Trump and Political Philosophy Angel Jaramillo Torres, Marc Benjamin Sable, 2018-06-12 This book aims to recover from ancient and modern thinkers valuable arguments about statesmanship leadership and tyranny which illuminate reassessments of political science and practice after the election of Donald Trump Like almost everyone else contemporary political scientists were blindsided by the rise of Trump No one expected a candidate to win who repeatedly violated both political norms and the conventional wisdom about campaign best practices Yet many of the puzzles that Trump's rise presents have been examined by the great political philosophers of the past For example it would come as no surprise to Plato that by its very emphasis on popularity democracy creates the potential for tyranny via demagoguery And perhaps no problem is more alien to empirical political science than asking if statesmanship entails virtue or if so in what that virtue consists This is a theme treated by Plato Aristotle and Machiavelli among others Covering a range of thinkers such as Confucius Plutarch Kant Tocqueville and Deleuze the essays in this book then seek to place the rise of Trump and the nature of his political authority within a broader institutional context than is possible for mainstream political science

Political Marketing in Canada Alex Marland, Thierry Giasson, Jennifer Lees-Marshment, 2012-02-15 Political parties worldwide are using marketing tools such as targeting and segmentation to win elections Are these strategies making politicians and governments more responsive to voters needs or do they pose a threat to democracy Political Marketing in Canada the first book to ask this question of Canada considers the consequences of political marketing in the realms of public policy leadership and the government citizen relationship Through dynamic case studies that range from the resurrection of the Conservative Party to media accounts of political marketing to Tim Hortons as a political brand the authors trace how political marketing is transforming the old system of brokerage politics into a new distinctly Canadian model Citizens are now viewed as consumers and platforms and promises have been repackaged as products Whether this trend is positive or negative the authors argue depends on how politicians and governments carry out political marketing and its promises in practice
