Pronoun Envy Anna Livia, 2001 Controversy over gendered pronouns for example using the generic he has been a staple of feminist arguments about patriarchal language over the last 30 years and is certainly the most contested political issue in Western feminist linguistics Most accounts do not extend beyond policy issues like the official institution of non sexist language In this volume Anna Livia reveals continuities both before and after the sexist language reform movement and shows how the creative practices of pronoun use on the part of feminist writers had both aesthetic and political ends Livia uses the term pronoun envy ironically to show that rather being a case of misguided envy battles over gendered language are central to feminist concerns Livia examines a broad corpus of written texts in English and French concentrating on those texts which problematize the traditional functioning of the linguistic gender system They range from novels and prose poems to film scripts and personal testimonies and in time from the 19th century to the present Some withhold any indication of gender others have non gendered characters Livia's goal is two fold to help bridge the divide between linguistic and literary analysis and to show how careful study of the manipulation of linguistic gender in these texts informs larger concerns This fresh and highly interdisciplinary work lies at the intersection of several vital areas including language and gender sociolinguistics and feminist literary analysis

Falling into the Lesbi World Evelyn Blackwood,2010-09-13 Falling into the Lesbi World offers a compelling view of sexual and gender difference through the everyday lives of tombois and their girlfriends femmes in the city of Padang West Sumatra While likening themselves to heterosexual couples tombois and femmes contest and blur dominant constructions of gender and heterosexuality Tombois are masculine females who identify as men and desire women their girlfriends view themselves as normal women who desire men Through rich in depth and provocative stories author Evelyn Blackwood shows how these same sex Indonesian couples negotiate transgressive identities and desires and how their experiences speak to the struggles and desires of sexual and gender minorities everywhere Blackwood analyzes the complex and seemingly contradictory practices of tombois and their partners demonstrating how they make sense of Islamic transnational and modern state discourses in ways that seem to align with normative gender and sexual categories while at the same time subverting them The childhood and adolescent narratives of tombois and femmes offer bold new insights into a social process that is rarely addressed in anthropological lesbian gay or transgender studies We see how tombois and femmes come to view themselves as boys and girls respectively through their interactions with family and community and how as teenagers tombois learn that masculinity needs its opposite feminine women By contrast femmes notice shifts in their desires as they develop long term relationships with tombois The book reveals the complexity of tomboi masculinity showing how tombois enact both masculine and feminine behaviors as they move between the anonymity and vulnerability of public spaces and the familiarity of family spaces Falling into the Lesbi World demonstrates how nationally and globally circulating queer discourses are received and reinterpreted by tombois and femmes in a city in Indonesia Though less educated than many internet savvy activists in major urban centers their identities are clearly both part of yet different than global gay models of sexuality In contrast to the international LGBT model of modern sexualities this work reveals a multiplicity of sexual and gender subjectivities in Indonesia arguing for the importance of recognizing and validating this diversity in the global gay ecumene
