Jorgenson, 2020-12-30 In Indigenous and Christian Perspectives in Dialogue Allen G Jorgenson asks what Christian theologians might learn from Indigenous spiritualities and worldviews Jorgenson argues that theology in North America has been captive to colonial conceits and has lost sight of key resources in a post Christendom context The volume is especially concerned with the loss of a sense of place evident in theologies written without attention to context Using a comparative theology methodology wherein more than one faith tradition is engaged in dialogical exploration Jorgenson uses insights from Indigenous understandings of place to illumine forgotten or obstructed themes in Christianity In this constructive theological project kairotic places are named as those that are kenotic harmonic poetic and especially enlightening at the margins where we meet the religious other Tug of War Wilmer G. A Table in the Wilderness Thom Rock, 2015-02-13 The joyful premise at the heart of this book is that there is a table lavishly spread for all who hunger for forgiveness the believer the doubter and the famished The book's journey begins and ends with this assertion not only is there a table of forgiveness set for us in the many wildernesses of life there is a seat waiting for each and every one of us at that table What matters is whether we take that seat and if so how we behave at the feast Rooted in the notion of journeying of setting out each day to discover some new vista along the many paths to the banquet hall of forgiveness A Table in the Wilderness draws upon the wisdom of multiple religious traditions as well as non religious sources in order to gain perspective on this long misunderstood subject Readers are just as likely to encounter Dr Seuss as they are to read the words of Sri Ramakrishna or Saint Augustine along the way Anyone who has ever been hurt or has hurt another will find this book a helpful guide

Stackhouse Jr., 2008-04-02 What should be the Christian's attitude toward society When so much of our contemporary culture is at odds with Christian beliefs and mores it may seem that serious Christians now have only two choices transform society completely according to Christian values or retreat into the cloister of sectarian fellowship In Making the Best of It John Stackhouse offers a more balanced and fruitful alternative to these extremes He argues that rather than trying to root up the weeds in the cultural field or trying to shun them Christians should practice persistence in gardening God's world and building toward the New Jerusalem
