half of the twentieth century Sheila has suffered from various forms of severe neuralgic pain but has managed to maintain an active life playing tennis until she had turned seventy and then enjoying a weekly Keep Fit class She is an avid reader when time permits and loves her garden She used to enjoy cooking but finds this less satisfying since her husband's death in 2007 She enjoys doing jigsaw puzzles when time permits but her writing has taken up all her spare time in recent years The constant pain she suffers made worse when sitting down and also her acute sensitivity to loud noise now limit her involvement in many social activities Sheila wrote her first book in her maiden name of Brook as a tribute to her late parents Her mother features with affection in her second book As she continued her story she appreciated how much anxiety and sorrow her father had suffered and how mental illness had deprived her mother of her home her family and her freedom

Annual Report Tasmania. Dept. of Agriculture, 1902 Scenes of Childhood Sylvia Townsend Warner, 2011-05-19 In the course of her brilliant career Sylvia Townsend Warner wrote superbly in many and diverse forms but never penned a memoir properly speaking However from the 1930s to the 1970s she did contribute a series of short reminiscences to the New Yorker Scenes of Childhood collects and orders those reminiscences thus forming a volume that reads as a joyous wry and moving testament to the experience of being alive The collection evokes a recognisably English world of nannies butlers pet podles public schools good works and country churches but the resonances of these stories are universal funny and touching by turns
