Jane Duncan

My Friend Cousin Emmie:

My Friend Cousin Emmie Jane Duncan, 2015-08-27 Since I lost the baby you and I have been so close together that we have been almost a single person Janet Alexander returning by sea to the Caribbean with her husband Twice finds their domestic harmony threatened by the emotional problems of the two young people aboard Ashore at St Jago the shipboard characters find themselves at the centre of a fast thickening plot with Friends old and new joining in against the colourful background of Carnival and sugar harvest regattas and plantation life And on land or sea is Cousin Emmie herself dominating the scene in her shapeless dresses with her voracious appetite and her uncanny ability to get at the heart of a problem

My Friend Cousin Emmie Jane Duncan, 1978-05-01 My Friend Sashie Jane Duncan, 2015-08-27 From the rail I looked down at Sashie's upturned face and the brilliant early tropical sunlight made me think of the lights upon the stage of a theatre long ago With these thoughts Janet Sandison says goodbye to the West Indian island that has been her home for many years for her husband Twice has died the great house where old Madame Dulac held court for so long is to be sold changes are coming to the island and Janet herself is setting out on a new and adventurous life That she is doing so is due in no small measure to her friend Sashie the ex RAF pilot who walks on tin legs and whose tender sensitive friendship has drawn Janet from the dark limbo of desolation into which her husband's death had plunged her The flamboyant Sashie is a brilliant and subtle character as readers of Jane Duncan's previous Friends books know and in this story of Janet's move to a new life he is revealed with all the perception and clear sightedness that make Jane Duncan so compelling a story teller

My Friends the Mrs. Millers Jane Duncan, 2015-08-27 This Paradise community doesn't seem to me to be the secure feudal friendly affair that everybody likes to think There's a change working As the turbulent island of St Jago reaches a turning point in its way of life Janet and Twice Alexander are once again deeply involved in the daily life of the community Many loved Friends reappear and now added to these are the gentle Mrs Miller from Achcraggan a link with Janet's childhood the widowed Mrs Miller in the toils of a mixed marriage and coloured Mrs Miller who becomes Twice's secretary When a double crisis occurs in her personal fortunes Janet finds a new maturity My Friend Cousin Emmie Jane

DUNCAN (pseud.), 1964 For the Love of Physics Walter Lewin, Warren Goldstein, 2011 Original publication and copyright date 2011 British Working Class women authors (born before 1962) a list Stefan Szczelkun, 2025-06-07 A collection of Wikipedia articles edited reformatted and with additions In chronological order References and sections on non literary activity are sometimes omitted hopefully not to the point of misrepresenting the author which might include feminist or political activism To my surprise the biographical material on Wikipedia was sometimes mesmerising although it was uneven Where there were gaps I have tried to fill them from other sources Refer back to the wikipedia articles for more context and references in some cases and if you have a verified source of information please update the Wikipedia article Wikipedia is published under a creative commons licence So this compilation also carries a creative commons licence

Introduction Looking through Sarah Richardson's Writing on the Line 1996 I was struck by how many of the working class women writers were from North America and how many more were poets Howard Slater had made a list of British working class male novelists and I selected British woman writers from Writing on the Line and found that most of them now have Wikipedia pages I first made a list of links Wanting to take this further I first looked to focus on novels and short story writers but this category started to break up as many writers wrote in many idioms producing fact fiction poetry plays screenwriting and journalism I decided on an arbitrary cut off point of writers born before 1962 When I first made the list I was thinking how few working class women novelists had been published in this period But then the lists of books by each author started to stack up and there's plenty to read and much that I missed even really hearing about Of course it focuses on the most successful others who produced a community published autobiography or self published novel did not get a Wikipedia page and they should really be included every life counts Others only published an autobiography perhaps in the last years of life but were extraordinary writers and people We could also discuss the genre snobbery in literary circles that puts crime young people's literature romantic and fantasy fiction and perhaps historical based narratives in a lower category than the novel Alden's Oxford Monthly Illustrated Journal , My Friends the MacLeans Jane Duncan, 2015-08-27 Janet what do you mean What has been going on between you and that bloody boy When Janet Alexander learns that young Roddy Maclean intends to defy his parents and become a writer not an engineer she readily helps him run away from St Jago Her impulsive action infuriates Rob and Marion Maclean and harsh words end a long friendship Interwoven with Janet's discovery of deeper currents under the placid surface of the Paradise estate are unrest among the plantation workers the convalescence of Twice Alexander and the advent of Madame Dulac's grandson Edward who falls more than a little in love with Janet Not until Roddy unexpectedly returns to the island does Janet come to know the truth about her friends the Macleans Companion to Scottish Literature Trevor Royle, 1983
