Radical Christian Communities:

Radical Christian Communities Thomas P. Rausch, 2002-09-27 Throughout the centuries certain Christians chose to live out the challenges of the Gospel in communities that withdrew from the common and conventional in the world This book studies this phenomenon and focuses on a number of contemporary Christian communities lay and religious who respond to the Gospel call to discipleship in a radical way whether by being communities of peace and reconciliation of social ministry and solidarity with the poor of service to the Church or of prayer and contemplation Radical Religious Communities ,2025-06-30 The twenty first century has demonstrated that radicalism remains a vital analytical concept in the study of modern religion and politics However its application to earlier periods has been met with more ambivalence This volume challenges that trend by examining religio political subversives near the close of the Middle Ages as radical within their historical and intellectual contexts spanning several centuries and cultures with a focus on Central Europe In doing so it seeks to bridge entrenched geographical chronological and methodological divides fostering broader discussions on the comparative relevance of radicalism in pre modernity Transforming Faith Communities Michael I. Bochenski, 2013-03-14 Transforming Faith Communities argues for a model of being church that combines congregationalism with a constructive approach to church state relationships Congregationalism within a vision for a renewed Christendom is commended here as a viable option for Christian mission in the twenty first century world In making this case two movements are explored those inspired by sixteenth century Anabaptism and late twentieth century Latin American liberation theology Each movement is held up as a mirror to the other A continuing vision for the transformation of church and society emerges from this book as a number of contemporary resonances begin to sound These include an outline of some likely common features in the development of radical religious communities an examination of some of the factors that create world affirming Christian faith communities and many examples of effective and constructive engagement with church and society across the centuries

Historical Dictionary of Radical Christianity William H. Brackney,2012-05-03 There are several eras in the history of Christianity radical forms of the tradition are obvious the early church of the first five centuries the medieval era the age of reform the early modern era and the contemporary era Radical Christian activity and experience may reflect either a primary or a derived level of spirituality New converts may join a sect or movement with radical characteristics or they may become dissatisfied with their initial Christian experiences and desire a different or deeper Christian spirituality usually closely parallel to that seen in the New Testament The Historical Dictionary of Radical Christianity covers the history of this movement and includes an introductory essay and a bibliography The dictionary section has over 400 cross referenced entries The dictionary entries selected reflect the leading groups movements and sects from each major era of Christian history Especially in the contemporary period the great proliferation of radical thinkers and groups has necessitated a selection process with those selected exhibiting sustained group activity possessing an identifiable following and demonstrating a significant cultural impact This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Radical Christianity Radical, Religious, and Violent Eli Berman, 2011-09-30 Applying fresh tools from economics to explain puzzling behaviors of religious radicals Muslim Christian and Jewish violent and benign How do radical religious sects run such deadly terrorist organizations Hezbollah Hamas Lashkar e Taiba and the Taliban all began as religious groups dedicated to piety and charity Yet once they turned to violence they became horribly potent executing campaigns of terrorism deadlier than those of their secular rivals In Radical Religious and Violent Eli Berman approaches the question using the economics of organizations. He first dispels some myths radical religious terrorists are not generally motivated by the promise of rewards in the afterlife including the infamous seventy two virgins or even by religious ideas in general He argues that these terrorists even suicide terrorists are best understood as rational altruists seeking to help their own communities Yet despite the vast pool of potential recruits young altruists who feel their communities are repressed or endangered there are less than a dozen highly lethal terrorist organizations in the world capable of sustained and coordinated violence that threatens governments and makes hundreds of millions of civilians hesitate before boarding an airplane What's special about these organizations and why are most of their followers religious radicals Drawing on parallel research on radical religious Jews Christians and Muslims Berman shows that the most lethal terrorist groups have a common characteristic their leaders have found a way to control defection Hezbollah Hamas and the Taliban for example built loyalty and cohesion by means of mutual aid weeding out free riders and producing a cadre of members they could rely on The secret of their deadly effectiveness lies in their resilience and cohesion when incentives to defect are strong These insights suggest that provision of basic social services by competent governments adds a critical nonviolent component to counterterrorism strategies It undermines the violent potential of radical religious organizations without disturbing free religious practice being drawn into theological debates with Jihadists or endangering civilians Communities of Faith in Africa and the African Diaspora Casely B. Essamuah, David K. Ngaruiya, 2014-01-13 Communities of Faith is a collection of essays on the multicultural Christian spirit and practices of churches around the world with particular attention to Africa and the African diaspora The essays span history theology anthropology ecumenism and missiology Readers will be treated to fresh perspectives on African Pentecostal higher education Pentecostalism and witchcraft in East Africa Methodist camp meetings in Ghana Ghanaian diaspora missions in Europe and North America gender roles in South African Christian communities HIV AIDS ministries in Uganda Japanese funerary rites enculturation and contextualization principles of mission and many other aspects of the Christian world mission With essays from well known scholars as well as young and emerging men and women in academia Communities of Faith illuminates current realities of world Christianity and contributes to the scholarship of today s worldwide Christian witness Living in Christian Community Art Gish, 1998-09-29 This book is a description of what the church ought to be Gish purposes to deal with the concrete issues of what it really means to be a

