Radio Pluralism In West Africa A Survey Conducted By The Panos Institute Paris:

Muslims and New Media in West Africa Dorothea E. Schulz, 2012 Although Islam is not new to West Africa new patterns of domestic economies the promise of political liberalization and the proliferation of new media have led to increased scrutiny of Islam in the public sphere Dorothea E Schulz shows how new media have created religious communities that are far more publicly engaged than they were in the past Muslims and New Media in West Africa expands ideas about religious life in West Africa women's roles in religion religion and popular culture the meaning of religious experience in a charged environment and how those who consume both religion and new media view their public and private selves

Negotiating Democracy Isaac A. Blankson, Patrick Murphy, 2012-02-01 Negotiating Democracy addresses issues that have defined the challenges and consequences of media transformation faced by new and emerging democracies These issues include the dismantling of national broadcasting systems the promotion of private independent and pluralistic media the clash between liberal democratic and authoritarian political traditions negotiations about the appropriate broadcast language and the potential for free press and for freedom of speech The contributors use examples from countries such as Cambodia Bulgaria Iran Nigeria and Taiwan to not only provide detailed analysis of regional and or nation specific cases of media but also to identify transnational patterns that help deepen the understanding of the media's role in globalization

African Broadcast Cultures Richard Fardon, Graham Furniss, 2000 Radio has played a pivotal role in situations of conflict crisis change and development on the African continent Local radio stations are as important as international broadcasters being both the barometers and agents of change North America Praeger

Africa Toyin Falola, Daniel Jean-Jacques, 2015-12-14 These volumes offer a one stop resource for researching the lives customs and cultures of Africa's nations and peoples Unparalleled in its coverage of contemporary customs in all of Africa this multivolume set is perfect for both high school and public library shelves The three volume encyclopedia will provide readers with an overview of contemporary customs and life in North Africa and sub Saharan Africa through discussions of key concepts and topics that touch everyday life among the nations peoples While this encyclopedia places emphasis on the customs and cultural practices of each state history politics and economics are also addressed Because entries average 14 000 to 15 000 words each contributors are able to expound more extensively on each country than in similar encyclopedic works with shorter entries As a result readers will gain a more complete understanding of what life is like in Africa's 54 nations and territories and will be better able to draw cross cultural comparisons based on their reading

The Media of Conflict Tim Allen, Jean Seaton, 1999-03 This book demonstrates how international media coverage of contemporary wars often encourages serious misunderstandings of complex situations The shortage of information and the reporting only of those events easily understood by western audiences compounds misconceptions The contributors are concerned with getting behind ethnic categorizations and examining how they have been constructed from the perspective that ethnicity is essentially a negotiated and relational phenomenon not something static primordial or natural Culture and Customs of Mali Dorothea E. Schulz Ph.D., 2012-01-06 Touching on everything from its rich musical heritage to its varied cultural traditions this is a thorough and accessible introduction to the contemporary lives of the different peoples who call Mali their home Rated among the world's ten poorest nations Mali has a glorious past and a less certain present Culture and Customs of Mali touches on the first as background for understanding the second exploring multiple facets of contemporary social life and cultural practices in this landlocked West African nation The book offers an overview of diverse aspects of everyday social cultural and religious life in Mali paying particular attention to regional and ethnic variations It shows how current social conventions and cultural values are the product of a centuries long history while at the same time dispels the common perception that African societies are rooted in unchanging tradition Readers will come away with a better understanding of the multiple ways in which Malians starting from their own customs and cultural foundations integrate themselves into an international economic order and a globalized world of shared media images and cultural practices

Tiger in an African palace, and other thoughts about identification and transformation Richard Fardon, 2014-06-13 Tiger in an African palace collects eight essays about kinship and belonging that Richard Fardon wrote to complement his monographs on West Africa The essays extend those book length descriptions by pursuing their wider implications for theory in social anthropology exploring the relationship between comparison and historical reconstruction and questioning the fit between personal ethnic and cosmopolitan identities in contemporary West African nations In an Introduction written specially for this Langa collection Richard Fardon retraces the career long development of his preoccupation with concepts of identification and transformation and their relevance to understanding West African societies comparatively and historically Hard Work, Hard Times Anne-Maria Makhulu, Beth A.
