The Railway Magazine , 1986 Gravity, Steam, and Steel Graeme Pole, 2022-12-19 In 1882 the Canadian Pacific Railway Company committed to building Canada s first trans continental railway across unknown ground in the Selkirk Mountains of southern British Columbia It was a gamble that almost scuttled the project and the promise of the young country During the next three years a small army of surveyors engineers and labourers cleared the grade and built track across Rogers Pass the only break in the Selkirk Mountains a place that defined wilderness Trestles tunnels snowsheds bridges and miles of looping track the Canadian Pacific Railway has since employed them all to reduce the dangers and to make railway operations in Rogers Pass safer and more reliable Gravity Steam and Steel recounts the triumphs and tragedies of building and operating a railway in a place where 40 feet of snow falls each year and where trains routinely run on grades that many other railways would consider impossibly steep Railroad History , 1997 Western Canada's Railways J. Edward Martin, 1986 BCLA Reporter British Columbia Library Association, 1986 Vancouver & Beyond Fred Thirkell, 2000 An anthology of 50 stories about Vancouver and environs in the early years of the 20th century These stories grew out of a collection of picture postcards not just any old postcards but particularly appealing real photo cards that seemed to be waiting to have their stories told While some of the images are not uncommon most of the pictures are rare if not one of a kind survivors of the golden age of postcards which encompassed the years between 1900 and 1914 the relatively short period of time when Vancouver ended its days as a frontier town and became a significant Canadian city

Breaking News Fred Thirkell, Bob Scullion, George Alfred Barrowclough, 2004 Winner of a City of Vancouver Heritage Award 2005 Before the First World War photographs of major news events were rarely seen in the daily newspapers the technology was still too new to make their use viable Filling the gap and providing the missing images were the postcard photographers who could make their breaking news photos available on the street the day after an event occurred George Alfred Barrowclough was one of those photographers Barrowclough had the eye of an artist and the nose of a newsman His images of Vancouver and the surrounding areas stand out over those of other postcard photographers of his day in that they are more people centred and action oriented capturing the lives and appearances of the people living in and around Vancouver in the decade before the Great War Drawing from postcards that Barrowclough produced between 1908 and 1912 award winning authors Fred Thirkell and Bob Scullion have selected images for Breaking News that showcase the photographer's focus on people and events In Vancouver in those years you looked to newspapers for words you looked to Barrowclough for news This is Fred Thirkell and Bob Scullion's sixth book in the postcard genre Several of their earlier books have also won City of Vancouver Heritage awards Canadiana , 1985
