history captures the excitement of the scientific revolution and makes a point of celebrating the advances it ushered in

Financial Times We live in a world transformed by scientific discovery In The Invention of Science historian David Wootton reveals why the Scientific Revolution was truly the greatest event in our history Spanning continents and centuries Wootton chronicles the factors that led to this crucial transformation and the fascinating people who made it happen Wootton argues that the Scientific Revolution was actually five separate yet concurrent events that merged to create a new worldview Here are the brilliant iconoclasts Galileo Copernicus Brahe Newton and many more curious minds from across Europe whose studies of the natural world challenged centuries of religious orthodoxy and ingrained superstition From gunpowder technology the discovery of the new world movable type printing perspective painting and the telescope to the practice of conducting experiments the laws of nature and the concept of the fact Wootton shows how these discoveries codified into a social construct and a system of knowledge Ultimately he makes clear the link between scientific discovery and the rise of industrialization and the birth of the modern world we know

Science's Strangest Inventions Tom Quinn, 2015-06-04

The history of science is littered with mad bad and delightfully dotty inventions from the bicycle that relied for its momentum on the rider waggling his head back and forth continually to the Improved Pneumatic Advertising Hat a bowler that hurled a lit up billboard into the air at the touch of a button or the suitcase that turned into a small boat for the nervous ferry passenger Here is the chance to sample among other delights Professor Ray's Nose Adjusting Machine Admiral Popov's Circular Warship The Perfect Sleeping Partner a Japanese pillow shaped just like a man with an arm fitted at the right angle for a comforting cuddle and last but by no means least Calantariet's Improved Dung Trap for Carriage Horses Employed by Ladies of Fashion and those of a Delicate Constitution

The Art and Science of Making the New Man in Early 20th-Century Russia Yvonne Howell,Nikolai Kremmentsov,2021-12-02 The idea that morally mentally and physically superior new men might replace the currently existing mankind has periodically seized the imagination of intellectuals leaders and reformers throughout history This volume offers a multidisciplinary investigation into how the new man was made in Russia and the early Soviet Union in the first third of the 20th century The traditional narrative of the Soviet new man as a creature forged by propaganda is challenged by the strikingly new and varied case studies presented here The book focuses on the interplay between the rapidly developing experimental life sciences such as biology medicine and psychology and countless cultural products ranging from film and fiction dolls and museum exhibits to pedagogical projects sculptures and exemplary agricultural fairs With contributions from scholars based in the United States Canada the UK Germany and Russia the picture that emerges is emphatically more complex contradictory and suggestive of strong parallels with other new man visions in Europe and elsewhere In contrast to previous interpretations that focused largely on the apparent disconnect between utopian new man rhetoric and the harsh realities of everyday life in the Soviet Union this volume brings to light the surprising historical trajectories of new man visions their often obscure origins acclaimed and forgotten champions unexpected and complicated results and mutual interrelations In short the volume is a timely examination of a recurring theme in modern history when dramatic advancements in science and technology conjoin with anxieties about the future to fuel dreams of a new and improved mankind
