Pacific Jewellery And Adornment:

Pacific Jewelry and Adornment Roger Neich, Fuli Pereira, 2004-08-31 This magnificent book showcases more than 250 of the finest examples of traditional jewelry from the Pacific. Myriad designs and materials including jade, whale teeth and bone, shark teeth, tapa shells and plant fibers are woven together in a skillful combination of color and craftsmanship. Apart from their beauty, these personal items also convey information about power status and community. Their significance, the ceremonies in which they are worn and the messages they convey are explored in an illuminating introductory essay. Drawing on the extensive collections of the Auckland Museum, the jewelry shown here represents a vast geographical area: Micronesia, Papua New Guinea, Vanuatu, Fiji, Samoa, Tonga, Hawaii, Niue, the Marquesas, the Cook Islands and New Zealand. The amazing variety of styles and materials reflects the lifestyles, preoccupations and imperatives of a people surrounded by the largest ocean on the planet.

Pacific Jewellery and Adornment Roger Neich, 2004. The Auckland Museum has extensive collections of the traditional personal ornaments of the peoples of the South Pacific, including Melanesia and Micronesia. They display a huge variety of styles and materials used, yet all reflect the lifestyles, preoccupations and imperatives of a people surrounded by thousands of square miles of ocean.

The Pacific Arts of Polynesia and Micronesia Adrienne L. Kaeppler, 2008-03-27. The Pacific Ocean covers one third of the earth's surface. Comprising thousands of islands and hundreds of cultural groups, Polynesia and Micronesia cover a large part of this vast ocean, from the dramatic mountains of Hawaii to the small flat coral islands of Kiribati. Including both traditional and contemporary arts, this book introduces the rich artistic traditions of these two regions, traditions that have had a considerable impact on western art in the twentieth century through the influence of artists such as Gauguin. Instead of looking at Polynesia and Micronesia separately, the book focuses on the artistic types, styles and concepts that they share, placing each in its wider cultural context. From the textiles of Tonga to the canoes of Tahiti, Adrienne Kaeppler looks at religious and sacred rituals and objects, carving, architecture, tattooing, personal ornaments, basket making, clothing, textiles, fashion, the oral arts, dance, music and musical instruments, even canoe construction, to provide the ultimate introduction to the rich and vibrant artistic cultures of the Polynesian and Micronesian islands.

Stewart, Beth Carver Wees, 2018-11-02. p1. margin 0 0px 0 0px 0 0px. font 14 0px Verdana. As an art form, jewelry is defined primarily through its connection to and interaction with the body: extending it, amplifying it, accentuating it, distorting it, concealing it or transforming it. Addressing six different modes of the body: Adorned, Divine, Regal, Transcendent, Alluring and Resplendent, this artfully designed catalogue illustrates how these various definitions of the body give meaning to the jewelry that adorns and enhances it. Essays on topics spanning a wide range of times and cultures establish how jewelry was used as a symbol of power, status and identity, from earflares of warrior heroes in Pre-Columbian Peru to bowknot earrings designed by Yves Saint Laurent. These most intimate works of art provide insight into the wearers but also into the cultures that produced them More than 200 jewels and ornaments alongside paintings and sculptures of bejeweled bodies demonstrate the social political and aesthetic role of jewelry from ancient times to the present Gorgeous new illustrations of Bronze Age spirals Egyptian broad collars Hellenistic gold armbands Japanese courtesan hair adornments jewels from Mughal India and many many more explore the various facets of jewelry and its relationship to the human body over 5 000 years of world history Ethnic Jewellery from Indonesia Bruce W.

