Resurgo The History Of Moncton:

RESURGO : the History of Moncton Edward W. (Edward William) Larracey, C. Alexander (Charles Alexander) Pincombe, Moncton (N.B.), 1990      Struggle to Serve William G. Godfrey, 2004 The first half of the twentieth century witnessed the creation of Canada's modern hospital system While it is often assumed that this process was inevitable many small communities had difficulty creating and maintaining public hospitals In an era of government cutbacks in health services and comparisons with a more privatized American system W G Godfrey offers a timely examination of Canada's hospital experience showing that it was a slow journey from largely privately funded to increasingly governmentally funded institutions Godfrey focuses on one hospital and the communities it served but also provides an overview of local provincial and federal hospital policies revising the sometimes rose tinted picture of public and private acceptance and generosity He explores the relationship between the hospital's urban and rural constituencies and its French and English speaking patients demonstrating that increasing patient numbers and changing funding sources encouraged substantial growth in hospital services from 1895 to 1953 He details how one community's understanding of the role of the hospital changed over time to match that of hospital advocates board members and support groups such as the Ladies Aid demonstrating that hospital history is as much a study of politics and community persuasion as it is of internal therapeutic advances      New Brunswick before the Equal Opportunity Program Laurel Lee Lewey, Louis J. Richard, Linda M. Turner, 2018-06-26 Prior to the implementation of the Equal Opportunity program in the 1960s most New Brunswickers many of them Francophone lived with limited access to welfare education and health services New Brunswick's social services framework was similar to that of nineteenth century England and many people experienced the patronizing attitudes inherent in these laws New Brunswick before the Equal Opportunity Program examines the observations and experiences of New Brunswick's early social workers who operated under this system and illuminates how Premier Louis J Robichaud's Equal Opportunity program transformed the province's social services Authors Laurel Lewey Louis J Richard and Linda Turner describe more than a century of social work history including the work of the earliest Acadian social workers They also address the fact that the federal government did not take responsibility for social welfare of the Mi kmaq and Maliseet people planning for assimilation instead Clan structures continued to be relied on while subsisting upon inadequate relief provisions      The State in Transition Michael Behiels, François Rocher, 2022-08-10 Canadian federalism as a particular form of political organization for a complex society with multiple economic political geographic cultural and national divides faces important challenges The political realignment that brought the Conservative Party to power in the last quinquennium has set in motion a significant transformation of the Canadian state and its federal system of governance The contributors in this collection focus on three recurrent themes the issues arising from the management of ethno cultural diversity the existence of internal nations in Canada the First Nations and the Quebec nation in Quebec the presence of linguistic minorities French and English and the questions of identity linked to citizenship in a federal context that allows for the presence of multiple loyalties and the specific challenges raised by globalization and the extension of economic integration particularly between the United States and Canada This collection of studies on the role of the state reveals that our understanding of the evolution of the Canadian state and of the ensuing impact on federalism and federal provincial relations is not as complete as it should be

Line of Fire Edward Butts, 2009-08-03 Across Canada peace officers put their lives on the line every day From John Fisk in 1804 the first known Canadian policeman killed in the line of duty to the four RCMP officers shot to death in Mayerthorpe Alberta in 2005 renowned true crime writer Edward Butts takes a hard hitting compassionate probing look at some of the stories involving the hundreds of Canadian law enforcement officers who have found themselves in harm s way Some like the four RCMP officers who perished in the Northwest Territories on the Lost Patrol of 1910 died in horrible accidents while performing their duties Others such as the Mounties involved in the manhunts for Almighty Voice and the Mad Trapper of Rat River found themselves in extremely dangerous violent situations One thing is certain about all of these peace officers they displayed amazing courage and never hesitated to make the ultimate sacrifice for their fellow citizens

