Haunted by Waters Mark Browning, 2014-08-27 Four essential questions: Why does one fish? How should one properly fish? What relations are created in fishing? And what effects does fishing have on the future? Haunted by Waters is a self-examination by the author as he constructs his own narrative and tries to answer these questions for himself. But it is also a thorough examination of the answers he uncovers in the course of reading what's been written on the subject. As his own story unfolds, Mark Browning analyzes angling literature from the Bible to Norman Maclean, always bringing his inquiry back to the same source: the enigma of this sport. Haunted by Waters is an exploration of the apparent compulsion of those who fish: not only to read about the sport but to write about it as well. Mark Browning's personal account as a fly fisherman and his perspective as a critic make him uniquely qualified to navigate these waters.

Dark Tourism in the American West Jennifer Dawes, 2019-08-12 This edited collection expands scholarly and popular conversations about dark tourism in the American West. The phenomenon of dark tourism—traveling to sites of death, suffering, and disaster for entertainment or educational purposes—has been described and, on occasion, criticized for transforming misfortune and catastrophe into commodity. The impulse, however, continues, particularly in the American West, a liminal and contested space that resonates with stories of tragedy, violent conflict, and disaster. Contributions here specifically examine the mediation and shaping of these spaces into touristic destinations. The essays examine Western sites of massacre and battle, such as Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site and the Waco Siege sites of imprisonment, such as Japanese American internment camps and Alcatraz Island, areas devastated by ecological disaster, such as Martin's Cove and the Salton Sea, and unmediated sites, those sites left to the touristic imagination with no interpretation of what occurred there, such as the Bennet Arcane camp.

Middlemarsh: The Hopkins River, Kindred Wetlands and Remarkable People Rod Giblett, 2023-04-12 One book leads to another; one book grows out of another; one book flows out of others. Flowing is a fitting figure for a book about a river, creeks, wetlands, and water. The present volume grew out of a brief discussion of two paintings of wetlands in mid-western Victoria by the nineteenth-century colonial landscape painter Eugene von Guérard. This discussion was part of a chapter on wetlands in Australian painting and photography (Giblett, 2020a). It was included in John Ryan's and Li Chen's edited collection Australian Wetland Cultures (Ryan and Chen, eds., 2020). I also contributed a chapter to this volume on Aboriginal wetland cultures, their sacral water beings, and
