Writing the Polish American Woman in Postwar Ethnic Fiction Grażyna J. Kozaczka, 2019-02-26 Though often unnoticed by scholars of literature and history Polish American women have for decades been fighting back against the patriarchy they encountered in America and the patriarchy that followed them from Poland Through close readings of several Polish American and Polish Canadian novels and short stories published over the last seven decades Writing the Polish American Woman in Postwar Ethnic Fiction traces the evolution of this struggle and women's efforts to construct gendered and classed ethnicity Focusing predominantly on work by North American born and immigrant authors that represents the Polish American Catholic tradition Grażyna J. Kozaczka puts texts in conversation with other American ethnic literatures She positions ethnic gender construction and performance at an intersection of social class, race and sex She explores the marginalization of ethnic female characters in terms of migration studies theories of whiteness and the history of feminist discourse Writing the Polish American Woman in Postwar Ethnic Fiction tells the complex story of how Polish American women writers have shown a strong awareness of their oppression and sought empowerment through resistive and transgressive behaviors The Exile Mission Anna D. Jaroszyńska-Kirchmann, 2004 Considering the two distinct Polish immigrant groups after World War II the Polish American descendants of pre war economic migrants and Polish refugees fleeing communism this study explores the uneasy challenge to reconcile concepts of responsibility toward their homeland

Polish Americans Dale Anderson, 2006-12-15 Describes why many Polish immigrated to the United States and how they adapted to their new environment Sons of the White Eagle in the American Civil War Mark F. Bielski, 2016-04-19 The untold stories of nine Polish Americans who bravely fought in the Civil War includes photographs, maps and illustrations This unique history chronicles the lives of nine Polish American immigrants who fought in the Civil War Spanning three generations they are connected by the White Eagle the Polish coat of arms and by a shared history in which their home country fell to ruin at the end of the previous century Still each carried a belief in freedom that they inherited from their forefathers More highly trained in warfare than their American brethren and more inured to struggles for nationhood the Poles made significant contributions to the armies they served The first group had fought in the 1830 war for freedom from the Russian Empire The European revolutionary struggles of the 1840s molded the next generation The two youngest came of age just as the Civil War began entering military service as enlisted men and finishing as officers Of the group four sided with the North and four with the South and the ninth began in the Confederate cavalry and finished fighting for the Union side Whether for the North or the South they fought for their ideals in America's greatest conflict Nominated for the Gilder Lehrman Prize

Carole Landis Eric Gans, 2010-01-06 Despite appearing in twenty eight movies in little over a decade Carole Landis 1919-1948 never quite became the major Hollywood star her onscreen presence should have afforded her Although she acted in such enduring films as A Scandal in Paris and Moon over Miami she was most often relegated to supporting roles Even when she played the major role in a feature as she did in The Powers Girl and the film noir Wake Up Screaming she was billed second or third behind other actors This biography traces Landis's life chronicling her beginnings as a dance hall entertainer in San Francisco her career in Hollywood and abroad her USO performances and ultimately her suicide Using interviews with actors who worked with Landis contemporary movie magazines and journals and correspondence biographer Eric Gans reveals a tragic figure whose life was all too brief Landis's big break came in 1940 with Hal Roach's One Million B.C. She appeared in thirteen Twentieth Century Fox pictures between 1941 and 1946 In 1942-1943 Landis entertained troops in England and North Africa in the only all female USO tour The trip led to her memoir Four Jills in a Jeep and a Fox movie of the same title After her last American film in 1947 she completed two projects in England while having an affair with married actor Rex Harrison Tormented by a love that could not lead to matrimony and depressed about growing older she took a fatal drug overdose on July 5, 1948
