Screening The Novel Rediscovered American Fiction In Film:

Screening the Novel Gabriel Miller, 2016-10-06 Some of the most memorable movies of Hollywood's Golden Age were based on novels that never received the acclaim they deserved. No one who saw Rod Steiger in The Pawnbroker could forget the actor's wrenching performance, but does anyone remember the author of the book on which the film was based? The same can be said of Jane Fonda in They Shoot Horses, Don't They? Greta Garbo in Susan Lenox and Humphrey Bogart in The Treasure of the Sierra Madre. This book retrieves these novels and re-evaluates the careers of the eight neglected novelists whose works inspired eight different directors among them Stanley Kubrick, Sidney Lumet, John Huston, and Sidney Pollack. Each chapter offers detailed analysis on both the original text and the resulting movie. Taken together, the double examination of novel and film raises some important questions about the nature and problems of cinematic adaptation.

Screening the novel; rediscovered american fiction in film G. Miller, 1981 The Screening of America Tom O'Brien, 2016-10-06 This is an original investigation of how movies have reflected and helped to shape the values of a generation. From All the President's Men to Wall Street, US films of the 1970s and 80s were a kaleidoscope of shifting values and contrasting moral viewpoints. Knowing that movies mirror the way we think we are or would like to be, O'Brien focuses on the key values or their absence found in films from this period in order to see more clearly what Americans really cherished in life and how these values have evolved or changed. Comprehensive and thought-provoking, this book addresses how and why movies glamorized and portrayed certain professions, the changing role of women, the targeting of religion for satire, the addressing of environmental issues, and film's representation of and engagement with history. Cinema's Illusions, Opera's Allure David Schroeder, 2016-10-06 The invention of cinema was ingenious, so much so that virtually no one quite knew what to do with it. In its earliest stages, especially with the advent of the feature film, it needed models, and opera proved to be especially useful in that regard. The allure of opera to cinema early in the twentieth century held up through the silent era into sound films through the golden age of movies and beyond. This book explores the numerous ways, some predictable, some unexpected, and some bizarre, in which this has happened. The influence of Richard Wagner on filmmakers has been especially striking, and some have even devised visual images that seem to emerge from a kind of non-verbal Wagnerian essence, a formative musical urge that can underlie a cinematic idea, defying explanation and remaining purely sensory. Directors like Griffith, DeMille, Eisenstein, Chaplin, Bunuel, or Hitchcock have intuited this possibility. Schroeder provides a fascinating, well-researched, and always entertaining account of the influence of one medium on another and shows that opera can often be found lurking in the background or booming in the foreground of an impressive range of films. American History/American Film John E. O'Connor, Martin A. Jackson, 2016-10-06 In this pioneering work, sixteen historians analyze individual films for deeper insight into US institutions, values, and lifestyles. Linking all of the essays is the belief that film holds much of value for the historian seeking to understand and interpret American history and culture. This title will be equally valuable for students and scholars in history using film for analysis as well as film students and scholars exploring the way social and historical circumstances are reflected and represented in film      Daughters of Desire Shameem

Kabir,2016-10-06 This book explores lesbians in film from early representations to contemporary ones spanning sixty years and over twenty films Concentrating on lesbian desire and subtext Kabir draws on films such as Queen Christina The Killing of Sister George Rebecca Desperately Seeking Susan and The Color Purple She details their narratives in conjunction with an examination of different spectating positions and new syntheses of filmic languages Deploying lesbian history black subjectivity feminist film criticism and material from psychoanalysis Daughters of Desire explores narrative desire and identifications From castration and agency to the fetishization of beauty from mothering narcissism and Oedipus to rage and trauma Kabir crosses frontiers in film studies and feminist theory      Contemporizing the Classics Gregory Sarno,2005-02

Contemporizing the Classics Poe Shakespeare Doyle is a how to on the art and craft of transforming a classic into a feature film screenplay with a modern storyline The introduction probes an issue that weaves throughout role of artistic license in balancing fidelity to the original versus dramatic needs of the script Contemporization of a classic being the most flagrant form of dramatic license the introduction presents three guidelines for a considered exercise thereof Each part debuts a feature film script that resets a classic work s in the present Part One offers a contemporary visualization of Macbeth in the process turning an Elizabethan tragedy into a dramatic comedy Part Two applies the guidelines to several renowned works by Edgar Allan Poe Arthur Conan Doyle s The Hound of the Baskervilles having frequently screened as a period piece Part Three gives the hound a twenty first century twist      The Great Gatsby meets Alain Badiou Ursula Vooght,2023-12-21 The subject of this book is a consideration of the usefulness of the concept of fidelity put forward by the philosopher Alain Badiou in the discussion of film adaptation Fidelity or faithfulness is primarily a consideration that emerges in relation to so called canonical texts in adaptation Fitzgerald s The Great Gatsby occupies a position of global recognisability and within the United States cultural mythology that has triggered strong reactions to the four Hollywood adaptations The various adaptations allow for the differing approaches to the adaptation of this novel to be meaningfully explored The film adaptations paratextual elements will be discussed in order to show how these acted as limiting lenses The strategies of the films for handling elements of Fitzgerald s prose and themes will be compared across the adaptations This will culminate in an assertion of the worth of a larger application of a Badiouian fidelity within the field      The Jew in American Cinema

Patricia Erens,1988-08-22 Placing cinematic representations of the Jew within their historical context Bartov demonstrates the powerful political social and cultural impact of these images on popular attitudes He argues that these representations generally fall into four categories the Jew as perpetrator as victim as hero and as anti hero Examples range from film s early days to the present from Europe Israel and the United States      Adaptations Deborah Cartmell,Imelda

Whelehan,2013-06-17 Adaptations considers the theoretical and practical difficulties surrounding the translation of a text

into film and the reverse process the novelisation of films Through three sets of case studies the contributors examine the key debates surrounding adaptations whether screen versions of literary classics can be faithful to the text if something as encapsulated as Jane Austen's irony can even be captured on film whether costume dramas always of their own time and do adaptations remake their parent text to reflect contemporary ideas and concerns Tracing the complex alterations which texts experience between different media Adaptations is a unique exploration of the relationship between text and film
