Man, Environment, and Disease in Britain George Melvyn Howe, 1972 A Century of British Geography Ron Johnston, Michael Williams, 2022-09-11 These essays trace the evolution of British geography as an academic discipline during the last hundred years and stress how the study of the world we live in is fundamental to an understanding of its problems and concerns Never before has such an ambitious and wide ranging review been attempted and never before has it been done with so much knowledge and passion The principal themes covered in this volume are those of environment place and space and the applied geography of map making and planning The volume also addresses specific issues such as disease urbanization regional viability and ethics and social problems This lively and accessible work offers many insights into the minds and practices of today's geographers A History of the Royal College of Physicians of London Sir George Norman Clark, Asa Briggs, 1964 Volume 4 examines the way in which the Royal College of Physicians has adapted to far reaching changes in medical knowledge social attitudes and the organization of health At the same time it illuminates the history of the NHS and examines controversial public issues such as smoking National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1972 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Old English Prose of Secular Learning Stephanie Hollis, Michael Wright, 1992 First title in a new series of annotated bibliographies includes prose proverbs romances computistical texts Enchiridion magico medical literature etc Typhoid in Uppingham Nigel Richardson, 2015-10-06 Explores public health strategy and central local government relations during the mid nineteenth century using the experience of Uppingham England as a micro historical case study This study compares the sanitary state of the community with others nearby and Uppingham School with comparable schools of that era Medical Geography : A Study of Marathwada Region Dr. Vijay Prakash Kale, 2022-11-29 Today Health is an important aspect of human being Health of the individual is closely related to the various geographical factors Geographical factors are more influencing and they determine the health of individual and the community Health is considered as a major determinant of happiness The link between health and development is very close Health can be considered as a factor of development In the two decades preceding the start of the new millennium geography as a discipline witnessed an innovative revolution that completely reorganized the traditional boundaries of this field Building upon its established strengths and embracing the novel ideas and perspectives brought about by the technological boom of the late 1980 geography has expanded into a more robust recognized marketable unified and diversified scientific discipline Gaile Willmott 2003 Urbanising Britain Gerard Kearns, Charles W. and society To illustrate this viewpoint he focuses on Thomas Beddoes a prominent doctor of the eighteenth century and examines his challenging pugnacious radical and often amusing views on a wide range of issues concerning the place of illness and medicine in society Many modern debates in medicine continue to echo the topics which Beddoes himself discussed in his ever trenchant and provocative manner This book will be of interest to those studying the history of medicine social history and the Enlightenment

Field Systems and Farming Systems in Late Medieval England Bruce M.S. Campbell, 2023-05-31 The later Middle Ages was an overwhelmingly rural world with probably three out of four households reliant upon farming for a living Yet conventional accounts of the period rarely do justice to the variety of ways in which the land was managed and worked The thirteen essays collected in this volume draw upon the abundant documentary evidence of the period to explore that diversity In the process they engage with the issue of classification without which effective generalisation is impossible and offer a series of solutions to that particularly thorny methodological challenge Only through systematic and objective classification is it possible to differentiate between and map different field systems husbandry types and land use categories That in turn makes it possible to consider and evaluate the relative roles of soils and topography institutional structures and commercialised market demand in shaping farm enterprise both during the period of mounting population before the Black Death and the long era of demographic decline that followed it What emerges is an agrarian world more commercialised differentiated and complex than is usually appreciated whose institutional and agronomic contours shaped the course of agricultural development for centuries to come

Hospital Infection: From Miasmas to MRSA Graham A. J. Ayliffe, Mary P. MRSA and necrotizing fasciitis It succeeds on many levels as a fascinating social history of hospital care from mediaeval times when patients endured verminous conditions to the present day as a survey of the rise fall and emergence of new nosocomial infections and as a chronological account of the emergence of medical microbiology and infection control The pivotal roles of key personalities such as Joseph Lister Florence Nightingale Louis Pasteur and Robert Koch are highlighted and the history of this subject illuminates not only why hospitals and infections have had such an intimate and long relationship but one that seems destined to continue well into the future
