Correspondences Tim Ingold, 2020-10-20 We inhabit a world of more than humans For life to flourish we must listen to the calls this world makes on us and respond with care sensitivity and judgement That is what it means to correspond to join our lives with those of the beings matters and elements with whom and with which we dwell upon the earth In this book anthropologist Tim Ingold corresponds with landscapes and forests oceans and skies monuments and artworks To each he brings the same spontaneity of thought and observation the same intimacy and lightness of touch but also the same affection longing and care that in the days when we used to write letters by hand we would bring to our correspondences with one another The result is a profound yet accessible inquiry into ways of attending to the world around us into the relation between art and life and into the craft of writing itself At a time of environmental crisis when words so often seem to fail us Ingold points to how the practice of correspondence can help restore our kinship with a stricken earth
