On the Frontlines of the Television War Yasutsune Hirashiki, 2020-01-10 The eyewitness accounts of the many phases of the war in this memoir bring events to life as if they had happened yesterday. Vietnam Veterans of America Book Reviews On the Frontlines of the Television War is the story of Yasutsune Tony Hirashiki's ten years in Vietnam beginning when he arrived in 1966 as a young freelancer with a 16mm camera but without a job or the slightest grasp of English and ending in the hectic fall of Saigon in 1975 when he was literally thrown on one of the last flights out. His memoir has all the exciting tales of peril, hardship, and close calls of the best battle memoirs, but it is primarily a story of very real and yet remarkable people: the soldiers who fought, bled, and died; and the reporters and photographers who went right to the frontlines to record their stories and memorialize their sacrifice. If this was truly the first television war, then it is time to hear the story of the cameramen who shot the pictures and the reporters who wrote the stories that the average American witnessed daily in their living rooms. An award-winning sensation when it was released in Japan in 2008, this book has been completely recreated for an international audience. Tony Hirashiki is an essential piece of the foundation on which ABC was built. Tony reported the news with his camera, and in doing so, he brought the truth about the important events of our day to millions of Americans. David Westin, former President of ABC News.

Toward a New Art of Border Crossing Ananta Kumar Giri, Arnab Roy Chowdhury, David Blake Willis, 2024-11-05

Boundaries, borders, and margins are related concepts and realities, and each of these can be conceptualized and organized in closed or open ways with degrees of closure or openness. The logics of stasis and closure, as well as cults of exclusivist and exclusionary sovereignty, are reflected and embodied in the closed, xenophobic conceptualization and organization of boundaries, borders, and margins. But an open conceptualization of the borderlands, where mixing and hybridity take place at a rapid, even dizzying pace, gives rise to Creolization at the threshold of sovereignties, which can also be imagined. At present, our border zones are spaces of anxiety-ridden security arrangements, violence, and death. The existing politics of boundary maintenance is wedded to a cult of sovereignty at various levels, which produces bare lives, bodies, and lands. We need the new art of border crossing to be defined by the notion of camaraderie and shared sovereignties and non-sovereignties. Border zones can also be zones of meetings, communication, transcendence, and festive celebration of the limits of our identities. Thus, we need a new art and politics of boundary transmutation, transformation, and transcendence in the broadest possible sense that entails the production of spatial, scalar, somatic, cognitive, affective, and spiritual transitions.
