Seven Stories Of Modern Japan:

Modern Japanese Short Stories Ivan Morris, 2019-07-16 Modern Japanese Short Stories is a remarkable collection of Japanese stories from the pioneers of contemporary Japanese literature. This volume's twenty-five stories by as many authors display a wide range of style and subject matter, offering a revealing picture of modern Japanese culture and society. The stories in this anthology include 'Tattoo' by Junichiro Tanizaki, a large spider tattooed on the back of a young woman results in unexpected changes; 'Autumn Mountain' by Ryunosuke Akutagawa, vivid memories of a beautiful painting leads a man to wonder if it ever actually existed; 'The Priest and His Love' by Yukio Mishima, a Buddhist priest finds his path to enlightenment challenged after falling in love; 'The Moon on the Water' by Nobel Prize winner Yasunari Kawabata, a young woman who cared for her ailing first husband through most of their marriage regrets remarrying after his death. Featuring a new foreword by Japanese literary scholar Seiji Lippit and striking woodcut illustrations by Masakazu Kuwata, the stories are translated by the editor Ivan Morris and Edward Seidensticker. George Saito and Geoffery Sargent. This collection of short stories shows why Japanese literature is so highly valued today: it teaches not only about Japan but about the human condition and the possibilities of art.

Seven Stories of Modern Japan Leith Morton, 1991 The short stories of this collection deal with the lives of ordinary people in the context of the changes in Japanese society during the early years of rapid industrialization and later during the Pacific War and its aftermath.

Negotiating Censorship in Modern Japan Rachael Hutchinson, 2013-08-21 Censorship in Japan has seen many changes over the last 150 years and each successive system of rule has possessed its own censorship laws, regulations, and methods of enforcement. Yet what has remained constant through these many upheavals has been the process of negotiation between censor and artist that can be seen across the cultural media of modern society. By exploring censorship in a number of different Japanese art forms from popular music and kabuki performance through to fiction, poetry, and film across a range of historical periods, this book provides a striking picture of the pervasiveness and strength of Japanese censorship across a range of media. The similar tactics used by artists of different media to negotiate censorship boundaries and how censors from different systems and time periods face many of the same problems and questions in their work. The essays in this collection highlight the complexities of the censorship process by investigating the responsibilities and choices of all four groups: artists, censors, audience, and ideologues in a wide range of case studies. The contributors shift the focus away from top-down suppression towards the more complex negotiations involved in the many stages of an artistic work, all of which involve movement within boundaries as well as testing of those boundaries on the part of both artist and censor. Taken together, the essays in this book demonstrate that censorship at every stage involves an act of human judgment in a context determined by political, economic, and ideological factors. This book and its case studies provide a fascinating insight into the dynamics of censorship and how these operate on both people and texts. As such, it will be of great interest to students and scholars interested in Japanese that through close readings these works can reveal fundamental beliefs about suicide and just as crucially about acts of writing These are not scripts set in stone but graven images and words nonetheless that serve to mourn the dead straddling two impulses to put the dead to rest and to keep them alive forever These words reach out to us to initiate a dialogue with the dead one that can reveal why it matters to write into and from the void