Kuruvilla, 2013-03-27 Christianity arose from the lands of biblical Palestine and regardless of its twentieth century associations with the Arab Israeli conflict to Christians around the world it remains first and foremost the birthplace of Christianity Nevertheless the size of the Christian population among Palestinians today living in Israel and the Palestinian territories is now relatively insignificant In Radical Christianity in the Middle East Samuel I Kuruvilla argues that Christian Palestinians often emply politically astute as well as theologically radical means in their efforts to prove relevant as a minority community within Israeli and Palestinian societies Examining the political background of the gradual collapse of secular Arab Nationalism to be replaced by Islamic liberation movements he reveals a trend within the Christian Palestinian Church which saw increasing politicisation in the 1980s and 1990s In the face of often restrictive Israeli policies such as land confiscation along with the First Intifada there was a drive towards setting up inter Church and faith activism with the goal of Palestinian liberation Kuruvilla charts the development of a theology of Christian liberation in particular through the work of Palestinian Anglican cleric Naim Stifan Ateek and Palestinian Lutheran Pastor Mitri Raheb From its roots in 1960s Latin America liberation theology has been adapted and contextualised within the specific situation within Israel and Palestine to produce a framework that emphasises peace and reconciliation while recognising the importance of resistance and national unity Theology has impacted Christian perceptions of Palestinians struggle with Israel the idea of a land promised to the sons of Abraham and the moral responsibilities that come with this are pitted against Israeli oppression of both Christian and Muslim inhabitants of the Holy Land and their desire for independence and justice Through this comprehensive study of the often overlooked theological political and practical position of Christians in Palestine Kuruvilla provides a new and insightful perspective on one of the most written about conflicts Radical Religious Movements in Early Modern Europe Michael Mullett, 2023-03-08 Radical Religious Movements in Early Modern Europe 1980 examines Western European history during three crucial centuries of transition He expands the concept of Reformation to cover all the movements of religious resurgence in the fifteenth sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in Europe Social economic political literary and artistic developments are fully considered alongside more strictly religious themes Radical Christian Writings Andrew Bradstock, Christopher Rowland, 2008-04-15 This volume which fills a gap in the current literature will be essential reading for third year undergraduates and above in Biblical studies Missional Fidelity of MoveIn Micah Kim, 2023-03-06 How can the church go beyond mere social services to having an incarnational evangelistic impact on unreached urban immigrants This work explores how MoveIn a global prayer movement of regular lay Christians has become a model for how the church can authentically and radically share the gospel with unreached neighbors The Call to a Christian Community Lifestyle Trevor John Saxby, 1998 A brief illustrated outline of the history and practice of Christian community based on the experience of the Jesus Fellowship 20 pages illus Multiply Publications Transforming Faith Joshua Leonard

Daniel, 2015-09-09 In the face of apparently rampant individualism there has been a steady call for a return to community and tradition particularly in religious communities and in recent Christian theology and ethics The form of contemporary life upheld by modern ideals like freedom and universalism the story goes turns out to divide people from each other and from the communal sources of our traditionally moral values But the call to community too often confuses individualism with individuality assuming that any appeal to individuality as a value or ideal is a rejection of communal goods rather than a mode of promoting those goods What's necessary now is a recovery of the individual that understands individuality to serve community even in resistance to it In Transforming Faith Joshua Daniel offers a fresh reading of H Richard Niebuhr s theological ethics that provides an account of individuality and individual creativity as both the fruits and reformers of community What is theologically at stake in Daniel's reconstructive interpretation is the human's existentially resonant relation with God and the christological revitalization of our symbolic and virtuous activity Radical Christianity Christopher Rowland, 2004-12-09 At different times and places Christian ideas have had a radical critical role and have served as a basis for programs of social change This concise and clearly written book documents the history of radical Christianity by discussing some of the most important developments and figures from the millenarian movements of early Christianity to the liberation theology of today Christopher Rowland begins by discussing the character and transformation of early Christian ideas and the ongoing patterns of protest against the status quo Subsequent chapters deal with the legacy of the Apocalypse and with the work of Thomas Muenzer and Gerrard Winstanley A final chapter on liberation theology examines the role of religion in Latin America today where basic Christian communities have emerged as power houses of social and political reform Radical Christianity is a reading of recovery which shows that social criticism and hope for a better world are integral features of the Christian tradition. The book will be of great interest to students of religion and to anyone concerned with the role of religious ideas in past and present day societies Radical Lutherans/Lutheran Radicals Jason A. Mahn, 2017-06-09 Can a Lutheran be sociopolitically radical Can a radical be theologically and faithfully Lutheran This book answers yes Written by teacher scholars from five ELCA colleges Radical Lutherans Lutheran Radicals follows Martin Luther Soren Kierkegaard Dietrich Bonhoeffer Dorothee Soelle and others as they sink deep roots in the Lutheran Christian tradition while simultaneously resisting the status quo with their words their deeds and sometimes their very lives Each chapter shows how the Lutheran theologian returns to the roots of Luther's life and writing and puts them toward radical social and political ends including critiques of cultured Christianity resistance to state or market preferential options for the poor and suffering deep commitments to peace justice and ecological sustainability and direct nonviolent resistance The book highlights theological themes popularized by Luther justification by grace two kingdoms thinking theology of the cross and vocation and then shows how these theological staples when deeply and creatively retrieved can inform political protest intentional living and other countercultural movements The compelling claim throughout is that Luther s theology at its root has resources for radical political participation and social transformation as exemplified by the writings and lives of these radical Lutherans Lutheran radicals Hospitality and Community After Christendom Andrew Francis, 2012-09-01 This book aims to show how nurturing hospitality in the discipleship community leads to growth It seeks to re examine the challenge biblically and in radical Christian movements presented by the pre Christendom church in its patterns of hospitality and community to so re work these to be more effective in mission personally and corporately after Christendom The book re examines Jesus intentions the wider biblical material and congregational practices of sharing Communion as well as drawing on radical church history to demonstrate that despite increasing marginalization hospitality and community are essential to the church's nature well being and mission It goes on to use many practical examples as well as leadership strategies to enable congregations to restore hospitality and community to its necessary place It also provides an accessible theology as well as some original liturgies to underpin Christian life as we move forward after Christendom
