From Diplomas to Doctorates V. Barbara Bush, Crystal Renee Chambers, Mary Beth Walpole, 2023-07-12 This volume is designed to illuminate the educational experiences of Black women from the time they earn their high school diplomas through graduate study with a particular focus on their doctoral studies by exploring the commonalities and the uniqueness of their individual paths and challenges The chapters of this volume newly identify key factors and experiences that shape Black women's engagement or disengagement with higher education The original research presented here using an array of theoretical lenses as well as qualitative and quantitative methods not only deepens our understanding of the experiences of African American women in the academy but also seeks to strengthen the academic pipeline not only for the benefit of those who may have felt disenfranchised in the past but for all students The contributors eschew the deficit focused approach that implies a lack of social and cultural capital based on prior educational experiences adopted by many studies of non dominant groups in education and instead focus on the strengths and experiences of their subjects Among their findings is the identification of the social capital that Black women are given and actively acquire in their pre collegiate years that enable them to gain greater returns on their educational investments than their male peers The book further describes the assistance and the interference African American women receive from their peers during their transition to college and how peer interactions shape their early college experiences and influence subsequent persistence decisions Whether studying how Black women in the social and natural sciences navigate through this often rocky terrain or uncovering the extent to which African American women doctoral students access postsecondary education through community colleges and their special needs for more mentoring and advising support this book provides researchers and graduate students with rich information on how to successfully engage and succeed in the doctoral process It also demonstrates to women faculty and administrators how they can become better navigators guides and advocates for the African American women who come after them Advancing

Higher Education as a Field of Study Sydney Freeman,Linda Serra Hagedorn,Lester Goodchild,Dianne Wright,2023-07-03 Winner of the 2015 Auburn Authors AwardsWhere is higher education as a field of study going in this century How will higher education program leaders design and sustain their degree programs vitality in the face of perennial challenges from inside and outside the academy While in 1979 the Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education CAS defined standards for student affairs master s level preparation and while 2010 saw the adoption of guidelines for higher education administration and leadership preparation programs at the master s degree level there still are however no guidelines that address higher education leadership doctoral programs despite increasing demands for assessment and evaluation This book suggests that higher education administration doctoral degree guidelines are a critical next step in advancing their program quality and continuity It offers a review of the field s history the condition of its higher education programs developments from the student affairs specialization and its guidelines and a multi chapter dialogue on the benefits or disadvantages of having guidelines At a time of urgency to prepare the next generation of higher education faculty and leaders this book sets out the parameters for the debate about what the guidelines should cover to ensure the appropriate and effective preparation of students It also offers a useful framework for enriching the knowledge of deans chairs program coordinators and faculty who are engaged in program design assessment and revision It will also be of interest to policymakers the personnel of accrediting agencies and not least graduate students within higher education preparation programs All the contributors to this volume have the exemplary expertise leadership experience and a close association with higher education guidelines and standards and have extensively contributed to the literature on higher education Higher Education in the United States James J. F. Forest,Kevin Kinser,2002-06-21 Surveys the changing landscape of American higher education from academic freedom to virtual universities from campus crime to Pell Grants from the Student Privacy Act to student diversity In the years following World War II college and university enrollment doubled students revolted faculty unionized and community colleges evolved Tuition and technology soared as did the number of first generation minority and women students These changes radically transformed the American system of postsecondary education Today that system is in trouble Its aging professoriate prepares for retirement but low academic salaries can no longer attract the best minds to replace them A flood of corporate dollars funds commercial research but money for basic research the seedbed of American scientific preeminence has dried up Colleges and universities also face heated competition with for profit education providers for students faculty and external financial support along with the costs of providing remedial education to growing numbers of students who are unprepared for postsecondary education Higher Education in the United States provides a comprehensive analysis of these issues and others that scholars and practitioners of higher education study discuss and grapple with on a daily basis

The Mixed Methods Reader Vicki L. Plano Clark, John W. Creswell, 2008 In light of the dispersed nature of the mixed methods literature the editors have organized a collection of key discussions and examples of mixed methods research studies in one easy to access location This integrative collection draws from the international literature appearing across diverse research disciplines over the past thirty years Handbook of Educational Policy Gregory J. Cizek, 1999-04-13 The Handbook of Educational Policy provides a comprehensive overview of policy questions in education reform at local state and national levels The book raises controversial questions such as who really benefits from educational reform and investigates issues of accountability assessment educational fads technology in education and other matters of educational policy The book explores not only what education is but what it can be and should be providing a scholarly analysis of policy decisions as well as practical recommendations for parents teachers and policy makers Key Features Provides informed discussion based on scholarly research Contains practical recommendations for parents educators and policy makers Includes representation from local state and national levels Considers comparisons of United States practices to reforms abroad Addresses current issues and implications for the futures Higher Education in the United States [2 volumes] James J. F. Forest, Kevin Kinser, 2002 Addresses the issues events scholarly interpretations and historical context behind our current system of higher learning Educational Research Quarterly, 2000

Landscape, Process and Power Serena Heckler, 2012 In recent years the field of study variously called local indigenous or traditional environmental knowledge TEK has experienced a crisis brought about by the questioning of some of its basic assumptions This has included reassessing notions that scientific methods can accurately elicit and describe TEK or that incorporating it into development projects will improve the physical social or economic well being of marginalized peoples The contributors to this volume argue that to accurately and appropriately describe TEK the historical and political forces that have shaped it as well as people s day to day engagement with the landscape around them must be taken into account TEK thus emerges not as an easily translatable tool for development experts but as a rich and complex element of contemporary lives that should be defined and managed by indigenous and local peoples themselves
