Transnationalism and Genealogy Philip Q. Yang, 2020-05-29 Transnationalism and genealogy is an emerging subfield of genealogy which intersects with other fields The last two to three decades have witnessed a significant growth in this subfield especially in the areas of transnationalism and family arrangements transnational marriage transnational adoption transnational parenting and transnational care for elderly parents However large gaps remain especially with regard to the impact of transnationalism on lineage In filling some lacunas in the current literature Transnationalism and Genealogy represents an initial attempt to frame the relationship between transnationalism and genealogy The articles included in this book cover various aspects of transnationalism and genealogy from historical periods until the present with perspectives from anthropology sociology history and African studies The topics stretch from transnationalism and the emancipation of black kinship to the transformation of a Chinese immigrant family from traditional to transnational as well as the impact of this transformation on its family relations and lineage a family history of transnational migration across four nation city states in four generations the role of social media platforms Facebook in particular in facilitating transnational care chains in the Trinidadian diasporic community and a comparison between Chinese immigrants in the United States and Singapore in transnational parenting The introductory essay offers a laconic assessment of the subfield of transnationalism and genealogy

50 Years Of The Chinese Community In Singapore Cheng Lian Pang, 2015-10-23 Singapore's success story is essentially a people story Singaporeans have good reason to celebrate the nation's golden jubilee with pride In the short space of five decades the country has moved from Third World to First and its real GDP has grown by 40 times For this phenomenal progress credit must go to its people the Republic's primary resource Against all odds and amidst dire predictions Singaporeans proved that a united and resourceful community could build a nation from scratch This book is dedicated to one segment of these Singaporeans the Chinese community In particular this collection of essays focuses on the Chinese speaking members of the community whose many contributions are less familiar to those brought up on a strict diet of the English language This celebratory book is divided into four broad categories The first section examines the major Chinese organisations and their contributions in the past five decades These include the Singapore Chinese Chamber of Commerce Industry the Singapore Federation of Chinese Clan Associations the Chinese Development Assistance Council and the Chinese Heritage Centre In addition it looks at the history and work of some of the social clubs and charitable organisations in the Chinese community The second section examines some community issues that have engaged the Chinese community in Singapore's first 50 years Two senior journalists and two academics review the evolution of the Chinese language the integration of new immigrants from China and the influence of Chinese religions The five essays in the third section trace the development of Chinese visual and performing art in the Republic The last section looks at the interactions between Singapore's Chinese community and China on the one hand and with the regional Chinese communities on the other The

International Handbook of Rural Demography László J. Kulcsár, Katherine J. Curtis, 2011-10-20 This is the third in an essential series of Springer handbooks that explore key aspects of the nexus between demography and social science With an inclusive international perspective and founded on the principles of social demography this handbook shows how the rural population which recently dropped below 50 per cent of the world total remains a vital segment of society living in proximity to much needed developmental and amenity resources The rich diversity of rural areas shapes the capacity of resident communities to address far reaching social environmental and economic challenges Some will survive become sustainable and even thrive while others will suffer rapid depopulation This handbook demonstrates how these future development trajectories will vary according to local characteristics including but not limited to population composition The growing complexity of rural society is in part a product of significant international variations in population trends making this comparative and comprehensive study of rural demography all the more relevant Collating the latest research on international rural demography the handbook will be an invaluable aid to policy makers as they try to understand how demographic dynamics depend on the economic social and environmental characteristics of rural areas It will also aid researchers assessing the unique factors at play in the rural context and endeavoring to produce meaningful results that will advance policy and scholarship Finally the handbook is an ideal text for graduate students in a spread of disciplines from sociology to international development

The International Handbook of Consultation in Educational Settings Chryse Hatzichristou,Sylvia Rosenfield,2017-03-16 The rapid changes in the composition of school age youth around the world have catalyzed a growing concern about how to address children s mental health and education Grounded in this increasingly global perspective The International Handbook of Consultation in Educational Settings is designed to provide a multicultural transnational approach to consultation theory research training and practice in educational settings With chapters written by geographically diverse and prominent scholars across the field of school psychology this handbook captures the range of ways in which consultation services are trained implemented and researched internationally Written for practitioners researchers faculty members and graduate students in the fields of school psychology school counseling special education and educational psychology this volume is the first of its kind to provide a comprehensive look at consultation in learning environments across the world The International Handbook of Consultation in Educational Settings offers various perspectives on models implementation training and research on school consultation After an introduction to the volume by the editors contributors to Part II examine school based consultation around the world to explore how consultation services are implemented in different countries Part III addresses cross cultural issues in consultation particularly at a systems level Part IV presents themes related to processes and issues in the implementation of consultation by focusing on approaches in various countries The chapters in Part V focus on consultation training offering insights into the development of students and professionals into effective consultants in cross cultural and systemic contexts Part VI describes how practitioners can contribute to the body of research on consultation through careful planning and implementation of their work Finally the editors summarize key concepts and findings in a concluding chapter

