Imaging of the Newborn, Infant, and Young Child Leonard E. Swischuk, 1997-06-01 Radiological Imaging of the Neonatal Chest V. Donoghue, 2013-06-29 As outlined by Dr V Donoghue in her preface recent advances in the therapeutic management of neonates with low gestational age have resulted in a significantly higher survival rate and better outcome for these newborns Lung and heart malformations or acquired diseases represent a major part of the life threatening conditions in this group of critically ill patients and radiological imaging is one of the main tools to define the appropriate therapeutic approach This book not only provides an excellent update on the embryological and anatomical aspects of neonatal chest conditions but also offers a unique and comprehensive overview of our current knowledge and of recent progress in imaging techniques of the neonatal chest Dr Donoghue has been successful in engaging a number of outstandingly qualified international experts to contribute to this work and I would like to congratulate her on the excellent coordination and editing of this book I am confident that this outstanding volume will meet with great interest not only from general as well as specialised paediatric radiologists but also from neonatologists and paediatricians I hope it will enjoy the same success as many previous volumes in this series Leuven ALBERT 1 BAERT Preface In the past two decades there have been extraordinary advances in the treatment of critically ill neonates resulting in improvements in their survival and a significant decrease in morbidity Infants of very low gestational ages are now surviving

A Practical Guide to the Evaluation of Child Physical Abuse and Neglect Angelo P.

Giardino, Michelle A. Lyn, Eileen R. Giardino, 2010-06-09 As we near the 50th anniversary of the landmark article by C Henry Kempe and his colleagues entitled The Battered Child Syndrome which ushered in the modern era of professional attention by pediatricians and other child health professionals we have reason for both celebration and concern We can take heart that over the recent decades a great deal of professional attention focused on the problem of child abuse and neglect In every state of the country there are mandatory reporting laws that require nurses physicians and social workers to report suspicions of maltreatment to the appropriate authorities for investigation The act of reporting provides legal immunity to the reporter except when performed in bad faith Progress in understanding the factors that place children at risk for harm from physical abuse and neglect now permits prevention and intervention The peer reviewed literature dealing with child abuse and neglect has proliferated with high quality work being done and reported on the many dimensions related to the epidemiology mechanism treatment and prognosis of child maltreatment Efforts are being directed toward developing an evidence based approach to the prevention of child abuse and neglect These are some of the positives However negatives exist and remain reasons for concern Despite a tremendous amount of attention to the problem of maltreatment there are at least 3 million reports of suspected child abuse and neglect made annually with nearly 1 million cases being substantiated
