neuroscience and computer science Beyond the Finite Roald Hoffmann, Iain Boyd Whyte, 2011-10-12 Throughout its long history and not just as the key aesthetic category for the Romantic Movement the sublime has created the necessary link between aesthetic and moral judgment offering the prospect of transcending the limits of measurement even imagination The best of science makes genuine claims to the sublime For in science as in art every day brings the entirely new the extreme and the unrepresentable How does one depict negative mass for example or the folding of a protein that is contagious Can one capture emergent phenomena as they emerge Science is continually faced with describing that which is beyond This book through contributions from nine prominent scholars tackles that challenge The explorations within Beyond the Finite range from the images taken by the Hubble Telescope to David Bohm's quantum romanticism from Kant and Burke to a downward spiraling infinity of the 21st century sublime all lucid yet transcendent Squarely positioned at the interface between science and art this volume's chapters capture a remarkable variety of perspectives with neuroscience chemistry astronomy physics film painting and music discussed in relation to the sublime experience topics surely to peak the interest of academics and students studying the sublime in various disciplines Exploring Gombrich's "Art and Illusion" in Relation to the Philosophy of Science Patrizia Koenig, 2013-05-23 Seminar paper from the year 2012 in the subject Philosophy Miscellaneous grade 9 Maastricht University language English abstract In the history of art Ernst Gombrich's groundbreaking Art and Illusion A Study in the Psychology of Pictorial Representation 1960 was influential in arguing against the traditional view of representation of reality in art as imitation In the philosophy of science notably Karl Popper and then Thomas Kuhn challenged the concept of progress as the cumulation of factual observations This paper wants to approach the larger issue of progress within the framework of Art and Illusion by asking in how far do concepts of progress as derived from the philosophy of science relate to the notion of arts More specifically how did Gombrich challenge the traditional idea of representation as imitation In following it will be shown that Gombrich's methodology and main concepts are greatly indebted to Popper's theory of falsification In a second step Thomas Kuhn's theory of scientific revolution which opposes Popper's writings will be outlined in relation to Gombrich and his ideas of perception and classification Practicing Art/Science Philippe Sormani, Guelfo Carbone, Priska Gisler, 2018-07-11 Over the last two decades multiple initiatives of transdisciplinary collaboration across art science and technology have seen the light of day Why by whom and under what circumstances are such initiatives promoted What does their experimental character look like and what can be learned epistemologically and institutionally from probing the multiple practices of art science at work In answer to the questions raised Practicing Art Science contrasts topical positions and insightful case studies ranging from the detailed investigation of art at the nanoscale to the material analysis of Leonardo's Mona Lisa and its cracked smile In so doing this volume brings to bear the practice turn in science and technology studies on the empirical investigation of multifaceted experimentation across contemporary art science and technology in situ Against the background of current discourse on artistic research the introduction not only explains the particular relevance of the practice turn in STS to tackle the interdisciplinary task at hand but offers also a timely survey of varying strands of artistic experimentation In bringing together ground breaking studies from internationally renowned scholars and upcoming researchers in sociology art theory and artistic practice as well as history and philosophy of science Practicing Art Science will be essential reading for practitioners and professionals in said fields as well as postgraduate students and representatives of higher education and research policy more broadly
