Rethinking Modernity And National Identity In Turkey:

Rethinking Modernity and National Identity in Turkey Sibel Bozdoğan, Reşat Kasaba, 2011-11-15 In the first two decades after World War II social scientists heralded Turkey as an exemplar of a modernizing nation in the Western mold Images of unveiled women working next to clean shaven men healthy children in school uniforms and downtown Ankara's modern architecture all proclaimed the country's success Although Turkey's modernization began in the late Ottoman era the establishment of the secular nation state by Kemal Atatürk in 1923 marked the crystallization of an explicit elite driven project of modernity that took its inspiration exclusively from the West The essays in this book are the first attempt to examine the Turkish experiment with modernity from a broad interdisciplinary perspective encompassing the fields of history the social sciences the humanities architecture and urban planning As they examine both the Turkish project of modernity and its critics the contributors offer a fresh balanced understanding of dilemmas now facing not only Turkey but also many other parts of the Middle East and the world at large

Technology and National Identity in Turkey Burce Celik, 2011-08-30 Since the fall of the Ottoman Empire Turkey has seen a complete reimagining of its political cultural and social landscape Burce Celik argues that technology has been integral to this transformative process showing how take up of modern technologies such as the cell or mobile phone has been embraced particularly by those who most easily absorbed new ideals about Turkey and modern Turkishness While many studies on the cultural significance of mobile technology focus on its rational uses and incentives Acelik draws on cultural theory psychoanalysis and the philosophy of technology to explore the bonds desires and dependencies that Turkish citizens have in relation to the cell phone She ultimately links a collective post empire melancholia with a desire to re imagine a new ideal Turkish national identity through technology

Turkey, Islam, Nationalism, and Modernity Carter V. Findley, 2010-09-21 Book Description Publication Date August 30 2011 Turkey Islam Nationalism and Modernity reveals the historical dynamics propelling two centuries of Ottoman and Turkish history As mounting threats to imperial survival necessitated dynamic responses ethnolinguistic and religious identities inspired alternative strategies for engaging with modernity A radical secularizing current of change competed with a conservative Islamically committed current Crises sharpened the differentiation of the two streams forcing choices between them The radical current began with the formation of reformist governmental elites and expanded with the advent of print capitalism symbolized by the privately owned Ottoman language newspapers The radicals engineered the 1908 Young Turk revolution ruled empire and republic until 1950 made secularism a lasting belief system and still retain powerful positions The conservative current gained impetus from three history making Islamic renewal movements those of Mevlana Halid Said Nursi and Fethullah Gulen Powerful under the empire Islamic conservatives did not regain control of government until the 1980s By then they too had their own influential media Findley s reassessment of political economic social and cultural history reveals the dialectical interaction between radical and conservative currents of change which alternately clashed and converged to shape late Ottoman and republican Turkish history

Foreign Policy as Nation Making Reem Abou-El-Fadl,2019 A comparison of Turkey s and Egypt s diverging foreign policies during the Cold War in light of their leaderships nation making projects Media in New Turkey Bilge Yesil,2016-06-30 In Media in New Turkey Bilge Yesil unlocks the complexities surrounding and penetrating today s Turkish media Yesil focuses on a convergence of global and domestic forces that range from the 1980 military coup to globalization s inroads and the recent resurgence of political Islam Her analysis foregrounds how these and other forces become intertwined and she uses Turkey s media to unpack the ever more complex relationships Yesil confronts essential questions regarding the role of the state and military in building the structures that shaped Turkey s media system media adaptations to ever shifting contours of political and economic power how the far flung economic interests of media conglomerates leave them vulnerable to state pressure and the ways Turkey s politicized judiciary criminalizes certain speech Drawing on local knowledge and a wealth of Turkish sources Yesil provides an engrossing look at the fault lines carved by authoritarianism tradition neoliberal reform and globalization within Turkey s increasingly far reaching media

The Globalization of Corporate Media Hegemony Lee Artz, Yahya R. Kamalipour, 2012-02-01 When commercial media practices are insinuated into local cultures existing cultural and media practices are often displaced and social inequalities are exacerbated sometimes with the consent of consumers but frequently confronting organized proponents The Globalization of Corporate Media Hegemony provides case studies from five continents from government promoted telecommunications programs and technologies in Canada and Britain MTV Asia's call in request lines and the pan Latin ideology of a Mexican television variety show to Islamic pop radio in Turkey commercial radio in Africa a Millionaire game show in India and Hollywood's muted influence on Korean cinema among others Each case offers new insight into the particulars of an expanding corporate hegemony and together they invite the conversation on media globalization to consider the dynamics of class conflict and negotiation as an analytical perspective having prescriptive potential Anti-Veiling Campaigns in Turkey Sevgi Adak, 2022-02-24 The veiling and unveiling of women have been controversial issues in Turkey since the late Ottoman period. It was with the advent of local campaigns against certain veils in the 1930s however that women's dress turned into an issue of national mobilisation in which gender norms would be redefined. In this comprehensive analysis of the anti veiling campaigns in interwar Turkey Sevgi Adak casts light onto the historical context within which the meanings of veiling and unveiling in Turkey were formed. By shifting the focus from the high politics of the elite to the implementation of state policies the book situates the anti veiling campaigns as a space where the Kemalist reforms were negotiated, compromised and resisted by societal actors. Using previously unpublished archival material Adak reveals the intricacies of the Kemalist modernisation process and provides a nuanced reading of the gender order established in the early republic by looking at the various ways women responded to the anti veiling campaigns. A major contribution to the literature on the social history of modern Turkey the book provides a complex analysis of these campaigns which goes beyond a simple binary between liberation and oppression.

Kemalism in Turkish Politics Sinan Ciddi, 2009-01-13 This book is concerned with Turkey's political evolution the role of Kemalism and why a social democratic alternative has never fully developed. Concentrating on the electoral weaknesses of the Turkish centre left represented by the Republican People's Party (CHP) Sinan Ciddi examines the roles of nationalism and the political establishment and the role of Kemalist ideology. Established by Kemal Atatürk the CHP is seen to be the founding party of modern Turkey. Kemalism sought to create a secular and democratic society based on the principles of republicanism populism secularism nationalism and revolutionism. Although this leftist ideology became an integral part of Turkish politics by the early 1960s it has remained a comparatively weak representative movement. Its strong ideological stance advocates an authoritarian and exclusionary position particularly in relation to matters such as multiculturalism and democratisation fuelling many debates concerning the role of religion and nationalism within Turkey and perpetuating elements of xenophobia and intolerance. This book will be of interest to students of politics history and current affairs and of Turkish politics in particular.

Power and Architecture Michael Minkenberg, 2014-06-01 Capital cities have been the seat of political power and central stage for their state's political conflicts and rituals throughout the ages. In the modern era they provide symbols for and confer meaning to the state thereby contributing to the invention of the nation. Capitals capture the imagination of natives visitors and outsiders alike yet also express the outcomes of power struggles within the political systems in which they operate. This volume addresses the reciprocal relationships between identity regime formation urban planning and public architecture in the Western world. It examines the role of urban design and architecture in expressing or hiding ideological beliefs and political agenda. Case studies include old capitals such as Rome Vienna Berlin and Warsaw new ones such as Washington DC Ottawa Canberra Ankara Bonn and Brasília and the European capital Brussels. Each case reflects the author's different disciplinary backgrounds in architecture history political science and urban studies demonstrating the value of an interdisciplinary approach to studying cities.
