Parrish,2015-06-30 Excerpt from My Lady of the North The Love Story of a Gray Jacket It was a bare plain interior the low table at which he sat an unplanned board his seat a box made softer by a folded blanket His only companions were two aides standing silent beside the closed entrance anxious to anticipate his slightest need He will abide in my memory forever as I saw him then although we were destined to meet often afterwards that old gray hero whose masterly strategy held at bay for so long those mighty forces hurled on our constantly thinning lines of defence To me the history of war has never contained his equal and while I live I shall love and revere him as I can love and revere no other man General Lee said one of the aides as I passed the single sentry and drew aside the flap to step within this is Captain Wayne About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
