Scotlands Crafts:

The Material Landscapes of Scotland's Jewellery Craft, 1780-1914 Sarah Laurenson, 2023-06-29 Shortlisted for the History Book Award in Scotland's National Book Awards 2023 During the long 19th century Scotland was home to an established body of skilled jewellers who were able to access a range of materials from the country's varied natural landscape precious gold and silver sparkling crystals and colourful stones freshwater pearls shells and parts of rare animals Following these materials on their journey from hill and shore across the jeweller's bench and on to the bodies of wearers this book challenges the persistent notion that the forces of industrialisation led to the decline of craft It instead reveals a vivid picture of skilled producers who were driving new and revived areas of hand skill and who were key to fostering a focused cultural engagement with the natural world among both producers and consumers through the things they made By placing producers and their skill in cultural context the book reveals how examining the materiality of even the smallest of objects can offer new and multifaceted insights into the wider transformations that marked British history during the long 19th century Uniting a vast array of jewellery objects with a range of other sources including paintings engravings newspaper reports letters inventories of big houses and small workshops sketchbooks novels works of literary geology and early travel writings this book provides a deep dive into the cultural history of jewellery production through accessible thematic studies In doing so it sets out innovative methodologies for writing about the histories of craft production the natural environment and the material world Now available in a paperback edition it will be an important addition to the bookshelf of cultural historians and those interested in Scotland's wild landscapes and natural objects The Oxford Companion to Scottish History Michael Lynch, 2007 Searchable online reference covers more than 20 centuries of history and interpret history broadly covering areas such as archaeology climate culture languages immigration migration and emigration Multi authored entries analyze key themes such as national identity women and society living standards and religious belief across the centuries in an authoritative yet approachable way The A-Z entries are complemented by maps genealogies a glossary a chronology and an extensive guide to further reading From title screen Craft

Entrepreneurship Annette Naudin, Karen Patel, 2020-12-10 Craft practice has experienced a sharp rise in popularity since the late 2000s partly through the aura of the analogue and the desire for authentic handmade products in an increasingly fast paced digitalised world Luckman 2015 but also because of digital platforms such as Etsy and social media enabling anyone to become a craft entrepreneur This book brings together historical policy and individual narratives to inform a broad understanding of craft entrepreneurship Drawing on case studies from around the world Craft Entrepreneurship considers questions of identity community and the digital in craft entrepreneurship In doing so it finds craft activities to be positioned between or across the arts heritage notions of a bohemian lifestyle and the challenges of micro entrepreneurship By engaging with the contradictions and fragility of sustaining a craft practice the chapters in this book contribute to different perspectives for entrepreneurship studies The contributions to this volume illustrate the craft entrepreneurs identity motivation and sense of creative purpose through their craft as these collide with the tensions brought about through entrepreneurship

Scottish Presbyterian Worship Bryan D. Spinks, 2020-09-30 This seminal work by one of the world's most distinguished liturgical scholars fills an important gap in the history of the Church of Scotland and of Scottish worship It offers an in depth narrative of a neglected liturgical legacy and a perceptive analysis of the Church's evolving patterns of worship from the middle of the 19th century to the present day

Medieval and Early Modern Representations of Authority in Scotland and the British Isles Kate Buchanan, Lucinda H.S. Dean, 2016-05-20 What use is it to be given authority over men and lands if others do not know about it Furthermore what use is that authority if those who know about it do not respect it or recognise its jurisdiction And what strategies and language written and spoken visual and auditory material cultural and political did those in authority throughout the medieval and early modern era use to project and make known their power These questions have been crucial since regulations for governance entered society and are found at the core of this volume In order to address these issues from an historical perspective this collection of essays considers representations of authority made by a cross section of society within the British Isles Arranged in thematic sections the 14 essays in the collection bridge the divide between medieval and early modern to build up understanding of the developments and continuities that can be followed across the centuries in question Whether crown or noble government or church burgh or merchant all desired power and influence but their means of representing authority were very different These essays encompass a myriad of methods demonstrating power and disseminating the image of authority including material culture art literature architecture and landscapes saintly cults speeches and propaganda martial posturing and strategic alliances music liturgy and ceremonial display Thus this interdisciplinary collection illuminates the variable forms in which authority was presented by key individuals and institutions in Scotland and the British Isles By placing these within the context of the European powers with whom they interacted this volume also underlines the unique relationships developed between the people and those who exercised authority over them
