Rio Azul An Ancient Maya City:

Río Azul Richard E. W. Adams,1999 Deep within the forest in northern Guatemala lie the ruins of Río Azul a Maya city that reached one third the size of Tikal Discovered and partially explored in the early 1960s Río Azul and the surrounding region were more fully investigated between 1983 and 1987 by an archaeological team led by Richard E W Adams In this summary Adams integrates the findings of field archaeologists with those of the epigraphers and art historians to recreate the life of this Maya city from the little known Early Classic period Remains in the Río Azul area date from 900 B C to A D 850 The data indicate that unlike most Maya cities that have been studied Río Azul was a frontier town an administrative center with alternating defense and trade outpost functions About A D 385 the Río Azul region was conquered and the city founded by Tikal serving as a Teotihuacan linked garrison for that capital Nearly all of the more than seven hundred structures found within Río Azul were erected between A D 390 and 530 Acres of pavement were laid down around some thirty complexes of residences temples and tombs notable for the brightly painted red hieroglyphs and murals on their walls The elaborate complexes and sumptuous artifacts suggest a city with a heavy proportion of aristocratic families and retainers Around A D 530 Río Azul appears to have been suddenly destroyed The city was abandoned then reoccupied only to stagnate and finally collapse like many other Classic Maya cities in the late ninth century

Ancient Maya Political Economies Marilyn A. Masson,David A. Freidel,2002 Ancient Maya Political Economies examines variation in systems of economic production and exchange and how these systems supported the power networks that integrated Maya society Using models originally developed by William L Rathje the authors explore core periphery relations the use of household analysis to reconstruct political economy and evidence for market development In doing so they challenge the conventional wisdom of decentralized Maya political authority and replace it with a more complex view of the political economic foundations of Maya civilization

Ancient Maya Political Dynamics Antonia E. Foias,2025-05-15 An exploration using research from the Maya site Motul de San Jose in Guatemala of how political structures and dynamics have been examined by political anthropologists and archaeologists over the last century The Ancient Maya Heather McKillop, 2004-08-19 Thanks to powerful innovations in archaeology and other types of historical research we now have a picture of everyday life in the Mayan empire that turns the long accepted conventional wisdom on its head Ranging from the end of the Ice Age to the flourishing of Mayan culture in the first millennium to the Spanish conquest in the 16th century The Ancient Maya takes a fresh look at a culture that has long held the public's imagination Originally thought to be peaceful and spiritual the Mayans are now also known to have been worldly bureaucratic and violent Debates and unanswered questions linger Mayan expert Heather McKillop shows our current understanding of the Maya explaining how interpretations of dirt archaeology hieroglyphic inscriptions and pictorial pottery are used to reconstruct the lives of royalty artisans priests and common folk She also describes the innovative focus on the interplay of the people with their environments that has helped further unravel the mystery of the Mayans rise and fall The Nature of an Ancient Maya City Thomas H. Guderjan, 2007-12-09 Reveals what daily Maya life was like For two millennia the site now known as Blue Creek in northwestern Belize was a Maya community that became an economic and political center that included some 15 000 20 000 people at its height Fairly well protected from human destruction the site offers the full range of city components including monumental ceremonial structures elite and non elite residences ditched agricultural fields and residential clusters just outside the core Since 1992 a multi disciplinary multi national research team has intensively investigated Blue Creek in an integrated study of the dynamic structure and functional inter relationships among the parts of a single Maya city Documented in coverage by National Geographic Archaeology magazine and a documentary film aired on the Discovery Channel Blue Creek is recognized as a unique site offering the full range of undisturbed architectural construction to reveal the mosaic that was the ancient city Moving beyond the debate of what constitutes a city Guderjan's long term research reveals what daily Maya life was like The Ancient Maya, 6th Edition Robert J. Sharer, Loa P. Traxler, 2006 The rich findings of recent exploration and research are incorporated in this completely revised and greatly expanded sixth edition of this standard work on the Maya people New field discoveries new technical advances new successes in the decipherment of Maya writing and new theoretical perspectives on the Maya past have made this new edition necessary The Maya and Teotihuacan Geoffrey E. Braswell, 2009-07-21 The contributors to this volume present extensive new evidence from archaeology iconography and epigraphy to offer a more nuanced understanding of the interaction between the Early Classic Maya and Teotihuacan Winner Choice Outstanding Academic Book 2005 Since the 1930s archaeologists have uncovered startling evidence of interaction between the Early Classic Maya and the great empire of Teotihuacan in Central Mexico Yet the exact nature of the relationship between these two ancient Mesoamerican civilizations remains to be fully deciphered Many scholars have assumed that Teotihuacan colonized the Maya region and dominated the political or economic systems of certain key centers perhaps even giving rise to state level political organizations Others argue that Early Classic rulers merely traded with Teotihuacan and skillfully manipulated its imported exotic goods and symbol sets to increase their prestige Moving beyond these traditional assumptions the contributors to this volume present extensive new evidence from archaeology iconography and epigraphy to offer a more nuanced understanding of the interaction between the Early Classic Maya and Teotihuacan Investigating a range of Maya sites including Kaminaljuyu Cop n Tikal Altun Ha and Oxkintok they demonstrate that the influence of Teotihuacan on the Maya varied in nature and duration from site to site requiring a range of models to explain the patterns of interaction Moreover they show that the interaction was bidirectional and discuss how the Maya in turn influenced Teotihuacan

Perspectives on the Ancient Maya of Chetumal Bay Debra S. Walker, 2016-10-04

Brings novel synthetic insight to understanding a region that was a hub of waterborne trade and an important locus of production for some of the Maya s most valued crops Cynthia Robin author of Everyday Life Matters Maya Farmers at Chan This one of a kind volume shows us how important this region was to the ancient Maya with detailed and vivid descriptions of sociopolitical and economic organization and their relation to the unique landscape and geography of Chetumal Bay Laura J Kosakowsky author of Preclassic Maya Pottery at Cuello Belize Chetumal Bay is central to discussions of ancient Maya politics warfare economy exchange and communication because of its unique location Although the ancient Maya invested prodigious amounts of labor in the construction of road systems called sacheob for communication and trade recent archaeological discoveries around Chetumal Bay in both Belize and Mexico reveal an economic alternative to these roads an extensive network of riverine and maritime waterways Focusing on sites ringing the bay such as Cerro Maya Oxtankah and Santa Rita Corozal the contributors to this volume explore how the bay and its feeder rivers affected all aspects of Maya culture from settlement food production and the production and use of special goods to political relationships and social organization Besides being a nexus for long distance exchange in valuable materials such as jade and obsidian the region was recognized for its high quality agricultural produce including cacao achiote vanilla local fruits honey and salt and for its rich marine environment The Maya living on the fringes of the bay perceived the entire region as a single resource procurement zone Waterborne trade brought the world to them providing a wider horizon than would have been available to inland cities dependent only on Maya roads for news of the world The research reveals that trade relations played a central role in the organization of human social life on Chetumal Bay Contributors James Aimers Timothy Beach Clifford Brown Beverly A Chiarulli Lisa G Duffy Dori Farthing David A Freidel Elizabeth Graham Thomas Guderjan Elizabeth Haussner Linda Howie Samantha Krause Javier L pez Camacho Sheryl Luzzadder Beach Marc D Marino Lucas R Martindale Johnson Heather McKillop Nathan J Meissner Emiliano Ricardo Melgar T soc Susan Milbrath Satoru Murata Maxine Oland Terry Powis Kathryn Reese Taylor Robin Robertson Luis A Torres D az Araceli V zquez Villegas Debra S Walker
