Lords of the Desert James Barr, 2018-09-11 A path breaking history of how the United States superseded Great Britain as the preeminent power in the Middle East with urgent lessons for the present day We usually assume that Arab nationalism brought about the end of the British Empire in the Middle East that Gamal Abdel Nasser and other Arab leaders led popular uprisings against colonial rule that forced the overstretched British from the region In Lords of the Desert historian James Barr draws on newly declassified archives to argue instead that the US was the driving force behind the British exit Though the two nations were allies they found themselves at odds over just about every question from who owned Saudi Arabia's oil to who should control the Suez Canal Encouraging and exploiting widespread opposition to the British the US intrigued its way to power ultimately becoming as resented as the British had been As Barr shows it is impossible to understand the region today without first grappling with this little known prehistory

Pain Marni Jackson, 2012-03-01 Why is pain so poorly understood Why do we still distinguish between mental pain and physical pain when pain is always an emotional experience How can it be that science is about to clone a human being but still can't cure the pain of a bad back If pain is the reason why most people visit the doctor why are most doctors so bad at addressing the problem of suffering Marni Jackson's PAIN THE FIFTH VITAL SIGN is a witty personal and groundbreaking inquiry into the nature treatment and definition of human pain one of the most misunderstood and elusive subjects to challenge humankind In the questing and narrative manner of Oliver Sacks Jackson takes us back into the history of pain and forward into the possibilities of pain genetics Jackson brings us stories both of people in pain and the pain pioneers eccentrics and artists wrestlers and writers psychologists and philosophers nurses and doctors Above all Pain makes an elusive subject vivid and readable We all know what pain is Now Marni Jackson has given it a voice

The Bookbinder Jackie K. Cooper, 2006 It has been said that no man is an island We are all bound together by shared beliefs and shared experiences As we go through life we find that we are not as unique as we once thought We have much in common with the person who lives down the street as well as the ones who live across the globe Lives are not lived in vacuums but rather in interactive communities This world of binding is what gives life its richness The stories in this book will reach inside the reader s heart and soul to strike a common chord In lucid memorable prose Cooper offers remembrances reflections and experiences that can be shared by readers of all ages

British Policy in Aden and the Protectorates 1955-67 Spencer Mawby, 2006-05-18 This is the first detailed account of the confrontation between Britain and President Nasser of Egypt over the Colony of Aden and the surrounding protected states prior to British withdrawal in 1967 Paying particular attention to the conflicting goals of Arab nationalism and British imperialism it is argued that Britain s motivation for this campaign was not solely material but was partly derived from a determination to contain Nasser s influence and to guarantee a continuation of Britain s role in influencing the politics of the Arabian peninsula Mawby argues that a significant problem for the British was the decision to undertake a new imperial adventure in Aden at a time when British economic and military power was on the wane whilst support for the nationalist struggles in the Middle East and the United Nations was increasing He goes on to suggest that British policy and the conduct of military campaigns facilitated the emergence of a radical brand of Arab politics in southwest Arabia By demonstrating the manner in which the rise and fall of British imperialism was telescoped into a short period in the late 1950s and early 1960s this volume provides an important insight into the unique and unacknowledged place of Aden in the history of British decolonization