Innovating in Urban Economies David A. Wolfe, 2014-01-01 In a globalizing knowledge based economy innovation and creative capacity lead to economic prosperity Starting in 2006 the Innovation Systems Research Network began a six year long study on how city regions in Canada were surviving and thriving in a globalized world That study resulted in the Innovation Creativity and Governance in Canadian City Regions series which examines the impact of innovation talent and institutions on sixteen city regions across Canada This volume explores how the social dynamics that influence innovation and knowledge flows in Canadian city regions contribute to transformation and long term growth With case studies examining cities of all sizes from Toronto to Moncton Innovating in Urban Economies analyzes the impact of size location and the regional economy on innovation and knowledge in Canada s cities

Governing Urban Economies Neil Bradford, Allison Bramwell, 2014-01-01 Today more than ever cities matter to the economic and social well being of the vast majority of Canadians Canada s urban centers are simultaneously the engines of the national economy and the places where the risks of social exclusion are most concentrated making innovative and inclusive urban governance an urgent national priority Governing Urban Economies is the first detailed scholarly examination of relations among governmental and community based actors in Canadian city regions Comparing patterns of municipal community relations and federal provincial interactions across city regions this volume tracks the ways in which urban coalitions tackle complex economic and social challenges Featuring an interdisciplinary group of established and up and coming scholars this collection breaks new ground in the Canadian urban politics literature and will appeal to urbanists working in a range of national contexts

Cities and Languages Richard Clément, Caroline Andrew, 2022-08-10 Proceedings of the international symposium Language Planning in Capitals and Urban Environments held March 25 26 2010 at the University of Ottawa with sponsorship from the Official Languages and

Bilingualism Institute Canadian Heritage the Office of the Commissioner of Official Languages and the City of Ottawa The Language Planning in Capitals and Urban Environments Symposium brought together administrators and researchers from Canadian and European cities to discuss language planning in urban environments Two important concepts emerged from the proceedings municipal bilingualism as an asset that deserves to be promoted rather than merely a question of regulation and bilingualism as a symbol of openness and inclusion that cities can use to advantage to distinguish themselves from their competitors

Seeking Talent for Creative Cities Jill Grant, 2014-02-05 With the growth of knowledge based economies cities across the globe must compete to attract and retain the most talented workers Seeking Talent for Creative Cities offers a comprehensive and insightful analysis of the diverse dynamic factors that affect cities ability to achieve this goal Based on a comparative national study of 16 Canadian cities this volume systematically evaluates the concerns facing workers operating in a range of creative endeavours It draws on interviews surveys and census data collected over a six year research program conducted by experts in business public policy urban studies and communications studies to identify the characteristics and features of particular city regions that influence these workers mobility and satisfaction Seeking Talent for Creative Cities represents a rigorously empirical test of popular wisdom on the true relationship between urban development and economic competitiveness

Shale Gas in New Brunswick Richard Saillant, David Campbell, 2014-12-05 Shale gas is to New Brunswick today what the Free Trade Agreement with the United States was to Canada a quarter century ago a deeply controversial highly polarizing issue over which tempers quickly flare up As was the case with the free trade debate the public discourse on shale gas has degenerated into a war of words with most citizens left in the middle with very little information they can trust to secure a better understanding of what is at stake This study aims to fill part of the wide information gap on shale gas in New Brunswick While substantial knowledge has been built in recent years on the impact both positive and negative of shale gas on communities where it is actively being exploited much less is available for New Brunswick Yet as this document makes clear no two shales are alike In order to understand the economic environmental social and other consequences of shale gas we cannot rely exclusively on other jurisdictions we also need to investigate New Brunswick s specific context Virtually all of the contributors to this study well established credible authorities in their respective fields are associated with New Brunswick universities in one way or another

Piau's Potato Present Diane Carmel Léger, 2015-04-08 T06:00:00-04:00 Did a gift of potatoes in 1768 lead to a popular dish enjoyed by Acadians today Christian Treitz the youngest son in a German family immigrated to the Monckton Township learns that the trauma of the Acadian Deportation is still alive The Treitz family is hungry and cold Luckily Christian meets Pierre Belliveau who could have left Moncton s newcomers to their unhappy fate Instead the Acadian has brought with him the seed of a new beginning Despite the obstacles between them their unexpected friendship blossoms on the banks of the Petitcodiac River
