Screening Science Contexts Texts And Science In Fifties Science Fiction Film:

Science Fiction Cinema and 1950s Britain Matthew Jones, 2017-11-30 For the last sixty years discussion of 1950s science fiction cinema has been dominated by claims that the genre reflected US paranoia about Soviet brainwashing and the nuclear bomb However classic films such as Invasion of the Body Snatchers 1956 and It Came from Outer Space 1953 and less familiar productions such as It The Terror from Beyond Space 1958 were regularly exported to countries across the world The histories of their encounters with foreign audiences have not yet been told Science Fiction Cinema and 1950s Britain begins this task by recounting the story of 1950s British cinema goes and the aliens and monsters they watched on the silver screen Drawing on extensive archival research Matthew Jones makes an exciting and important intervention by locating American science fiction films alongside their domestic counterparts in their British contexts of release and reception He offers a radical reassessment of the genre demonstrating for the first time that in Britain which was a significant market for and producer of science fiction these films gave voice to different fears than they did in America While Americans experienced an economic boom low immigration and the conferring of statehood on Alaska and Hawaii Britons worried about economic uncertainty mass immigration and the dissolution of the Empire Science Fiction Cinema and 1950s Britain uses these and other differences between the British and American experiences of the 1950s to tell a new history of the decade s science fiction cinema exploring for the first time the ways in which the genre came to mean something unique to Britons

Screening Science Errol Vieth, Griffith University. School of Film, Media and Cultural Studies, 1999 Investigates the science in the science fiction films of the fifties and how these films inform of the concerns of the time

American Science Fiction Film and Television Lincoln Geraghty, 2009-10-01 American Science Fiction Film and Television presents a critical history of late 20th Century SF together with an analysis of the cultural and thematic concerns of this popular genre Science fiction film and television were initially inspired by the classic literature of HG Wells and Jules Verne The potential and fears born with the Atomic age fuelled the popularity of the genre upping the stakes for both technology and apocalypse From the Cold War through to America s current War on Terror science fiction has proved a subtle vehicle for the hopes fears and preoccupations of a nation at war The definitive introduction to American science fiction this is also the first study to analyse SF across both film and TV Throughout the discussion is illustrated with critical case studies of key films and television series including The Day the Earth Stood Still Planet of the Apes Star Trek The Next Generation The X Files and Battlestar Galactica

Screening Science Errol Vieth, 2001-09-18 Vieth contemporary communications Central Queensland U Australia looks at how science was portrayed in the 1950s in the medium of science fiction films He argues that the portrayal of science can provide a three dimensional insight into particular cultural and social contexts After looking at the contextual elements of history culture and the film industry Vieth continues with a discussion of the nature of science and the scientist looking at both the nonhuman sciences i e those not related to the human organism as Cinema Wenceslao J. Gonzalez,2025-03-20 Now that cinema is offline and online the capacity of cinema to relate to philosophy and science has increased In this regard this book seeks to deepen the relationship between philosophy science and cinema in terms of bilaterality This analysis leads to several successive levels of analysis First between philosophy and cinema where the philosophical perspective bifurcates in several directions depending on the philosophical branch used This affects in both directions from the philosophical orientation to the cinematographic activity and from cinema towards the philosophical line used Second the relations between science and cinema also go in both directions Thus they are modulated by the type of scientific research used and by the film genre employed Thus bilaterality is altogether a network of bidirectional relations modulated by various possibilities of analysis The Art of Movies Nicolae Sfetcu,2014-05-06 Movie

