Sterling,Cary O'Dell,2010-04-12 The average American listens to the radio three hours a day In light of recent technological developments such as internet radio some argue that the medium is facing a crisis while others claim we are at the dawn of a new radio revolution The Concise Encyclopedia of American Radio is an essential single volume reference guide to this vital and evolving medium It brings together the best and most important entries from the three volume Museum of Broadcast Communications Encyclopedia of Radio edited by Christopher Sterling Comprised of more than 300 entries spanning the invention of radio to the Internet The Concise Encyclopedia of American Radio addresses personalities music genres regulations technology programming and stations the golden age of radio and other topics relating to radio broadcasting throughout its history The entries are updated throughout and the volume includes nine new entries on topics ranging from podcasting to the decline of radio The Concise Encyclopedia of American Radio include suggestions for further reading as complements to most of the articles biographical details for all person entries production credits for programs and a comprehensive index Off the Main Sequence Tom Easton,2006-10-01 Tom Easton has served as the monthly book review columnist for Analog Science Fiction for almost three decades having contributed during that span many hundreds of columns and over a million words of penetrating criticism on the best literature that science fiction has to offer His reviews

Shadow of a Doubt Diane Negra, 2021-04-15 Shadow of a Doubt 1943 was British born Alfred Hitchcock's sixth American film and the one that he at various times identified as his favourite and his best It seems likely that one of the reasons he liked Shadow so much is that is an extraordinarily well ordered narrative system a meticulous cause and effect chain that melds its various scenes and sequences together to form a unified narrative that is highly effective in building suspense and cultivating identification with characters This scrupulously organized film operates as a masterclass on principles of narrative design while generating resonant commentary on the nature of family life This book redresses the deficit of sustained critical attention paid to Shadow even in the large corpus of Hitchcock scholarship Analysing the film's narrative system issues of genre authorship social history homesickness and family values Diane Negra shows how the film's impeccable narrative structure is wedded to radical ideological content linking the film's terrors to the punishing effects of looking beyond conventional family and gender roles This book understands Shadow as an unconventionally female centred Hitchcock text and a milestone film that marks the director's emergent engagement with the pathologies of violence in American life and opens a window into the placement of femininity in World War II consensus culture and more broadly into the politics of mid century gender and family life

King Arthur and Robin Hood on the Radio Katherine Barnes Echols,2017-08-23 Before stories of King Arthur and Robin Hood were adapted and readapted for film television and theater radio scriptwriters looking for material turned to Thomas Malory's Le Morte Darthur 1485 and Howard Pyle's The Merry Adventures of Robin Hood 1883 Throughout the 1930s to the mid 1950s their legends inspired storylines for Abbott and Costello Popeye Let's Pretend Escape Gunsmoke The Adventures of Superman and others Many of these adaptations reflect the moral and ethical questions of the day as characters faced issues of gender relations divorce citizenship fascism crime and communism in a medieval setting

From Radio to the Big Screen Hal Erickson,2014-06-11 There was a time when American popular entertainment referred only to radio and motion pictures With the coming of talking pictures Hollywood cashed in on the success of big time network radio by bringing several of the public's favorite broadcast personalities and programs to the screen The results though occasionally successful often proved conclusively that some things are better heard than seen Concentrating primarily on radio's Golden Age 1926-1962 this lively history discusses the cinematic efforts of airwave stars Rudy Vallee Amos n Andy Fred Allen Joe Penner Fibber McGee Molly Edgar Bergen Lum Abner and many more Also analyzed are the movie versions of such radio series as The Shadow Dr Christian and The Life of Riley In addition two recent films starring contemporary radio headliners Howard Stern and Garrison Keillor are given their due
