at the University of Oviedo Spain and the Chief Editor of Perspective Studies in Translatology Dr Sun Yifeng chair professor of Translation Studies and head of the English Department at the University of Macau Dr Tan Zaixi distinguished professor of Shenzhen University and Chair Professor of Beijing Foreign Studies University and Professor Emeritus of Hong Kong Baptist University After careful evaluation and compilation 90 papers have been selected for this conference proceedings which was summarized into the following four topics Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice Translation and Cross cultural Studies Evaluation of Translation and Interpretation and Studies on the Teaching of Translation By no means is it difficult to find some interesting and thought provoking papers under each topic For example concerning Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice To Translate or not to Translate That is the Question On Metaphor Translation in Chinese Political works by Dong Yu explains that in judging whether or not a Chinese metaphor can be translated into English an indispensable step is to decide whether or not the two cultural connotations can be connected But this can easily be influenced by subjective factors Yu has suggested some ways in which subjective factors could be controlled to some extent so that the translator could be more confident in his or her decision He has also suggested three steps The first step is to assume that the cultural connotation of the Chinese metaphor can be connected with that of its English version For example the metaphor in could be translated as rain or shine The second step is to find out whether or not this translated version is acceptable both linguistically and culturally in English The third step is to consider the systematicity of the metaphor in regard with the context in both the source and target texts This involves a process of recontextualization When it comes to Translation and Cross cultural Studies On Translation of the English Guide interpreter from the Perspective of Intercultural Communication by Fengxia Liua and Xiaoning Bi points out that inbound tourism serves as a window through which foreign tourists get to know China so the interaction between the guide interpreters and foreign tourists are the typical activity of cultural communication Foreign language speaking guides are usually regarded as people to people ambassadors or cultural ambassadors who have played an essential role in the international tourist industry Therefore they argue that it is extremely important for tourist guides to cultivate their cross cultural communication awareness enhance their overall communicative competence observe and distinguish east and west differences with multi dimensional perspective transcend cultural barriers and learn to use translation skills Studies on the Teaching of Translation is another interesting topic that has attracted enormous attention such as Business Translation Teaching from the Perspective of Metaphors by Dandan Li which explores application of conceptual metaphor theory in the translation process of business lexicons business discourse and business English culture so as to provide a new perspective in business English pedagogy Another study entitled Cognitive Studies in Translation by Xin Huang analyzes the cognitive studies of translation interpreting processes over the past three decades with focus on the issues examined the findings reached as well as the recent development She explains that cognitive studies of translation process examine the translation competence on line translation behaviors such as how the eye gazes and how the words are typed and the brain activities when doing translation Special interests are paid to the working memory problem solving the executive function and some linguistic relative factors such as text difficulty Over the past thirty years the interest in the field has been gaining considerable momentum and increasing issues have been involved Finally she concludes that with the advancement of technologies and interdisciplinary approaches the black box the previously unforeseeable cognitive activities of how human process translation can be unfolded Considering the importance of integrating theory with practice the proceedings are therefore compiled in such a way as to be balanced and inclusive in the hope of summarizing current accomplishments as well as providing certain insights for teaching and further research in the field of translation and interpretation studies

Organizing the 20th-Century World Karen Gram-Skjoldager, Haakon Andreas Ikonomou, Torsten Kahlert, 2020-11-12 International Organizations play a pivotal role on the modern global stage and have done this book argues since the beginning of the 20th century This volume offers the first historical exploration into the formative years of international public administrations covering the birth of the League of Nations and the emergence of the second generation that still shape international politics today such as the UN NATO and OECD Centring on Europe where the multilateralization of international relations played out more intensely in the mid 20th century than in other parts of the world it demonstrates a broad range of historiographical and methodological approaches to institutions in international history The book argues that after several turns cultural linguistic material transnational international history is now better equipped to restate its core questions of policy and power with a view to their institutional dimensions Making use of new approaches in the field this book develops an understanding of the specific powers and roles of IO administrations by delving into their institutional make up
