Making Art With Generative AI Tools Hai-Jew, Shalin, 2024-04-01 In the dynamic realm of generative artificial Intelligence AI the fusion of human creativity and machine intelligence has created a vibrant ecosystem of collaborative artmaking However this transformative process brings forth a myriad of concerns ranging from ethical considerations and the need for originality to navigating the legal complexities surrounding intellectual property As more and more online communities appear around the use of AI to aid in the creation of images there arises a pressing need for a comprehensive guide that not only dissects the intricacies of artmaking with generative AI tools but also offers practical solutions to the evolving dilemmas faced by artists researchers and technologists Making Art With Generative AI Tools emerges as an exploration of the challenges posed by this intersection of human expression and artificial intelligence Artists engaging with generative AI find themselves grappling with issues of authenticity social toxicity and the commercial viability of their creations From avoiding stereotypical visuals to ensuring proper crediting the realm of generative AI is rife with these complexities Furthermore the blurred lines between human and machine authorship necessitate a deeper exploration of how these innovative tools impact creativity representation and the very fabric of the art world The Art of Classic Planning Nir Haim Buras, 2020-01-28 An accomplished architect and urbanist goes back to the roots of what makes cities attractive and livable demonstrating how we can restore function and beauty to our urban spaces for the long term Nearly everything we treasure in the world s most beautiful cities was built over a century ago Cities like Prague Paris and Lisbon draw millions of visitors from around the world because of their exquisite architecture walkable neighborhoods and human scale Yet a great deal of the knowledge and practice behind successful city planning has been abandoned over the last hundred years not because of traffic population growth or other practical hurdles but because of ill considered theories emerging from Modernism and reactions to it The errors of urban design over the last century are too great not to question The solutions being offered today sustainability walkability smart and green technologies hint at what has been lost and what may be regained but they remain piecemeal and superficial In The Art of Classic Planning architect and planner Nir Haim Buras documents and extends the time tested and holistic practices that held sway before the reign of Modernism With hundreds of full color illustrations and photographs that will captivate architects planners administrators and developers The Art of Classic Planning restores and revitalizes the foundations of urban planning Inspired by venerable cities like Kyoto Vienna and Venice and by the great successes of L Enfant s Washington Haussmann s Paris and Burnham s Chicago Buras combines theory and a host of examples to arrive at clear guidelines for best practices in classic planning for today's world. The Art of Classic Planning celebrates the enduring principles of urban design and invites us to return to building beautiful cities.

The Social Fabric of Fifteenth-Century Florence Alessia Meneghin, 2019-10-02. The Arte dei rigattieri (merchants of second-hand goods) in Florence has never been the subject of a systematic study, even in scholarship devoted to the history of trades. Underpinned by a large collection of archival material, this book analyzes the social life and economic activity of rigattieri in fifteenth-century Florence. It offers invaluable information on issues such as the relationship between socio-political affiliations and economic interest, as well as the structures of consumption and the spending power of different social groups. Furthermore, through the lens of the Arte dei Rigattieri, this work examines the connection between the development of the political bureaucracy, the establishment of Medicean power, and contemporaneous processes of identity construction and social mobility.

Fabric Art Sukla Das, 1992. Of all the Indian handicrafts, textiles form a class by themselves over which the rest of the world went into ecstasies from time immemorial. With an enormous store of myths, symbols, imagery, and inspiration from other art forms, Indian textile craft never faced a slump or stagnation. On the other hand, it transcended from a craft identity to the status of an art with shades of classicism, folk tradition, and regional flavour. The rich and unrivalled fabrics of India have rightly been called exquisite poetry in colour. Indian fabric art can be classified into three broad categories: woven, painted, or printed and embroidered. Within this broad outline, the present study pinpoints the historical background of some representative forms, each unique in its distinctiveness. A search for any linkage with allied art forms, as well as their socio-cultural significance, also provides a new perspective. Though apparently widely dispersed in contents, they form a composite tapestry of Indian fabric art tradition and call for more scrutiny before our precious heirlooms are totally submerged in the tide of the synthetic era. The book is enriched by illustrations of rare specimens of historical art fabrics collected from different museums in the country. Coupled with extensive references, this volume spotlights a new facet of Indian art heritage which will fascinate both the social scientists as well as the connoisseurs of Indian art and culture.

Performing Memory in Art and Popular Culture Liedeke Plate, Anneke Smelik, 2013. This volume pursues a new line of research in cultural memory studies by understanding memory as a performative act in art and popular culture. The authors take their cue from the observation that art and popular culture enact memory and generate processes of memory. They do memory and in this doing of memory, new questions about the cultural dimensions of memory arise. How do art objects and artistic practices perform the past in the present? What is their relationship to the archive? Does the past speak in the performed past, or do we speak to it? To what purpose do objects recall? And for whom do they recollect? Here, authors combine a methodological focus on memory as performance with a theoretical focus on art and popular culture as practices of remembrance. The essays in the book thus analyze what is at stake in the complex processes of remembering and forgetting, of recollecting and disremembering of