Youngquist,2010-03-29 Cyberfiction After the Future explores a world where cybernetics sets the terms for life and culture our world of ubiquitous info tech instantaneous capital flows and immanent catastrophe Economics fuses with technology to create a new kind of speculative fiction cyberfiction Paul Youngquist reveals the ways in which J G Ballard Philip K Dick Samuel Delany Octavia Butler and William Gibson among others map a territory where information reigns supreme and the future is becoming a thing of the past Monsters of Film, Fiction, and Fable Lisa Wenger Bro,Mary Ann Gareis,Crystal O'Leary-Davidson,2018-07-27 Monsters are a part of every society and ours is no exception They are deeply embedded in our history our mythos and our culture However treating them as simply a facet of children s stories or escapist entertainment belittles their importance When examined closely we see that monsters have always represented the things we fear that which is different which we can t understand which is dangerous which is Other But in many ways monsters also represent our growing awareness of ourselves and our changing place in a continually shrinking world Contemporary portrayals of the monstrous often have less to do with what we fear in others than with what we fear about ourselves what we fear we might be capable of The nineteen essays in this volume explore the place and function of the monstrous in a variety of media stories and novels like Baum s Oz books or Gibson s Neuromancer television series and feature films like The Walking Dead or Edward Scissorhands and myths and legends like Beowulf and The Loch Ness Monster in order to provide a closer understanding of not just who we are and who we have been but also who we believe we can be for better or worse One Book, The Whole Universe Richard D. Mohr,2010-05-05 The much anticipated anthology on Plato sTimaeus Plato s singular dialogue on the creation of the universe the nature of the physical world and the place of persons in the cosmos examining all dimensions of one of the most important books in Western Civilization its philosophy cosmology science and ethics its literary aspects and reception Contributions come from leading scholars in their respective fields including Sir Anthony Leggett 2003 Nobel Laureate for Physics Parts of or earlier versions of these papers were first presented at the Timaeus Conference held at the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign in September of 2007 To this day Plato s Timaeus grounds the form of ethical and political thinking called Natural Law the view that there are norms in nature that provide the patterns for our actions and ground the objectivity of human values Beyond the intellectual content of the dialogue s core its literary frame is also the source of the myth of Atlantis giving the West the concept of the lost world Selling James Bond Tanya Nitins,2011-08-08 The character of James Bond for many people is intrinsically linked in their minds with particular brands Aston Martin Bollinger Omega Smirnoff vodka and so on This direct association between character and brand highlights the intrinsic role of product placement in the film industry and in the James Bond films in particular Selling James Bond Product Placement in the James Bond Films provides a comprehensive overview of the history of product placement in the James Bond series charting the progression of the practice and drawing direct correlations to significant cultural and historical events that impacted upon the number and types of products incorporated into the series While primarily a financial arrangement it is also important that the practice of product placement be examined and understood in relation to these cultural contexts an area of research so far largely ignored by academic study Through extensive content analysis of the official James Bond film series as well as utilising directors commentary and industry reports this book illustrates the strong impact specific cultural and historical events have had on the practice of product placement in the series In doing so it provides an exciting and in depth behind the scenes look at the James Bond film series and its complicated and sometimes contentious history of product placement In the process it charts the gradual emergence of product placement from the more traditional background shot to becoming so embedded in the actual film narrative that they have become simply yet another method for filmmakers to produce cultural meaning

The A to Z of Australian and New Zealand Cinema Albert Moran, Errol Vieth, 2009-07-21 Whether it was Jane Campion's The Piano Mel Gibson in Mad Max Paul Hogan in Crocodile Dundee or The Lord of the Rings saga we have all experienced the cinema of Australia and New Zealand This book is an introduction and guide to the film of Australia and New Zealand With entries on many exceptional producers directors writers and actors as well as the films indicated above and many others this reference also presents the early pioneers the film companies and government bodies and much more in its hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries Through a chronology that shows how far these cinemas have come in a short time and an introduction that presents them more broadly a clear portrait of the two countries motion pictures emerge The bibliography is an excellent source for further reading

Historical Dictionary of Australian and New Zealand Cinema Karina Aveyard, Albert Moran, Errol Vieth, 2017-12-26 Filmmakers have honed their skills and many have achieved critical and popular success at home and abroad as have actors and other crew American filmmakers and companies have found it cheaper to make films in Australia because wages and salaries are lower tax rebates have been attractive and the expertise in most areas of filmmaking is comparable to that of anywhere in the world At the same time Australian audiences still enjoy watching Australian films making some of them profitable even if this is a small profit when considered in Hollywood terms New Zealand filmmakers cast and crew have shown that they are equal to the world's best in making films with international themes while other films have shown that the world is interested in New Zealand narratives and settings Increased support for Maori filmmakers and stories has had a significant impact on production levels and on the diversity of stories that now reach the screen It has also helped create more viable career paths for those who continue to be based in their home country This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Australian and New Zealand Cinema contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on leading films as well as many directors writers actors and producers It also covers early pioneers film companies genres and government bodies
