Applied Multilevel Analysis Jos W. R. Twisk, 2010-03-26 This is a practical introduction to multilevel analysis suitable for all those doing research Most books on multilevel analysis are written by statisticians those books are difficult for non mathematical researchers In contrast this volume provides an accessible account on the practical application of multilevel analysis in research Many worked examples with computer output are given to illustrate and explain this subject Datasets of the examples are available on the internet so the reader can reanalyze the data This approach will help bridge the conceptual and communication gap that exists between researchers and statisticians

Settlers and the Agrarian Question Philip McMichael, 1984 An original interpretation of the development of Australian colonial society and economy

The Agrarian Seeds of Empire Brad Bauerly, 2016-09-07 The Agrarian Seeds of Empire outlines the influence of agrarian movements on the process of US institutional capacity building between 1840 1980 Out of the mix of the developing new Nation and the expanding capitalist system emerged strong farmer s movements that produced state building processes central to American political development It will show how the forces of state building and social movements converged to produce agro industrialization This agro industrial developmental project was instrumental in both the development of the industrial food system and US Empire as the institutional capacities were later used to impose the same project outside of the US These findings link together and augment existing approaches to capitalist development International Relations and theories of the state and the food system

Globalising Australian Capitalism Robert Catley, 1996-10-07 Tells the story of Australia s integration into the international economy It traces the Australian economy from Federation to its downturn the 1970s and assesses the current state of play Topics include the rise of economic rationalism demographic and social repercussions of globalisation and the emerging power of the Asia Pacific region

Agrarian Capitalism in Theory and Practice Susan Archer Mann, 2017-10-10 Susan Mann focuses on a longstanding controversy in sociological theory why has agriculture been traditionally resistant to wage labor Capitalist development has been slower and more uneven in agriculture than in other spheres of production and major parts of the rural economy remain almost preindustrial in their reliance on family labor lack of separation between industry and household and failure to develop a highly specialized division of labor Emphasizing the agriculture of the American South Mann adopts an interdisciplinary approach drawing insights from history and economics as well as sociology Mann points out that most theories of agrarian capitalism both Marxist and non Marxist ignore the implications of agriculture as a production process centered in nature with natural features that cannot be synchronized easily into the tempos required by industrial production She argues that various natural and technical features of agricultural production such as the relatively lengthy production time of certain crops and the irregular labor requirements imposed by seasonal production make some types of farming particularly risky avenues for capitalist investment To test this pioneering theory of natural obstacles to rural capitalist development Mann creatively combines diverse research methodologies

Analyzing U S Agricultural Census data she shows the correlations between type of agricultural commodity or crop produced the natural and technical features of these rural commodities and the use of wage labor Using an historical comparative approach she investigates the persistence of nonwage labor in American cotton production after the Civil War She examines why sharecropping rather than wage labor replaced slavery in the older cotton producing regions of the southeastern United States She then discusses the domestic and international factors that finally led to the demise of sharecropping and the rise of wage labor in the decades following the Great Depression In this historical study of the rise and demise of sharecropping the interplay between nature gender race and class is highlighted By closely examining both natural and social obstacles to wage labor within the context of a global economy Mann presents not only an intriguing analysis of agrarian capitalist development but also an entirely new framework for examining the social history of the American South Originally published in 1990 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value

Settler Society in the Australian Colonies Angela Woollacott, 2015-03-05 The 1820s to the 1860s were a foundational period in Australian history arguably at least as important as Federation Industrialization was transforming Britain but the southern colonies were pre industrial with economies driven by pastoralism agriculture mining whaling and sealing commerce and the construction trades Convict transportation provided the labour on which the first settlements depended before it was brought to a staggered end first in New South Wales in 1840 and last in Western Australia in 1868 The numbers of free settlers rose dramatically surging from the 1820s and again during the 1850s gold rushes The convict system increasingly included assignment to private masters and mistresses thus offering settlers the inducement of unpaid labourers as well as the availability of land on a scale that both defied and excited the British imagination By the 1830s schemes for new kinds of colonies based on Edward Gibbon Wakefield s systematic colonization gained attention and support The pivotal development of the 1840s 1850s and the political events which form the backbone of this story were the Australian colonies gradual attainment of representative and then responsible government Through political struggle and negotiation in which Australians looked to Canada for their model of political progress settlers slowly became self governing But these political developments were linked to the frontier violence that shaped settlers lives and became accepted as part of respectable manhood With narratives of individual lives Settler Society shows that women s exclusion from political citizenship was vigorously debated and that settlers were well aware of their place in an empire based on racial hierarchies and threatened by revolts Angela Woollacott particularly focuses on settlers dependence in these decades on intertwined categories of unfree labour including poorly compensated Aborigines and indentured Indian and Chinese labourers alongside convicts

