My Personal Pet Remembrance Journal:

Pet Loss and Human Emotion, Second Edition Cheri Barton Ross, 2013-05-13 This updated edition of Pet Loss and Human Emotion is a step by step guide to leading clients through this special kind of grief. Includes resources and a section on pet loss and natural disasters. As society accepts that grieving over the death of a loved one is not only normal but healthy and necessary, grieving over the loss of a pet is often seen differently. Expressed feelings often go unvalidated when in truth pet loss is a unique form of grief that can be quite intense and debilitating, increasing an individual's vulnerability to subsequent stress and leaving them feeling isolated and misunderstood. Pet loss needs to be addressed by therapists and others in the helping professions to better enable them to help their clients through the loss of their companion animals. This unique guide is written for all professionals helping clients deal with the loss of a pet and serves as a practical introduction to the field of human animal bonding. Citing several case studies, it describes various techniques for helping clients when the bond with a pet is broken.

Pet Loss and Children Cheri Barton Ross, 2013-05-13 Explaining the concept of death to a child is a very difficult, confusing and uncomfortable experience for a parent, educator or therapist, and it is a topic that is often first introduced by the loss of a pet, sometimes a child's earliest exposure to loss and grief. There is an undeniably special bond that develops between people and their pets, especially between animals and young children, and while the death of a pet can be devastating, to an adult children are often deeply affected by such a loss. Without readily available outlets for their feelings, the trauma of pet loss can remain with a child for life, and without help, many adults feel inadequate and not up to the task. The aim of this book is to provide therapists, counselors, educators, parents, social workers, veterinarians and physicians with resources to help children cope with the loss of a pet.

Children's Encounters with Death, Bereavement, and Coping Charles Corr, David Balk, 2010-01-15 Children's Encounters with Death, Bereavement and Coping is a very well researched document and well written by an impressive cadre of scholars. The book is a must read for marriage and family therapists, clergy and pediatric care givers whose work intersects the lives of children and the social and environmental systems in which they live. NCFR's Certified Family Life Educators Newsletter features the resource that offers one of the best bibliographies and guides to resources for the book that contains theory, definitions, treatment modalities, helps, warnings, integration of people and programs, cultural diversity. When it comes to all of this, we turn to Charles A. Corr and David E. Balk, editors of Children's Encounters with Death, Bereavement and Coping. It is a book you must have on your shelf but don't let it sit there for too long without making good use of it. Illness, Crisis and Loss is current, filled with sound theory, wise clinical acumen, sound research, terrific resources and a multicultural perspective. This book will be a necessary resource for clinicians and educators. Kenneth J. Doka, PhD, Senior Consultant, The Hospice Foundation of America. Corr and Balk's book will help adults find many ways to lead bereaved children to a hopeful belief in their future despite their considerable losses. This book is a real contribution to the growing literature in this field. Nancy Boyd Webb, DSW, LICSW, RPT.

S Distinguished Professor of Social Work Emerita Fordham University Children struggling with death related issues require care and competent assistance from the adults around them This book serves as a guide for care providers including counselors social workers nurses educators clergy and parents who seek to understand and help children as they attempt to cope with loss This book comprehensively discusses death and grieving within the context of the physical emotional social behavioral spiritual and cognitive changes that children experience while coping with death The chapters also explore new critical imaginative conceptual models and interventions including expressive arts therapy resilience based approaches new psychotherapeutic approaches and more Key features Presents guidelines for assisting children coping with the loss of parents siblings friends or pets Discusses ethical issues in counseling bereaved and seriously ill children Provides guidelines for helping children manage their emerging awareness and understanding of death Emphasizes research based culturally sensitive and global implications as well as current insights in thanatology Why We Love Them So Paul A.

Animals as Guides for the Soul Susan Chernak McElroy,1999-08-31 In her New York Times bestseller Animals as Teachers and Healers Susan Chernak McElroy movingly explored the wide and enriching horizons of human relationships with animals In this new volume of reflections and true animal stories she invites us to broaden and deepen that relationship While living with her husband and animals on a farm in Oregon McElroy pondered the ancient bonds that connect humans and animals the healing gifts of animals the genius of people who talk to them and the power of animal messengers She also asked herself the tough questions that engage every true animal lover How can we soothe our anguish and guilt when a loved animal suffers or dies How do we atone for our mistakes When are animals prisoners and when are they fulfilled Is it moral to eat other beings And how can we go about transforming our relationship with animals Through daily experiences with the animals around her and those in her dreams along with compelling true stories sent to her by readers McElroy began to find answers She discovered that animals are guides in the development of our souls A frail llama teaches lessons of joy and unconditional love a barn cat proves that service need not be imprisonment but fulfillment a mortally injured hawk infuses a cancer patient with renewed strength and faith an attentive rabbit awakens an abused child from a trance of sadness and a skinny white horse does more for a damaged six year old boy in one hour than any human has done in six years In this deeply personal yet universal testament to the profound connection between animals and humans there is wisdom and blessing As the author reminds us the fingerprint of God is often a pawprint The Guide to Pet Loss Resources David Charles Anderson,2005
