Barbara W. Tuchman: The Guns of August, The Proud Tower (LOA #222) Barbara W. Tuchman, 2012-03-01 Writing with a clarity grace and novelistic sweep rare among historians Barbara W. Tuchman 1912-1989 distilled the complex interplay of personalities and events into gripping narratives that fuse rigorous scholarship with elegant literary art An astute portraitist she brilliantly laid bare the all too human failures of leaders subject to the pull of historical currents and prone often tragically to the ingrained biases of culture and temperament Her Pulitzer Prize winning best seller The Guns of August 1962 offers a majestic orchestration of the diplomatic and military history of the crucial first weeks of World War I Tuchman's observations about the irrational escalation of conflict made a deep impression on President John F. Kennedy and influenced his actions during the Cuban Missile Crisis fifty years later The Guns of August remains an exemplary study of events propelled headlong by their own internal logic and momentum Some of Tuchman's finest writing is contained in her following book The Proud Tower A Portrait of the World before the War 1890-1914 1966 a fascinating kaleidoscope of eight precisely drawn essays on subjects ranging from international socialism and anarchism to the Dreyfus Affair in France and the birth of American imperialism that collectively set the stage for the cataclysm of 1914 Presented in one volume for the first time and released to mark Tuchman's centennial year and the fiftieth anniversary of the publication of The Guns of August here is a vivid indelible panorama of an epoch in transition

Peace, War and the European Powers, 1814-1914 Christopher John Bartlett, 1996-10-02 The causes of war have tended to attract more attention than the causes of peace yet the two are intimately related Indeed there was much talk of war during the unprecedentedly long periods of peace between the European great powers in the years 1815-1854 and again in 1871-1914 the Near Eastern crises of 1878 and 1887-8 being only two of the more notable examples In the case of the latter there occurred a spell of fatalistic and belligerent talk in both Berlin and Vienna which in many ways anticipated that which gripped those capitals by 1914 A study of the whole question of the best methods by which to defend and advance the national interest is often more illuminating on why wars were avoided than are studies of the documentation surrounding the Holy Alliance the congress system or the Concert of Europe It is clear that the Concert tended to become most active only after a war had already been fought or when the powers had already decided that conflict was likely to prove too costly dangerous and unpredictable in its effects both at home and abroad Thus the Russians twice advanced almost to the gates of Constantinople only to recoil at the implications of trying to obtain control of the Straits Similarly

Habsburg thoughts of war were frequently neutralised by reminders of financial weakness This valuable book will be welcomed by anyone wishing to understand the nature of European state relations in the nineteenth century Professor Bartlett examines why major wars did happen and did not happen with particular attention being paid to the events of 1914