Replenishing the Earth James Belich, 2011-05-05 Pioneering study of the anglophone settler boom in North America

Canada South Africa Australia and New Zealand between the early 19th and early 20th centuries looking at what made it the most successful of all such settler revolutions and how this laid the basis of British and American power in the 19th and 20th centuries

Settler Colonialism Lorenzo Veracini, 2024-09-30 Exploring the history and politics of a powerful and long lasting idea the creation and maintenance of European worlds outside of Europe This textbook provides a broad overview of settler colonialism in the modern era The author outlines how the founding of new societies was envisaged and practiced around the world illustrating the specific ways in which settler colonial projects tried to establish ideal and regenerated political bodies With an updated introduction and an additional chapter examining decolonisation and Indigenous recognition this second edition brings the study of settler colonialism up to the present day

Intellectual Property, Indigenous People and their Knowledge Peter Drahos, 2014-06-12 Drawing on ancestral cosmology of Australia s indigenous people this book develops a theory of indigenous peoples innovation and intellectual property

Men, Women, and Money David R. Green, 2011-04-28 There has been considerable research into the growth of limited companies in Great Britain in the 19th century but not much is known about their investors both men and women This interdisciplinary book based on new research investigates the identity and behaviour of these investors

Constructing The Countryside Terry Marsden, Jonathon Murdoch, Philip Lowe, Richard C Munton, Andrew Flynn, 2005-08-16 The first of a five volume series Restructuring Rural Areas from the London Countryside Research Centre this book aims to put the rural domain firmly on the agenda of social science enquiry

Rhetorics of Welfare K. Brown, S. Kenny, B. Turner, J. Prince, 2000-04-19 The book explores comparatively the role of non profit organizations in conditions of social and economic change The focus of the study is an investigation of the proposition that non profit organizations provide sites and processes for enhancing active citizenship invigorating the public sphere and extending political participation The study explores the economic constraints on voluntary associations and argues that they can function as schools of democracy This book is the first national study of the third sector in Australia but its conclusions have a general relevance to deregulated welfare societies in Europe and North America

East Asia and the Global Economy Stephen G. Bunker, Paul S. Ciccantell, 2007-07-16 After World War II Japan reinvented itself as a shipbuilding powerhouse and began its rapid ascent in the global economy Its expansion strategy integrated raw material procurement the redesign of global transportation infrastructure and domestic industrialization In this authoritative and engaging study Stephen G Bunker and Paul S Ciccantell identify the key factors in Japan s economic growth and the effects this growth had on the reorganization of significant sectors of the global economy Bunker and Ciccantell discuss what drove Japan s economic expansion how Japan globalized the work economy to support it and why this spectacular growth came to a dramatic halt in the 1990s Drawing on studies of ore mining steel making corporate sector reorganization and port rail development they provide valuable insight into technical processes as well as specific patterns of corporate investment East Asia and the Global Economy introduces a theory of new historical materialism that explains the success of Japan and other world industrial powers Here the authors assert that the pattern of Japan s ascent is essential for understanding China s recent path of economic growth and dominance and anticipating what the future may hold

Foucault and Family Relations Malcolm Voyce,2019-05-14 Foucault and Family Relations Governing from a Distance in Australia analyzes how notions of property ownership were instrumental in maintaining family stability and continuity in rural Australia outlining how inheritance and divorce laws functioned to govern the internal relationships of families to assist the state to rule from a distance Using a selection of Foucault s ideas on the family sexuality race space and economics this books shows how property operated as a disciplinary device which was underpinned by technical ideas such as surveying and cartography This book uses legal judgments as a form of ethnography to show how property as a socio technical device allowed a degree of local freedom for owners This aspect of property allowed the state to stimulate ideas of local freedom to assist in ruling from a distance demonstrating how the rural family as a domestic unit became a key field of intervention for the state as the family represented a bridge to larger relationships of power

