A Dream within a Dream.

BY EDGAR A. POE.

Take this kiss upon the brow!
And, in parting from you now,
Thus much let me avow—
You are not wrong, who deem
That my days have been a dream;
Yet if Hope has flown away
In a night, or in a day,
In a vision, or in none,
Is it therefore the less gone?
All that we see or seem
Is but a dream within a dream.

I stand amid the roar
Of a surf-tormented shore,
And I hold within my hand
Grains of the golden sand—
How few! yet how they creep
Through my fingers to the deep,
While I weep—while I weep!
O God! can I not grasp
Them with a tighter clasp?
O God! can I not save
One from the pitiless wave?
Is all that we see or seem
But a dream within a dream?

A Critical History of English Poetry Herbert Grierson,J. C. Smith,2014-01-13 This famous work was the result of the wartime collaboration of two Scottish scholars Their tracing of the course of English poetry has been described by The Times Literary Supplement as a volume of masterly compression They deliberately spend most time on the greatest poets believing that significant as traditions and influences are the great poet himself affects the spirit of his age and moulds the tradition he has inherited At the same time enough attention is paid to minor poets to make the book historically complete and to fill in the most important links in the chain of poetic development Thus Gower is here as well as Chaucer Patmore as well as Browning Both in scope and in detail A Critical History of English Poetry is a distinguished and valuable work The Prose and Poetry of Europe and America ,1853 Little Essays Drawn from the Writings of George Santayana George Santayana,1921 Little Essays George Santayana,1921 Dreams in French Literature Tom Conner,1995 The nine essays in this volume deal with several well known French authors through the ages for example Descartes Voltaire Mme de Sta l Nerval Verlaine and explore the problematic relationship between dreams and literature Generally speaking contributors are interested in the production of literary meaning How does various dream material ranging from the traditional dream to visions and hallucinations and day dreams come to be And how is the dream image transformed into discourse What exactly is the relationship between dream and narrative Each essay focuses on a different author and different period ranging from the Middle Ages to the late nineteenth century but also takes a unique critical and theoretical approach What the contributors have in common though is an analytical sensemaking strategy that characterizes the interpretation of dreams through the ages from ancients such as Artemidorus and Cicero to modern thinkers such as Freud Most of the texts studied here from the Chanson de Roland to Chateaubriand s M moires d outre tombe lend themselves to this type of approach because they promote narrative unity So too do Voltaire Mme de Sta l Nerval and Verlaine Many if not most texts however in the end turn out to be not quite so tightly knit as one may have supposed at first and in the case of Agrippa d Aubign and Descartes the reader is in for several surprises when the normal course of events leading from dream to text from signifier to signified is interrupted and subverted Modern Indo-English Poetry Bijay Kumar Das,1982 and studying key texts such as The Canterbury Tales Piers Plowman and Sir Gawain and the Green Knight Finally the collection examines cultural change at the close of the medieval period and the variety of literature produced in the long fifteenth century including writing by and for women Scots poetry clerical and courtly works and secular and sacred drama
