‘Since at least Plato ...’ and Other Postmodernist Myths M. Devaney, 1997-08-04 Since at Least Plato and Other Postmodernist Myths surveys the fields of theories of postmodernism and criticizes some of the most common claims found in them about philosophy science and the relationship and literary techniques to metaphysics epistemology and political ideologies Devaney finds the accounts offered by these theories of concepts ranging from the law of noncontradiction to relativity and the Uncertainty Principle to be as ill informed as they are pervasive Devaney shows how the use to which these accounts have been put in constructing the story of the progression from realism to postmodernism to modernism flattens out both the history of ideas and the history of literature

Female Stories, Female Bodies Lidia Curti, 1998-02 On women authors and women in literature

Unica Zürn Esra Plumer, 2016-02-26 Diagnosed with schizophrenia in the 1950s German writer and artist Unica Z rn produced a wealth of remarkable textual and visual material within psychiatric institutions across Germany and France While Z rn is often discussed in relation to her partner the controversial artist Hans Bellmer this innovative book moves beyond the familiar model of the overlooked significant other and re introduces her as a member of the French Surrealist group This is the first monograph on the life and work of the Unica Z rn in English Esra Plumer presents Z rn s life and work in light of the artist s individual experiences with WWII Post war Surrealism and mental illness at the same time revealing wider aspects of her artistic practice in relation to her contemporaries She also reveals how the techniques of anagrams and automatism writing and drawing methods designed to unlock the subconscious mind form the pillars of Zorn's artistic creative output which carry her work into the wider theoretical circles of psychoanalytic theory and post structuralist thought Terror and

Consensus Jean-Joseph Goux, Philip R. Wood, 1998 This volume of twelve essays focuses on two interrelated issues First it addresses the historical and cultural determinants that have given rise to what frequently has been described as the French exception the unusually conflictual French political process inherited from the revolutionary past in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries and its accompanying avant gardism in artistic literary and philosophical practice both of which distinguish France from other European countries Second the contributors assess the exhaustion of this tradition in recent years noted prominently on the occasion of the celebration of the bicentennial of the Revolution in 1989 in a progressive normalization of French society that has been the final outcome of the liquidation of the colonial empire the collapse of Marxism as a social force and the integration of France into the European Union The contributors are Jean Marie Apostolides Marc Aug Barbara Cassin Françoise Gaillard Maurice Godelier Jean Joseph Goux Françoise Lionnet Jean François Lyotard Mark Poster Pierre Saint Amand Susan Suleiman and Philip R Wood Teaching Transnational Cinema Katarzyna

Marciniak, Bruce Bennett, 2016-03-10 This collection of essays offers a pioneering analysis of the political and conceptual complexities of teaching transnational cinema in university classrooms around the world In their exploration of a wide range of films from different national and regional contexts contributors reflect on the practical and pedagogical challenges of teaching about immigrant identities transnational encounters foreignness cosmopolitanism and citizenship terrorism border politics legality and race Probing the value of cinema in interdisciplinary academic study and the changing strategies and philosophies of teaching in the university this volume positions itself at the cutting edge of transnational film studies

Living Up to the Ads Simone Weil Davis, 2000 Explores interactions between novels and advertising in the construction of subjectivity in the early part of the twentieth century Passing and Pedagogy Pamela L. Caughie, 1999 The current academic milieu displays a deep ambivalence about the teaching of Western culture and traditional subject matter This ambivalence the product of a unique historical convergence of theory and diversity opens up new opportunities for what Pamela Caughie calls passing recognizing and accounting for the subject positions involved in representing both the material being taught and oneself as a teacher Caughie's discussion of passing illuminates a recent phenomenon in academic writing and popular culture that revolves around identities and the ways in which they are deployed both in the arts and in lived experience Through a wide variety of texts novels memoirs film drama theory museum exhibits legal cases she demonstrates the dynamics of passing presenting it not as the assumption of a fraudulent identity but as the recognition that the assumption of any identity including for the purposes of teaching is a form of passing Astutely addressing the relevance of passing for pedagogy Caughie presents the possibility of a dynamic ethics responsive to the often polarizing difficulties inherent in today's culture Challenging and thought provoking Passing and Pedagogy offers insight and inspiration for teachers and scholars as they seek to be responsible and effective in a complex rapidly changing intellectual and cultural environment

Marrano as Metaphor Elaine Marks, 1996 When Europeans in the Middle Ages spoke of marranos they were making a derogatory reference to crypto Jews those who publicly converted to and performed as Christians but who remained secretly faithful to Judaic law Today asserts Elaine Marks in Marrano as Metaphor the concept can be used to describe all Jews living in a dominant Christian or Muslim culture whatever may be their conscious relationship to Judaism A sweeping examination of the Jewish presence in French literature from the sixteenth century to the present Marrano as Metaphor explores the many shapes and forms in which Jews are perceived spoken and written about Employing a wide spectrum of analytical methods from history literary theory and psychoanalysis renowned French scholar Elaine Marks opens new doors in the study of literature Marrano as Metaphor investigates questions of difference and assimilation of respect and derogation in a wide range of French literature from Alain Robbe Grillet's discussion in his memoirs of his parents' antisemitism to the story of Esther through Jean Racine and Marcel Proust from efforts to address Jewish issues in the writings of Marguerite Duras and Jean Paul Sartre to the secular assimilated Jewish tradition of Jacques Derrida and Helene Cixous Marks looks closely at strains of antisemitism running through French literature analyzing such antecedents as the nihilism of the 1880s and its meditation on death and absence

Technoscientific Angst Raphael Sassower, 1997 This work considers two related phenomena the positive public image of science as the citadel of truth and the objectivity and the angst displayed by scientists over their indirect roles in technological horrors such as the atomic devastation of Hiroshima
