New Directions in Tardive Dyskinesia Research J. Bannet, R. H. Belmaker, 1983-11-28 Advances in Biochemical Psychopharmacology Erminio Costa, Paul Greengard, 1969 Schizophrenia Bulletin, 1998 Psychopharmacology Bulletin, 1966 Receptors and Ligands in Neurological Disorders Amar K. Sen, Tyrone Lee, 1988-06-02 This book summarises current studies which involve receptors and ligands in neurological disorders The advance in the study of receptors in general enables investigators to explore the mechanism of action of psychotropic drugs and to minimise their side effects The Psychobiology of Affective Development (PLE: Emotion) Nathan A. Fox, Richard Davidson, 2014-11-20 Originally published in 1984 this was the first volume on this topic to appear in an emerging area of study at the time The editors were selective in choosing their contributions to the volume to ensure that both the developmental and neuropsychological domains were well represented One of the major goals was to foster greater contact and cross fertilization between subdisciplines that they firmly believed should be more intimately connected The result is this title which can now be enjoyed in its historical context Alterations of Metabolites in the Nervous System Abel Lajtha, 2013-11-11 In neurosciences one may say All roads lead to Rome It seems as though wherever one starts the course of investigation leads to the same major questions about nervous system function and dysfunction In thinking about what to write in this preface it occurred to me that it might be best to deal with that with which I am most familiar and to trace to some extent my own road to Rome As I look over my work of the last 37 years it becomes clear to me that it can be epitomized as a search for patterns What usually began as a single minded devotion to in depth analysis of one or a small number of variables always has led to questions of how the results might relate to the whole living unit whether it is cell tissue or organism For a number of years after my discovery in the vertebrate central nervous system of γ aminobutyric acid GABA and the enzyme which forms it L glutamate decarboxylase GAD and the identification of GABA as a major inhibitory neurotransmitter by others I felt that my laboratory largely biochemical was wandering in the wilderness of the complexities of the vertebrate CNS without definitively coming to terms with problems related to GABAergic transmitter functions and the roles of GABA neurons in information processing Movement Disorders A.G. Donald, N.S. Shah, 2013-11-11 The human nervous system that most complex organization of energy and matter has yielded a few glimmers of understanding of its operational mechanisms during the last two decades These have mostly been at the biochemical level of structure and function Throughout history as one of the mysteries of nature begins to yield some insights into its function it has been beneficial to look at it from different points of view We have developed a volume on movement disorders that is primarily directed toward the biochemical understanding of these disorders and their treatment Each disorder is presented from several points of view Although this approach leads to some repetition it is our aim that the final outcome be a more complete understanding Much has been written about movement the beauty of the prima ballerina the strength of the olympic athlete and the agility of the surgeon Seldom do we stop to look beneath the surface the coordination of muscle groups the finely tuned balance allowing rapid response in either direction the individual muscle fibers coordinated to maximize strength and agility and the nerve fibers connecting muscle with nerve centers Some of these communicate sensory input of position to the centers while others communicate directions of movement to muscles We encourage our readers to be constantly alert to the possibility of increasing their understanding of other nervous system functions including thought disorder through an understanding of movement either in general principle or by specific chemical interaction

Neuroscience Methods in Drug Abuse Research Roger M. Brown, David P.
