Boundary Objects and Beyond Geoffrey C. Bowker, Stefan Timmermans, Adele E. Clarke, Ellen Balka, 2016-02-26 The multifaceted work of the late Susan Leigh Star is explored through a selection of her writings and essays by friends and colleagues Susan Leigh Star 1954 2010 was one of the most influential science studies scholars of the last several decades In her work Star highlighted the messy practices of discovering science asking hard questions about the marginalizing as well as the liberating powers of science and technology In the landmark work Sorting Things Out Star and Geoffrey Bowker revealed the social and ethical histories that are deeply embedded in classification systems Star's most celebrated concept was the notion of boundary objects representational forms things or theories that can be shared between different communities with each holding its own understanding of the representation Unfortunately Leigh was unable to complete a work on the poetics of infrastructure that further developed the full range of her work This volume collects articles by Star that set out some of her thinking on boundary objects marginality and infrastructure together with essays by friends and colleagues from a range of disciplines from philosophy of science to organization science that testify to the wide ranging influence of Star's work Contributors Ellen Balka Eevi E Beck Dick Boland Geoffrey C Bowker Janet Ceja Alcal Adele E Clarke Les Gasser James R Griesemer Gail Hornstein John Leslie King Cheris Kramarae Maria Puig de la Bellacasa Karen Ruhleder Kjeld Schmidt Brian Cantwell Smith Susan Leigh Star Anselm L Strauss Jane Summerton Stefan Timmermans Helen Verran Nina Wakeford Jutta Weber Museum Philosophy for the Twenty-First Century Hugh H. Genoways, 2006-06-08 What underlying philosophy and mission should museums pursue in the first half of the twenty first century In Museum Philosophy twenty four authors use the lenses of a variety of disciplines to answer this essential question Museum professionals offer their answers alongside philosophers historians political scientists educators sociologists and others in a wide ranging exploration of institutions from art museums to zoos Hugh Genoway's book offers philosophical and ethical guidelines describes the ways specific institutions illustrate different philosophies examines major divisions in the museum community and explores outreach and engagement between the museum and its larger community Both established museum professionals and students of museum studies will benefit from this insightful look into the foundations and future of their field

Doing Museology Differently Duncan Grewcock, 2013-09-05 One might believe that museum studies is a stable field of academic inquiry based on a set of familiar institutional forms and functions But as institutions museums have never been stable or singular and neither has the discipline of museum studies Museum studies as a field of academic inquiry has received little critical attention One result of this neglect has arguably been a lack of invention in museum studies another is the distancing of academic museum studies from museum practice Doing Museology Differently charts a different course A critical creative reflection on academic practice the book takes the form of a narrative account of museological fieldwork A research story unfolds challenging academic conventions at the level of its own presentation the book combines critical museum visiting with an autobiographical voice The identification of a previously underexplored interdisciplinary space leads the author to experiment with museum studies using contemporary developments in the theory and practice of human geography The new approaches to museological research and representation that emerge from this unique inquiry challenge assumed institutional and intellectual boundaries and act as a call to further creative experimentation

The Museum Michael S. Shapiro, 1990-07-24 This critical bibliography of museum studies comprises an organized collection of essays on the various types of museums art natural history history science and technology and folk and on general aspects collections education exhibitions etc that cut across the media Most of the essays are cogent substantial if not comprehensive and clear The editor has taken care to see that they follow a similar format of historical essay followed by a full bibliography of items discussed Library Journal As the number of museums in the United States has grown to more than 6500 in this century the museum profession has experienced similar growth In addition to academic training and accreditation programs in the field an expanding body of literature on museum history philosophy and functions has evolved little of which has received the critical attention it deserves This reference volume serves as an up to date guide to this wealth of literature identifying and evaluating works that introduce the general reader the museum studies student and the beginning professional to the history philosophy and functions of museums The volume presents a series of informative historical outlines and critical bibliographic essays on all aspects of museum history philosophy and functions Contributors treat such subjects as art museums natural history museums science and technology museums history museums collections exhibition education and interpretation and the public and museums Each chapter consists of an introductory historical narrative a survey of sources and a bibliographic checklist that contains cited and additional sources A set of appendices include a geographically organized bibliography of museum directories a guide to archives and special collections and a selective list of museum related periodicals The book concludes with a comprehensive general subject index This work will be an important reference tool for museum professionals and cultural historians as well as for courses in museum studies It will also be a valuable addition to both academic and public libraries

Souvenirs of the Fur Trade Mary Malloy, Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology, 2000-12-18 American mariners made more than 175 voyages to the Northwest Coast during the half century after 1787 The art and culture of Northwest Coast Indians so intrigued American sailors that the collecting of ethnographic artifacts became an important secondary trade Malloy has brought details about these early collections together for the first time

The Museum Movement Ian McShane, 2025-03-04 The Museum Movement provides the first systematic overview of the museum movement of the early twentieth century which encouraged museums to play a greater role in education and civic uplift Highlighting the key role played by the Carnegie Corporation in guiding museum development in the late colonial period this book shows that the movement was strongly influenced by the racial politics of the period and that its focus on local histories and civic engagement sought to boost the historical legitimacy and continued vitality of small towns and their dominant white populations Demonstrating that the museum movement placed new emphasis on the importance of professionalisation interpretation and audience engagement McShane shows how by the late 1930s the movement had helped lay the foundations of museology This book also constructs a genealogy of the new museology the next wave of museum reform that emerged in the 1970s by reflecting critically on the newness of some of its ideas Indicating that new thinking about audience display media and the economics of culture has a longer history this book also provides historical perspectives on current interests in informal and social learning the formation of museum publics and institutional convergence The Museum Movement explores the intersections and crosscurrents of modernism and settler colonialism and will thus appeal to academics and students with an interest in museum studies heritage history colonial studies and race
