Countering the Proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction Thanos P Dokos, 2020-07-24 As counter proliferation is expected to become the central element in the new national security policy of the US such actions will constitute a central element of every major international conflict in the first decades of the 21st century One of the most important geostrategic phenomena of the past decade has been the extraordinary diffusion of war making capabilities from the developed North to the developing South In the eyes of some proliferant states possessing nuclear biological and chemical NBC weapons would not only add to their regional stature but would also offer an asymmetrical counter to the West's massive superiority in conventional forces In the Eastern Mediterranean and the Middle East a number of countries are assumed to possess varying levels of NBC weapons capabilities Reasons for concern include the fact that such weapons have been used in the past the region's geographic proximity to Europe and the vital interests of the West which is prepared under certain circumstances to use force to protect them the multiplicity of conflicts and other security problems and the general instability in the region including the spread of religious extremism This important and timely book assesses in detail the accuracy of predictions and perceptions about a possible military threat from the Southern Mediterranean Muslim world and their impact on NATO's political and military posture Thanos P Dokos presents an assessment of the Alliance's options for dealing with the problem This book represents

description should be without it for it provides an irreducible minimum of human rights knowledge without which these disciplines cannot function in the next century with due regard to their social and human rights implications Not all scientists will agree with all the author's views but he poses them challengingly and brings into the open a number of major issues which can no longer be ignored The volume is a plea for an interdisciplinary and broad based approach to scientific problems scientific education and continuing education of scientists It places the scientific endeavour in its overall social and human rights context in a manner which neither students of science nor established scientists can ignore With an approach which is both imaginative and practical it explores the future of scientific endeavour in a humanistic perspective The Need for a

New Economic System John Scales Avery, 2016-02-07 It is clear that our present economic system is unsustainable Never ending exponential industrial growth on a finite planet is a logical absurdity We are already using resources at a rate which it would take 1.6 planet earths to replace We are already undermining the ecological systems which support all of life Our present economic system has led to an unbelievable degree of economic inequality To maintain this inequality both between nations and within nations military force is used and democracy is replaced by oligarchy The future of human civilization is endangered both by the threat of thermonuclear war and by the threat of catastrophic climate change and both of the twin threats are results of our present economic system This book documents in detail the serious economic problems of today's world and it also proposes sustainable solutions Future Survey Annual 1987 Michael Marien, 1988-01-01 The Global