Development and Social Change Philip McMichael,2016-01-25 In this new Sixth Edition of Development and Social Change A Global Perspective author Philip McMichael describes a world undergoing profound social political and economic transformations from the post World War II era through the present He tells a story of development in four parts colonialism developmentalism globalization and sustainability that shows how the global development project has taken different forms from one historical period to the next Throughout the text the underlying conceptual framework is that development is a political construct created by dominant actors states multilateral institutions corporations and economic coalitions and based on unequal power arrangements While rooted in ideas about progress and prosperity development also produces crises that threaten the health and well being of millions of people and sparks organized resistance to its goals and policies Frequent case studies make the intricacies of globalization concrete meaningful and clear Development and Social Change A Global Perspective challenges us to see ourselves as global citizens even as we are global consumers

Case Studies in the Origins of Capitalism Xavier Lafrance,Charles Post,2018-09-19 This edited volume builds and expands on the groundbreaking work of Robert Brenner and Ellen Meiksins Wood on the origins of capitalism Whereas Brenner and Wood focused mostly on the emergence of capitalism in the English countryside agrarian capitalism this book utilizes their approach to offer original theoretically sophisticated and empirically informed accounts of transitions to capitalism both agrarian and industrial in a wide range of countries in order to provide within a single volume a diverse collection of relatively brief yet detailed case studies of the historical transition to capitalism distributed across three continents Offering a new and highly original analysis of the global spread of capitalism this book will be a unique contribution to the longstanding debate on the transition to capitalism

Virtualism James G. Carrier,Daniel Miller,2020-08-25 We live in a time of economic virtualism whereby our lives are made to conform to the virtual reality of economic thought Globalization transnational capitalism structural adjustment programmes and the decay of welfare are all signs of the growing power of economics one of the most potent forces of recent decades In the last thirty years economics has ceased to be just an academic discipline concerned with the study of economy and has come to be the only legitimate way to think about all aspects of society and how we order our lives Economic models are no longer measured against the world they seek to describe but instead the world is measured against them found wanting and made to conform This profound and dangerous change in the power of abstract economics to shape the lives of people in rich and poor countries alike is the subject of this interdisciplinary study Contributors show how economics has come to portray a virtual reality a world that seems real but is merely a reflection of a neo classical model and how governments the World Bank and the IMF combine to stamp the world with a virtual image that condemns as irrational our local social and cultural arrangements Further it is argued that virtualism represents the worrying emergence of new forms of abstraction in the political economy of which economics is just one example

The Getting of Garlic John Newton, 2018-10-01 The white colonisers of Australia suffered from Alliumphobia a fear of garlic Local cooks didn't touch the stuff and it took centuries for that fear to lift This food history of Australia shows we held onto British assumptions about produce and cooking for a long time and these fed our views on racial hierarchies and our place in the world Before Garlic we had meat and potatoes After Garlic what we ate got much more interesting But has a national cuisine emerged What is Australian food culture Renowned food writer John Newton visits haute cuisine or fine dining restaurants the cafes and mid range restaurants and heads home to the dinner tables as he samples what everyday people have cooked and eaten over centuries His observations and recipes old and new show what has changed and what hasn't changed as much as we might think even though our chefs are hailed as some of the best in the world

Taste, Trade and Technology Richard Perren, 2017-09-29 Focusing on the interactions of producers sellers and consumers of meat across the world Richard Perren elucidates aspects of the evolution of the international economy and the part played by the investment of capital and the enterprise of individuals The study utilises the government reports and papers issued by all countries involved in the meat trade including North and South America Australia New Zealand and Britain Beginning in the nineteenth century allows a comprehensive analysis of how an efficient meat exporting industry was built The industry required investment which was part of the general process of economic development Perren focuses on the nature of the firms involved with the trade the part played in the industry's development by foreign investment and the encouragement given by governments Close attention is also paid to the stimulus of war the impact of animal health and food hygiene regulations on producers and the competing demands of interest groups involved in the food businesses By taking an historical as well as a contemporary approach the book contributes to the current discussion on the effectiveness of animal and meat inspection in identifying farm livestock diseases such as tuberculosis and BSE This study advances our knowledge of the process of food distribution in the industrialising and post industrial economies and leads to a comprehensive understanding of an important component of the international food chain

Assembling Financialisation Zannie Langford, 2023-10-13 Farmers Indigenous organisations government and private sector intermediaries from remote Northern Australia often negotiate with private finance capital to gain funds for agricultural development The concept of financialisation is used to explore the drivers and effects of agrifood restructuring in the area while assemblage theory is applied to position local actors as potential sites of power in negotiating connections between local spaces and global finance This book demonstrates that while financialisation is a useful signifier of patterns of global change it is assembled by a diverse range of often contradictory work
