Scientific Papers of Asa Gray, Vol. 2 (Classic Reprint) Asa Gray, 2015-07-28

Excerpt from Scientific Papers of Asa Gray Vol 2 The vegetable productions of North America in common with those of most other parts of the world have generally been first described by European botanists either from the collections of travelers or from specimens communicated by residents of the country who induced by an enlightened curiosity the love of flowers or in some instances by no inconsiderable scientific acquirements have thus sought to contribute according to their opportunities to the promotion of botanical knowledge From the increase in the number of known plants it very frequently happens that the brief descriptions and even the figures of older authors are found quite insufficient for the satisfactory determination of the particular species they had in view and hence it becomes necessary to refer to the herbaria where the original specimens were preserved In this respect the collections of the early authors possess an importance far exceeding their intrinsic value since they are seldom large and the specimens often imperfect With the introduction of the Linnaean nomenclature a rule absolutely essential to the perpetuation of its advantages was also established namely that the name under which a genus or species is first published shall be retained except in certain cases of obvious and paramount necessity About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

The Passage to Cosmos Laura Dassow Walls, 2011-11-15 Humboldt offered the world a vision of human nature as integrated halves of a single whole He espoused the idea that while the universe of nature exists apart from human purpose its beauty order are human achievements Laura Dassow Walls traces the emergence of this philosophy to Humboldt's 1799 journey to America The American Naturalist, 1905 Journal of Botany, British and Foreign, 1890 Frontier Naturalist Russell M. Lawson, 2012-11-01 This is a true story of discovery and discoverers in what was the northern frontier region of Mexico in the years before the Mexican War In 1826 when the story begins the region was claimed by both Mexico and the United States Neither country knew much about the lands crossed by such rivers as the Guadalupe Brazos Nueces Trinity and Rio Grande Jean Louis Berlandier a French naturalist was part of a team sent out by the Mexican Boundary Commission to explore the area His role was to collect specimens of flora and fauna and to record detailed observations of the landscapes and peoples through which the exploring party traveled His observations including sketches and paintings of plants landmarks and American Indians were the first compendium of scientific observations of the region to be collected and eventually published Here historian Russell Lawson tells the story of this multinational expedition using Berlandier s copious records as a way of conveying his view of the natural environment Lawson s narrative allows us to peer over Berlandier s shoulder as he traveled and recorded his experiences Berlandier and Lawson show us an America that no longer exists
