International Statebuilding in West Africa Abu Bakarr Bah,Nikolas Emmanuel,2024 At the turn of the twenty first century manipulation of the democratic process coupled with preexisting political and economic grievances led to years long civil wars in Sierra Leone Liberia and C te d Ivoire During and after these conflicts international peacekeeping efforts and humanitarian intervention became the dominant paths for restoring stability by rebuilding the state Using these three countries as case studies this manuscript sheds light on internationally driven state building in war torn West African nations the problematic nature of the postcolonial state and the difficulties of securing its people s wellbeing Connecting peace and conflict democracy and international development studies Bah and Emmanuel argue that there is a clear nexus between the concepts and practices of peace building and statebuilding that peace building and statebuilding are not domestic matters alone but also matters of global intervention and that civil wars can be viewed as opportunities for state building through creative postwar partnerships and organization This study goes beyond the familiar concepts of failed states R2P peacekeeping and peace mediation and introduces and enhances the concepts of state decay new humanitarianism people centered liberalism and institutional design In doing so it provides critical lessons that local and international actors can draw on as they try to figure out practical solutions to the political economic and social problems that impede the development of peaceful and democratic multiethnic postcolonial states in Africa and beyond Applying comparative historical methods and theory to archival materials and expert interviews International Statebuilding in West Africa seeks to shift the discourse on civil wars from their causes and implications to the opportunities they provide to rework failed states and to shift the discourse on African states from their colonial and neocolonial legacies to their shared moral and security interests with the rest of the world

Framing Africa Nigel Eltringham,2013-06-01 The first decade of the 21st century has seen a proliferation of North American and European films that focus on African politics and society While once the continent was the setting for narratives of heroic ascendancy over self The African Queen 1951 The Snows of Kilimanjaro 1952 military odds Zulu 1964 Khartoum 1966 and nature Mogambo 1953 Hatari 1962 Born Free 1966 The Last Safari 1967 this new wave of films portrays a continent blighted by transnational corruption The Constant Gardener 2005 genocide Hotel Rwanda 2004 Shooting Dogs 2006 failed states Black Hawk Down 2001 illicit transnational commerce Blood Diamond 2006 and the unfulfilled promises of decolonization The Last King of Scotland 2006 Conversely where once Apartheid South Africa was a brutal foil for the romance of East Africa Cry Freedom 1987 A Dry White Season 1989 South Africa now serves as a redeemed contrast to the rest of the continent Red Dust 2004 Invictus 2009 Writing from the perspective of long term engagement with the contexts in which the films are set anthropologists and historians reflect on these films and assess the contemporary place Africa holds in the North American and European cinematic imagination

Africa and Mathematics Dirk Huylebrouck,2019-03-30 This volume on ethnomathematics in Central Africa fills a gap in the current literature focusing on a region rarely explored by other publications It highlights the discovery of the Ishango rod which was found to be the oldest mathematical tool in humanity s history thereby shifting the origin of mathematics to the heart of Africa and explores the different scientific hypotheses that emerged as a result While it contains some high level mathematics the non mathematical reader can easily skip these portions and enjoy the book s survey of African history culture and art

Mediating Violence from Africa George MacLeod,2023-10 Mediating Violence from Africa explores how African and non African Francophone authors filmmakers editors and scholars have packaged interpreted and filmed the violent histories of post Cold War Francophone Africa This violence much of which unfolded in front of Western television cameras included the use of child soldiers facilitated by the Soviet Union s castoff Kalashnikov rifles the rise of Islamist terrorism in West Africa and the horrific genocide against the Tutsi in Rwanda Through close readings of fictionalized child soldier narratives cinematic representations of Islamist militants genocide survivor testimony and Western scholarship George S MacLeod analyzes the ways Francophone African authors and filmmakers as well as their editors and scholarly critics negotiate the aesthetic political cultural and ethical implications of making these traumatic stories visible MacLeod argues for the need to periodize these productions within a post Cold War framework to emphasize how shifts in post 1989 political discourse are echoed contested or subverted by contemporary Francophone authors filmmakers and Western scholars The questions raised in Mediating Violence from Africa are of vital importance today How the world engages with and responds to stories of recent violence and loss from Africa has profound implications for the affected communities and individuals More broadly in an era in which stories and images of violence from terror attacks to school shootings to police brutality are disseminated almost instantly and with minimal context these theoretical questions have implications for debates surrounding the ethics of representing trauma the politicization of memory and Africa's place in a global as opposed to a postcolonial or Euro African economic and political landscape

Africa's Big Five and Other Wildlife Filmmakers Jean Hartley, 2010-11-01 Jean Hartley born in Kenya is acknowledged as being the first to legitimise filming for wildlife film crews Over the last 25 years she has worked on over a thousand films the vast majority being about wildlife and nature She features five of the great film makers who all started their careers in Kenya in the 1950s legends whom she is proud to call personal friends Watching all of their films and many more she became fascinated by the history of film making in Kenya and determined to find out when it all started In this insightful book she traces the roots of wildlife film back a hundred years drawing on accounts of the original film makers and the professional hunters who guided those early safaris She tracks the changes from those grainy speeded up silent films through to the technologically perfect High Definition and 3D films that are being made today
