comparative dimension is fundamental to the volume's aim highlighting what was distinctive about Welsh historical writing and showing how the Welsh experience mirrors and illuminates broader historiographical developments. The book begins with an introduction that uses the concept of historical culture as a way of exploring the different strands of historiography covered in the collection providing orientation to the chapters that follow. These are divided into four sections: Contexts and Backgrounds, Amateurs and Popularizers, Creating Academic Disciplines, and Comparative Perspectives. All these themes are then drawn together in the conclusion to examine how far Welsh historians exemplify widespread trends in the writing of national history and thereby point up common themes that emerge from the volume and clarify its broader significance for students of historiography.

Narrating the Nation Stefan Berger, Linas Eriksonas, Andrew Mycock, 2008-10-01. A sustained and systematic study of the construction, erosion and reconstruction of national histories across a wide variety of states is highly topical and extremely relevant in the context of the accelerating processes of Europeanization and globalization. However, as demonstrated in this volume, histories have not of course only been written by professional historians. Drawing on studies from a number of different European nation-states, the contributors to this volume present a systematic exploration of the representation of the national paradigm. In doing so, they contextualize the European experience in a more global framework by providing comparative perspectives on the national histories in the Far East and North America. As such, they expose the complex variables and diverse actors that lie behind the narration of a nation.

Mighty Scot, The, The English Nation; Or, A History of England in the Lives of Englishmen George Godfrey Cunningham, 1863.

History Education at the Edge of the Nation Piero S. Colla, Andrea Di Michele, 2023-06-27. This edited volume explores the evolution of history education from a transnational perspective focusing on border regions in Europe that are considered on the periphery of the Nation-State. By introducing this concept and taking into consideration the dynamics of decentralization and the development of minorities, teaching practices and narratives, the book sheds light on new challenges for history education policy and curriculum design. Chapters take a comparative approach, dissecting and analyzing specific case studies from school systems in France, Germany, Italy, the UK, and Scandinavian countries. In doing so, the editors and their authors weave a systematic account of the impact of local autonomy on educational culture, on the civic remit of schools, and on the narratives embodied by history school canons.