Carpenter,2011 Ethnic Jewellery from Indonesia Continuity Creativity and Evolution is a compelling introduction to the little known visual power and beauty of the body adornments used by the myriad peoples of Indonesia s outer islands including Sumatra Borneo Sulawesi Sumba and Maluku Illustrated with more than 500 rare pieces that have been accumulated since the 1970s by collector Manfred Giehmann the book explores the depth and breadth of an ancient and magnificent tradition revealing the fruits of careful documentation that has taken place over a period of decades It will provide information on the origin meaning and purpose of the jewellery items as well as unique insights into the people who crafted and wore the jewellery for ritual or ceremonial functions Ethnic Jewellery Continuity Creativity and Evolution is a definitive work on the subject and a testimony to the greatness of a fast disappearing Indonesian tradition Tortoiseshell Maggie Campbell Pedersen,2021-02-22 Tortoiseshell derived from marine turtles has been used in decorative work for thousands of years It featured in trade with amongst others the Babylonians and the Romans In Europe it was used for furniture veneer in the seventeenth century while in Polynesia it was used for personal adornment although turtles were viewed as sacred Today it is important to be able to recognise tortoiseshell as all marine turtles are protected species and subject to global trade bans This book covers the historical use of tortoiseshell in various parts of the world how tortoiseshell artefacts were made from moulding to pique work turtles species their habitats and their conservation status today the identification of tortoiseshell and how to distinguish it from imitations notably horn or the early plastics such as celluloid testing methods both simple and advanced and finally information on laws and regulatory bodies This is the only book that covers tortoiseshell from all aspects

South Pacific Museums Chris Healy,Andrea Witcomb,2006 South Pacific Museums Experiments in Culture is a collection of outstanding analyses of museums in the South Pacific written by cultural museum and architectural critics and historians A series of snapshots introduce the reader to key museums in the region and longer essays explore these museums in broad terms Over the last 50 years museums have been regarded by many scholars and cultural critics as archaic institutions far from the cutting edge of cultural innovation This judgement is being proved wrong across the globe with innovative museums staking out new territory Nowhere is this more striking than in the South Pacific where new and redeveloped institutions have included the Museum of New Zealand Te Papa Tongarewa the National Museum of Australia the Melbourne Museum the Australian Centre for the Moving Image the Museum of Sydney the Gab Titui Cultural Centre in the Torres Strait the Auckland Museum the Centre Culturel Tjibaou and the Vanuatu Cultural Centre South Pacific Museums make sense of these museums as part of the complex field of heritage where national economies meet global tourism cities brand themselves and indigeneity articulates with colonialism The effect is one of cultural experimentation Part One New Museums introduces three different museums in distinctive national contexts Te Papa the Centre Culturel Tjibaou and the National Museum of Australia Essays in this part grapple with the role of these museums in the nation at particular historical moments under specific political pressures Part Two New Knowledges documents practices and exhibitions at the point of tension between indigenous and non indigenous interests in the museum Part three New Experiences explores the ways in which museums in the South Pacific are producing that ineffable cultural phenomenon experience

A World of Head Ornaments Anne van Cutsem, 2005 Publisher Description

Personal Adornment and the Construction of Identity Hannah V. Mattson, 2021-06-09 Objects of adornment have been a subject of archaeological historical and ethnographic study for well over a century Within archaeology personal ornaments have traditionally been viewed as decorative embellishments associated with status and wealth materializations of power relations and social strategies or markers of underlying social categories such as those related to gender class and ethnic affiliation Personal Adornment and the Construction of Identity seeks to understand these artefacts not as signals of steady pre existing cultural units and relations but as important components in the active and contingent constitution of identities Drawing on contemporary scholarship on materiality and relationality in archaeological and social theory this book uses one genre of material culture items of bodily adornment to illustrate how humans and objects construct one another Providing case studies spanning 10 countries three continents and more than 9 000 years of human history the authors demonstrate the myriad and dynamic ways personal ornaments were intertwined with embodied practice and identity performativity the creation and remaking of social memories and relational collections of persons materials and practices in the past The authors careful analyses of production methods and composition curation heirlooming and reworking decorative attributes and iconography position within assemblages and depositional context illuminate the varied material and relational axes along which objects of adornment contained social value and meaning When paired with the broad temporal and geographic scope collectively represented by these studies we