Non-State Actors and Foreign Policy Agency Marianna Charountaki,Christos Kourtelis,Daniela Irrera,2024-03-19 This edited volume discusses non state actors as agents of foreign policy It questions whether non state actors can act as foreign policy makers and if the contemporary role of non state actors constitutes a theoretical challenge to foreign policy Chapters demonstrate the impact of non state entities through the lenses of their direct role as decision makers with examples drawn from the African continent the Middle East Europe and Asia

Arguing for the necessity of approaching foreign policy in a broader frame beyond the scope of the state and the individual the book fills a gap in the literature and creates a closer nexus between area studies and foreign policy This volume will be of interest to both academics and practitioners across the fields of international relations foreign policy analysis and area studies Tamils, Social Capital and Educational Marginalization in Singapore Lavanya Balachandran,2021-07-29

Labouring to Learn examines academic mobility pathways among ethnic minority Tamil youths in public secondary schools and vocational institutions in Singapore This book qualitatively examines the interactive effects of race and class on the educational performance of these youths through the lens of social capital Despite their numerical majoritarian position within the Indian population in Singapore the foreclosed access for Tamils to diverse class networks within the ethnic community as well as limited inter ethnic interactions has historically truncated the means to resources and opportunities for social mobility In schools the narratives shared by Tamil boys and girls from the lower academic streams and economically disadvantaged backgrounds reveal that they typically experience exclusion on account of racial economic and academic marginalisation in their everyday lives Turning to bonding ties among peers and family members provides social support resources that offer some respite from marginalisation On the flipside articulations of resistance ensue among Tamil youths that tangibly take time away from learning and run the danger of strengthening the cultural deficit rhetoric for mainstream society to explain the poor academic performance among ethnic minorities This account of educational marginalisation amongst Singaporean Tamil youths contributes towards understanding social inequality in a non liberal multicultural context where marginalisation is differentially experienced across ethnic minority groups and traced to broader socio historical contexts of migration assimilation and minority majority relations Furthermore it also articulates the utility of a social capital framework in historically revealing how educational inequality emerged and continues to be sustained in a postcolonial context Singapore's Policy Designs for Higher Education and Economic Development J.J. Woo,2024-12-26 This book provides an overview of Singapore s higher education system focusing in particular on its role in supporting and facilitating the city state s economic development policies It discusses the various components of Singapore s post secondary higher education system such as its public and private universities polytechnics institutes of technical education private educational institutions foreign universities government affiliated and private training institutions among others and explicates the linkages between higher education and economic development Aside from educational institutions this book also discusses the Skills Future scheme which provides deep skills training to working adults in collaboration with the Singapore s various higher education providers Managing Global Risks in the Urban Age Yee-Kuang Heng,2016-03-03 The first full length exposition of what it terms a global city global risks nexus this volume crosses disciplinary boundaries to draw upon research from Security Studies Geography Sociology and Urban Studies Innovative in its approach integrating theories about Global Cities with those positing a Global Risk Society Yee Kuang Heng positions this research in the midst of two concurrent global trends that will gain more significance in coming years The world is experiencing the consequences of not only rapid globalisation but also urbanization In 2008 the UN declared that more than half the world s population was now urban At the same time highly connected global cities like New York London Tokyo and Singapore also face rapidly spreading global risks such as pandemics and financial crises Unique in developing a typology of global risks that threaten a global city like Singapore beyond its Asian focus the book also draws out thematic and policy lessons pertinent to other global cities Global cities do not simply materialize They are dependent on a range of stakeholders at various levels that produce and re produce its command and control capabilities in the face of global risks Singapore s experiences managing global risks in the financial aviation and maritime domains are common concerns shared by many countries and cities that have or aspire to develop similar critical infrastructure
