Sex and Borders Leslie Ann Jeffrey, 2002 The King and the Making of Modern Thailand Antonio Rappa, 2017-04-21

The making of modern Thailand is grounded in specific political institutions Brahmanical tropes and sacred Buddhist traditions stylized with Hindu rituals Over and above these mysterious practices and ancient customs modern Thailand is a product of the late Great Rama IX Bhumibol Adulyadej Most Thai people have only known one King Born in Europe and educated during World War II Bhumibol was the son of a Harvard medical doctor who had a penchant for jazz music and fast cars When he returned to Thailand in 1951 to assume his royal duties he could hardly speak Thai but his French and German were remarkable Bhumibol had inherited an impoverished country with nothing but a symbolic role as a figurehead monarch He was surrounded by envious courtiers and royals from other families now sidelined by the rise of the Chakri Scheming generals and authoritarian field marshals were emptying the Kingdom's coffers Using guile and wit Bhumibol had turned the tide by 1973 He became the most powerful modern warlord in the history of the Kingdom He survived attempted murder crafty politicians corrupt generals sycophantic courtiers and impoverished masses When he died on October 13 2016 Bhumibol was already the longest standing monarch in the world King Bhumibol was deeply respected and well liked by farang and locals alike Despite his massive social and economic achievements many problems continue to plague the Kingdom These are prostitution human rights issues pollution corruption cronyism in Chinese businesses border conflicts with Cambodia and the refugee problem This book examines the role of Rama IX and the variegated set of problems that persist in life under the great white elephant and mango trees Rappa draws from his primary research that includes interviews surveys and first hand observations of a remarkable kingdom and a uniquely remarkable king to reveal the internal security threats to democracy and civil society in the oldest Southeast Asian kingdom in late modernity

Reclaiming Canadian Bodies Lynda Mannik, Karen McGarry, 2015-02-27 The central focus of Reclaiming Canadian Bodies is the relationship between visual media the construction of Canadian national identity and notions of embodiment It asks how particular representations of bodies are constructed and performed within the context of visual and discursive mediated content The book emphasizes the ways individuals destabilize national mainstream visual tropes which in turn have the potential to destabilize nationalist messages Drawing upon rich empirical research and relevant theory the contributors ask how and why particular bodies of Estonian immigrants sports stars First Nations peoples self identified homosexuals and women are either promoted and upheld as Canadian bodies while others are marginalized in or excluded from media representations Essays are grouped into three sections Embodied Ideals The Embodiment of Others and Embodied Activism and Advocacy Written in an accessible style for a broad audience of scholars and students this volume is original within the field of visual media affect theory and embodiment due to its emphasis on detailed empirical and in some cases ethnographic research within a Canadian context Brokered Subjects Elizabeth Bernstein, 2019-01-01 Brokered Subjects digs deep into the accepted narratives of sex trafficking to reveal the troubling assumptions that have shaped both right and left wing agendas around sexual violence Drawing on years of in depth fieldwork Elizabeth Bernstein sheds light not only on trafficking but also on the broader structures that meld the ostensible pursuit of liberation with contemporary techniques of power Rather than any meaningful commitment to the safety of sex workers Bernstein argues what lies behind our current vision of trafficking victims is a transnational mix of putatively humanitarian militaristic interventions feel good capitalism and what she terms carceral feminism a feminism compatible with police batons

Women and Sex Tourism Landscapes Erin Sanders-McDonagh,2016-08-12

Sexual spaces normally inhabited by mostly female sex workers are understood as masculine spaces and positioned for and around male consumers However red light zones and public sex performances in both Thailand and Holland are being explored and visually consumed by female tourists in significant numbers Their presence in red light districts and sexual venues is at odds with the ways in which sexual spaces have normally been positioned Woman and Sex Tourism Landscapes explores female tourists interactions with highly sexualized spaces and places in two very different contexts the Netherlands and Thailand Addressing this incongruence this text explores the ways in which these spaces are constructed and examines the different relations that govern the management of and female tourist interactions with these liminal sexual zones Ethnographic data collected in both countries suggests that far from being male centred spaces the red light districts and associated sexual entertainment venues are very much open to female tourists Drawing on this research the author argues that some women are indeed interested in exploring sexualized zones challenging assumptions about women s involvements with sexual space Thinking specifically about the visual nature of women s sexualized experiences the analysis draws on a range of different theoretical understandings that address power privilege and the gaze An important contribution to a range of debates this book will appeal to students and researchers in tourism geography sociology gender studies and cultural theory

Power Sarah Kovner, 2012-02-08 The year was 1945 Hundreds of thousands of Allied troops poured into war torn Japan and spread throughout the country The effect of this influx on the local population did not lessen in the years following the war's end In fact the presence of foreign servicemen also heightened the visibility of certain others particularly panpan streetwalkers who were objects of their desire Occupying Power shows how intimate histories and international relations are interconnected in ways scholars have only begun to explore Sex workers who catered to servicemen were integral to the postwar economic recovery yet they were nonetheless blamed for increases in venereal disease and charged with diluting the Japanese race by producing mixed race offspring In 1956 Japan passed its first national law against prostitution which produced an unanticipated effect By ending a centuries old tradition of sex work regulation it made sex workers less visible and more vulnerable This probing history reveals an important but underexplored aspect of the Japanese occupation and its effect on gender and society It shifts the terms of debate on a number of controversies including Japan's history of forced sexual slavery rape accusations against U S servicemen opposition to U S overseas bases and sexual trafficking
