Trench, 2009-02-08 The area of eastern Africa which includes Tanzania and Kenya is known for its savannas wildlife and tribal peoples Alongside these iconic images lie concerns about environmental degradation declining wildlife populations and about worsening poverty of pastoral peoples East Africa presents in microcosm the paradox so widely seen across sub Saharan Africa where the world s poorest and most vulnerable populations live alongside some of the world s most outstanding biodiversity resources Over the last decade or so community conservation has emerged as a way out of poverty and environmental problems for these rural populations focusing on the sustainable use of wildlife to generate income that could underpin equally sustainable development Given the enduring interest in East African wildlife and the very large tourist income it generates these communities and ecosystems seem a natural case for green development based on community conservation This volume is focused on the livelihoods of the Maasai in two different countries Kenya and Tanzania This cross border comparative analysis looks at what people do why they choose to do it with what success and with what implications for wildlife The comparative approach makes it possible to unpack the interaction of conservation and development to identify the main drivers of livelihoods change and the main outcomes of wildlife conservation or other land use policies while controlling for confounding factors in these semi arid and perennially variable systems This synthesis draws out lessons about the successes and failures of community conservation based approach to development in Maasailand under different national political and economic contexts and different local social and historical particularities

Trapped by Tourism Larry Krotz, 2024-10-15 Travel was once a way in which the world changed us Now it is a way in which we change the world Twenty five years ago two things made mass tourism possible cheap air travel and the credit card The world has come a long way since then and very quickly from the need for either travel agents or traveler s checks From the now vast cruise ship industry to a myriad of niche areas such as do good tourism self improvement tourism sex tourism and adventure tourism travel as an industry and an activity reaches into corners and has developed on scales not hitherto imagined In Trapped by Tourism Sustainability Questions for a World Fueled by Travelers Larry Krotz explores the tensions that formed with the rise of mass tourism focusing on what travelers want vs what travelers do and the sustainability of tourism itself both as it plays out in economies and as a factor impacting natural and cultural environments We will never shut down tourism We are destined to have it and to participate in it But what truly are its implications for the world we live in If communities and governments seek economic benefits they must also look at the trade offs commodification of cultures economic unfairness environmental stresses and much more By delving into examples ranging from the wine industry to Indigenous communities Krotz looks at how what we do and how we do it affects important corners of the world and how awareness has developed about steering the impacts in ways that work for everybody Trapped by Tourism takes readers around the world to locations such as the old cities of Europe Indigenous communities in North America and Africa wine growing regions in Canada the island of Cuba and Cathedral towns in England places where tourism as an economic driver come up against environmental or cultural forces that push in exactly the opposite direction creating tensions within today s mass tourism The result is a thoughtful and provocative framework that encourages readers and travelers alike to consider an ever growing component of our culture the way we travel and the impact we leave behind Cowgirl Power Gay Gaddis,2018-01-23 Kick Ass Your Way As the owner of one of the largest woman owned advertising agencies in the U S Gay Gaddis knows a thing or two about empowerment Gay s insights are rooted in the spirited strength of the real cowgirl heroines of the 1920s and 30s gutsy risk takers in everything they did In Cowgirl Power these cowgirls are celebrated as a metaphor for the power we all have to achieve far more than we think Whether your goal is to start a family own a business advance your career organize community outreach or run for office it all comes down to power knowing how to develop it and not being afraid to take it when it comes your way Gay s book and Cowgirl Power Toolkit will help you blaze a path to success on your terms Taking responsibility for yourself Building your own competence Finding your assertiveness Designing your own life Building a kick ass culture Recognizing good ideas Becoming a fearless leader Cowgirl Power is not about changing you You are just fine It s about understanding your strengths building on them and unlocking your power to kick ass your way African Handbook of Climate Change Adaptation Nicholas Oguge,Desalegn Ayal,Lydia Adeleke,Izael da Silva,2021-05-20 This open access book discusses current thinking and presents the main issues and challenges associated with climate change in Africa It introduces evidences from studies and projects which show how climate change adaptation is being and may continue to be successfully implemented in African countries Thanks to its scope and wide range of themes surrounding climate change the ambition is that this book will be a lead publication on the topic which may be regularly updated and hence capture further works Climate change is a major global challenge However some geographical regions are more severely affected than others One of these regions is the African continent Due to a combination of unfavourable socio economic and meteorological conditions African countries are particularly vulnerable to climate change and its impacts The recently released IPCC special report Global Warming of 1.5°C outlines the fact that keeping global warming by the level of 1.5°C is possible but also suggested that an increase by 2.0°C could lead to crises with crops agriculture fed by rain could drop by 50% in some African countries by 2020 and livestock production could damage water supplies and pose an additional threat to coastal areas The 5th Assessment Report produced by IPCC predicts that wheat may disappear from Africa by 2080 and that maize a staple will fall significantly in southern Africa Also arid and semi arid lands are likely to increase by up to 8% with severe ramifications for livelihoods poverty eradication and meeting the SDGs Pursuing appropriate adaptation strategies is thus vital in order to address the current and future challenges posed by a changing climate It is against this background that the African Handbook of Climate Change Adaptation is being published It contains papers prepared by scholars representatives from social movements practitioners and members of governmental agencies undertaking research and or executing climate change projects in Africa and working with communities across the African continent Encompassing over 100 contributions from across Africa it is the most comprehensive publication on climate change adaptation in Africa ever produced A Life in Men Gina
